NITTANY MATMEN TRIP MUHLENBERG IN EASY CONTEST

Blue and White Grapplers Obtain Six Falls and Decision in Forty-five Minutes

FINAL SCORE GIVES LION AGGREGATION 33-0 WIN

Rumbaugh and Black Stage Fast Bouts—Prevost Defeats Muhlenberg Captain

Penn State opened its 1925 wrestling season with a 6-0 victory over the matmen from Muhlenberg College in the Army last Saturday afternoon.

In discussing the meet Coach R. G. Leonard stated that he was fully pleased with the showing of the Blue and White team, but felt that the meet was an easy one, no real strength being displayed by the Muhlenberg combination.

Soon after two-thirty the meet opened with the bout between William of Muhlenberg and Cassidy of Penn State.

The 125 pound weight bout took place at 4:15. Cassidy of Penn State and Leonard of Muhlenberg were the contestants.

PLAYERS REHEARSE DAILY FOR FEBRUARY SHOWINGS

"Kempy" Slated For Presentation on Seventh—Progress Made on New Comedy

Dr. Tomkins' play being held in preparation for the staging of two comedies "The Whole Town's Talking" and "Kempy" next month.

Only two members of the cast that presented "Kempy" at the last showing here will appear in the production.

The new cast is the one used on the road showing of the first which it was presented with great success.

Throughout the play most of the comedy lines are given to the leading part, taken by A. A. Smith.

Frances Howard, 25, and Margaret Jones, 23, in the role of the mother and daughter, possess types of small town women highly susceptible to flattery and praise.

This comedy was written originally by Sam Grant Mitchell in New York, where it was very popular.

The complete resolution follows: "Resolved that Skull and Bones Society does not favor a re-consideration by the College Senate of their recent action in regard to 'Commencement Week'.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL TO TAKE VOTE ON JUNE PETITION

STUDENT COMMITTEE WILL PLACE BALLOT BOXES ABOUT CAMPUS TO LEARN ALL-COLLEGE SENTIMENT ON PROGRAM REJECTED BY SENATE

With a purpose in view of learning from the student body the sentiment regarding the recent petition to the College Senate the Interfraternity Council held a meeting Sunday afternoon in the Sigma Phi Epsilon house.

It is the plan of the Council, acting through a special committee not to stir up intergroup between the college fraternities.

The Council wishes to urge that the question be made in all-college affairs rather than fraternal, because the petition deals not only with the Greek letter organizations but with the non-fraternal men and co-eds as well.

Dr. Tomkins Speaks at Sunday Chapels

Dr. F. W. Tomkins, rector of the Trinity Church of Philadelphia addressed both the morning and the evening chapel services in the Auditorium last Sunday.

In the morning service Dr. Tomkins spoke on "Prophecy of the New Age," telling in what respects all men are prophets.

He stated that every man is called upon to preach by word and deed the message of the New Age, and to realize the importance of his own, the benefits of self-mastery, and the ultimate results of our work have worked into a life.

In speaking of the work of the new age, Dr. Tomkins stated that he was well pleased with their performance, and considered the trip to be satisfactory.

LIBERAL ARTS LECTURE SERIES IS INAUGURATED TONIGHT BY PRESIDENT

A Few Popular Poems—Some in Dialect is the title of the first of the series of Liberal Arts lectures and will be presented by President John M. Thomas tonight at seven o'clock in Old Chapel.

Instead of a lecture each week as has been the custom formerly the Liberal Arts lectures will this year be given on the last Tuesday of each month.

These should be a faculty representative on Student Council.

More information should be furnished the students in regard to the underlying causes determining administration policies.

Questionnaires should be circulated by Student Council to secure a referendum on the students' views on various subjects.

Relations between men and women the third subject for discussion will be the topic for an analysis at a meeting of the group leaders at the University Club on Thursday.
