

HAWAIIAN MINSTREL IS "Y" ENTERTAINER

Tandy Mackenzie, Tenor, To Sing Native Songs and Operatic Arias at Recital

ARTIST WINS APPLAUSE OF AMERICAN AUDIENCES

Tandy Mackenzie who will sing at the Auditorium Friday night, May first, as the next feature of the "Y" entertainment course, brings with him a varied and interesting program which includes works ranging all the way from operatic arias to native songs of Hawaii.

Introductory selections include an aria from Puccini's "Tosca" and one from Bizet's "Fidelio". The second part of the program will consist of native songs, including a composition by Handel. While the third group of songs will be modern compositions such as Bachmannoff, Krumpholtz and Hagemin Mackenzie will conclude with four songs from Hawaiian talent.

Although still a young artist, Mackenzie has already won recognition as one of the most talented concert tenors in America. In the few years that he has been before the American public he has won great favor among all those who have heard him and his voice is pronounced by critics as being one of great beauty, warmth and purity.

One of the interesting features of Mackenzie's program will be the Hawaiian songs which he will introduce as a one-time native of the island. He came to America with the intention of studying medicine but a well-known opera manager changed to hear his voice and promptly engaged him for a tour. He appeared in comic operas for a time but upon the outbreak of the world war he entered the service of the Canadian government. When the war ended, he sang for a time at the Hotel Biltmore in New York city.

Singing at a week-end party in Stamford, Connecticut, Mackenzie was heard by John McCormack, who encouraged the young singer to take voice culture for a few years. He found for a teacher William Thomas former vocal coach of Gull-Curtel and Rosa Ponselle. After two years of study with Thomas, Mackenzie has since appeared with great success in many parts of this country.

This questionnaire was sent out in order to determine in what phase engineer graduates were most deficient.

DR. NORRIS SPEAKS AT SCHOLARSHIP EXERCISES

Importance of Applying Education To Life Work Is Topic of Prominent Chemist

Penn State is one of the few educational institutions to set aside a special day for the observance and awarding of scholarships, according to a statement by Dr. J. P. Norris in his talk at the Scholarship Day exercises last Tuesday morning. An innovation of the affair was the appearance of the Glee Club.

"To Arise" was the first selection of the songsters and it was followed by Dr. Norris' address on "Scholarship and Research". In his talk he pointed out the close relationship between the two fields. Intelligence, the application of knowledge, was the chief objective of any college.

In connection with this he explained that it was the custom of Massachusetts Institute of Technology to draw the seniors to select four courses and that the result showed that the men gained more from them in consequence of their interest. He closed with a proposal for an elective course where not "how much you know, is emphasized but how do you apply what you know," is the slogan.

The Glee Club followed with Thyra's "Phantom Band" after which the Penn State elections were announced. Then came the presentation of the "President Sparks Prize" Announcement of scholarship awards, the presentation of the fraternity scholarship cups and an organ postlude terminated the exercises.

Dr. C. R. Orton, of the Botany Department, who has been granted leave of absence for a year starting first March, was in State College on last Sunday. Leave was granted to Dr. Orton that he might do special research work at the Boyce Thompson Institute at Yonkers, New York.

VALUABLE PRIZES LISTED FOR COMING DAIRY SHOW

D. H. Students Arrange Exhibit of Cattle for May Ninth in Stock Pavilion

An imposing array of valuable prizes has been made up for the annual Fitting and Showing contest of the dairy husbandry students which is to be held in the Stock Pavilion on May ninth. Heading the list of prizes is a boxing cup which has been donated by the members of the dairy husbandry instruction staff. This cup will be presented to the fitter and showman of the 22nd champion animal.

The Penn State company will present a bronze model of the famous Jersey, Sable and White, to the best fitter in this breed. A cash prize of five dollars will be given in this class and also a year's subscription to the "Jersey Bulletin" which has been donated by the breed association.

In the Holstein class the winner will receive five dollars in cash and a bronze medal from the Holstein Breeders and Dairymen. A one-year subscription to this paper will also be given. In the Ayrshire and Guernsey classes a similar array of prizes has been offered. The winners are to receive a cash prize of five dollars and a subscription to the breed association.

Prof. A. A. Hahnd has already observed the services of W. P. Shrum, president of the Pennsylvania Jersey Breeders' association, to judge the Jersey class at the show. M. T. Phillips of Pomona, has been secured as judge for the Guernsey. M. Phillips is president of the State Federation of Agricultural organizations and is commonly known as a prominent Guernsey breeder.

The valuable prizes offered should be an incentive to many students to do their best in fitting and showing in animal, since the rewards that may be obtained will more than offset the amount of time required for the work.

OLDER BOYS ASSEMBLE HERE IN FOURTH ANNUAL VOCATIONAL CONFERENCE

Opening the fourth annual Older Boys conference of Centre county tonight the Penn State Y. M. C. Y. will continue throughout tomorrow and Sunday to present all phases possible of the present-day vocations.

A formal banquet to be held at the Presbyterian church this evening will mark the opening of the conference. Its main object is to promote acquaintance and friendship among the visitors before taking up the work. Vocational guidance is the theme for the following morning when the delegates divided into groups, will visit the school in which they are interested.

Arrangements have been made for them to see the hospital and tomorrow afternoon while the evening will be given over to lectures along special lines by individuals in the separate fields. Dr. P. L. Payne, Dean P. L. Sackett, Dean R. L. Wiles and the Rev. G. H. Boushall will be the principal speakers for the convention. A get-together for all the boys on Sunday afternoon will terminate the conference.
