ADVI Vanity

Unfortunately, the meaning of this word is too often misinterpreted.

Vanity—does not mean concert, and a certain amount of it, is not only desirable but necessary, masmich as it stimulates pride in one's personal appearance.

Too much vanity in a man however is apt to make him appear effeminate and conse-quently repulsive.

Now honestly, and speaking in strict confidence. Remember the last new suit you got with that Collegiate Tie and Shut to match, before leaving your room you sneaked up to the mirror, while no one was looking and gave yourself the once-aver? I'll bet you thought—but were too modest to say—pretty neat.

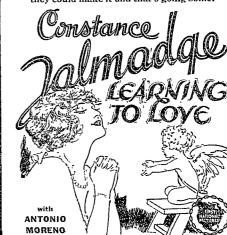

You were satisfied with yourself. You lad pride in your appearance and consequently you had more confidence in yourself.

Don't be too modest—a smack of Vanity will do no harm, in fact it will make you have more pride in your appearance. What is more valuable than a good appearance?
