GUESSING CONTEST WILL BE CENTER OF ACTIVITIES

A guessing contest with a useful prize for the winner will be a feature of Penn State's third annual Grain Show which began in Room 104, Agricultural Building, yesterday and will terminate tomorrow. This year's Grain Show is being staged under the supervision of the Clover Club and Agronomy Department.

Although the exhibition began yesterday entries may be made until noon today. Corn, wheat, oats, rye barley buckwheat and potatoes are the grain entries which will consist of one peck of potatoes ten ears of corn and one half peck of each of the small grains. The contest is open to all students and outsiders who wish to take part.

State Divided

The State has been divided into six districts according to the sections set by the State Products Show at Harrisburg and the corn will be judged under this division. Judging will begin this morning and ends at noon. The exhibition will be open to the public for the afternoon and Saturday. Professors Gardner for corn H. B. Musser for the small grains and C. F. Noll for potatoes will act as judges.

There will be a grass jar of corn on which estimates will be made as to the number of kernels contained by the jar. To the student guessing nearest the correct number a useful prize will be given. There are two first prizes of five dollars each for the best individual sample of wheat provided there are ten or more entries and the same sum for the best collection of exhibits three and two dollars for the second and third places in the collection group and the wheat.

Other Prizes

In addition there are a number of prizes contributed by the merchants and an educational exhibit consisting of well selected samples of corn and illustrations of how wheat should be bought by the millers and grain dealers of this State. Along with the ears will be charts illustrating the Federal grades for small grains. A potato exhibit will be given showing the different market grades of potatoes and the defects causing them to be thrown into the various classes.

ADDRESS BY DR. JONES INITIATES PRAYER WEEK

"Why I Am a Missionary" Is Topic Of Eminent Churchworker's Speech Last Sunday

Dr. E. Stanley Jones, "A Bishop of a World Parish," opened the Week of Prayer which is being conducted by the St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church of State College when he addressed a large audience on the subject of "Why I Am a Missionary" last Sunday. The services which have been held every evening this week and have been featured by special subjects and music will be closed on Sunday evening.

Dr. Jones has been in India for the past seventeen years and has had a great deal of experience in dealing with young people. At a General Conference his brother ministers tried to make him a Bishop but he refused preferring to go from colleges to college and work among students. Last Sunday he issued a call for volunteers to dedicate their lives to the work of God and fifty-five of his hearers responded, while many of the older people resolved to contribute their children or property to the Lord's work. An after-session was held and more than one hundred young people attended and indicated their desire to find Christ's lives.

Dr. J. Vernon Wright district superintendent of Pittsburgh, and the Reverend A. L. Mickle pastor will preach Friday evening at seven-thirty and will on Sunday morning and evening. Dr. Wright is a popular institutional speaker and has had much experience with young people in Epworth Leagues and at summer assemblies. Because of his popularity on many western college campuses he has been given the title of "Dean of College Preachers."

Opportunity is being given for private interviews on personal problems with the student pastor or Dr. Wright.

A Written Guarantee to Grow Hair
Stop Falling Hair — or Money Refunded

THERE has been a mistaken idea about hair growth. Authorities now say the hair has no root. It grows from a bulb. Hairs may get sick weak and fall out. But the hair bulb rarely dies in the early stages. It merely lies dormant—like a plant bulb in winter. Revive these inactive hair bulbs and hair grows again.

Now a new method of treating the scalp accomplishes this result. It wakes up sluggish inactive hair bulbs. It stops falling hair. It grows new hair. In writing we guarantee it. Money back if it fails.

Hair Bulbs Revived
The principle of this treatment is new. Scientifically correct. Leading dermatologists agree on this point. It stimulates circulation of blood in the scalp—providing nourishment to the hair bulbs. It removes the dandruff from the hair follicle allowing new hair to push through. It destroys harmful bacteria. It regulates the oil glands to function properly. In fact it is simultaneously each of the four ways to which 90% of all hair bulb inactivity is due. Hence its remarkable success.

New Hair or No Money
No matter what your condition or how many tonics you have used or unsuccessfully tried we urge you to try STIM SCALP TREATMENT. It reaches inactive hair bulbs. Stops falling hair. Grows new hair. These statements must seem incredible but remember we risk your money. Without question. Our 90% guarantee backed by the products you fully. STIM is no mere salve—no oil—no tonic. Send for it.
