

Alumni Office
C. Mann
3

Semi-Weekly

Henn State Collegian

The Old Man
Bell Will Be
Toll'd Soon

VOL. XX, No. 56

STATE COLLEGE, PA., TUESDAY, MAY 5, 1925

PRICE FIVE CENTS

THREE CONCERTS ARE ON PROGRAM FOR MUSIC WEEK

Penn State Band Offers Specially Arranged Concert on Front Campus Thursday

COMBINED GLEE CLUBS WILL PERFORM FRIDAY

Appearance of Flonzaley Quartet in Auditorium Saturday Will Close Celebration

As a climax to the activities of Music Week which is being celebrated for the third time at Penn State, concerts have been arranged for Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings to stimulate an interest for and an appreciation of good music.

Tonight the Penn State Concert Ensemble a group of ten advanced students in the department of music, will present a concert at Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, to be given under the auspices of the Lewisburg Women's Music Club to help in the town's observance of national Music Week. On Wednesday evening the same organization will give a musical program at the Centre Hills country club.

Thursday evening the Penn State band will offer a specially arranged program on the front campus at seven o'clock. The organization which is under the direction of Bandmaster W. O. Thompson will render several numbers new to Penn State audiences.

A concert by the combined Men's and Women's Glee Clubs and the Penn State Choral Club a new organization on the campus sponsored by the music department will be given in the Auditorium Friday evening at seven-thirty o'clock. No admission will be charged for any of the concerts.

The week will be brought to a close by the appearance of the famous Flonzaley string quartet Saturday evening at eight-thirty o'clock in the Auditorium. This organization is one of the most popular of its kind in the world and has been the recipient of much favorable comment in its two previous appearances at Penn State. This number concludes the "Y" course. Seats are still available and may be had upon application at the Y. M. C. A. Hut.

RED AND BLUE GOLFERS DEFEAT LION LINKSMEN

Stevenson Scores Penn State's Only Tally—Pennsylvania Wins by 5-1 Count

Playing in their first college match of the season the Penn State golfers were defeated at the hands of the University of Pennsylvania by a 5 to 1 count last Saturday morning in Philadelphia. Stevenson scored the lone tally for the Nittany golfers.

The tournament was played at the Huntingdon Valley country club course which was in excellent condition and, according to one of the team it is by far the finest he has ever seen. Numerous traps and bunkers are scattered all over the course and on a number of the holes there are water hazards which made it difficult for the Centre county boys.

In the first singles match Stevens of Penn defeated Captain Gehring of Penn and three holes to play. Stevens played a perfect game and showed the same form he displayed in defeating Benny Kindt, captain of last year's golf team. Stevenson playing in the second singles counted for Penn State's only point when he defeated Allman of Penn one up in a hard fought match. This tally was not decided until the eighteenth hole had been played. Stevens and Allman are considered the two best young golfers in Philadelphia. Dale, playing third singles for the Lions, lost to Merritt of the Red and Blue and Taylor of Penn State also dropped his match to Brock. In the four-somes Penn scored two more points by defeating both Lion entities. Stevens and Allman, Penn defeated Gehring and Stevenson, and Merritt and Brock took over Dale and Taylor, Penn State.

This is the first time in three years that a Nittany golf team has lost to the Penn linksmen. Three of the Red and Blue combination played on last year's team and three of them are members of the Huntingdon Valley club. Their knowledge of the course and a corresponding lack of knowledge on the part of the Nittany golfers put the latter at a disadvantage.

The Penn team played steady and almost perfect golf and the Blue and White aggregation, in spite of the score, gave a good account of itself. After the encounter Coach Rutherford stated that the opponent were the better golfers, but that he was pleased with the showing made by the Nittany team.

Flonzaley Quartet Will Conclude "Y" Program Saturday

The Flonzaley Quartet which will appear at the Auditorium Saturday night as the last feature of the "Y" course brings with it a new member in the person of Karl Kauter, second violinist. Kauter, a member of the famous Festival Quartet of South Mountain Massachusetts, is assisting the Flonzaley's during the illness of one of their members, Alfred Pochon.

Works to be played by the ensemble include a Beethoven quartet, the well-known "Andante Cantabile" from a string quartet by Tschikowsky, Alfred Pochon's arrangement of "Pictures at an Exhibition" by Mussorgsky and a miniature suite by Walden.

When it played at Penn State last year the quartet won the same great favor that it gained all over this country. During the twenty-two years of their existence the Flonzaley's have given more than 1800 concerts in America and over five hundred in Europe.

LION NETMEN FACE NOTRE DAME TODAY

Western Invaders Have Strong Aggregation—Match Starts at Three-thirty

NITTANY TEAM DROPS OPENER TO BUCKNELL

After suffering a 7 to 2 setback at the hands of the Bucknell juggernauts, the Penn State tennis team again sticks up against a strong aggregation when it meets the Notre Dame set representatives this afternoon at three-thirty o'clock on the Almyor courts.

The net team from the famous "football college" promises to give stiff opposition to Coach Hays Blue and White proteges and it is not without anxiety that the Nittany mentos look forward to tomorrow's contest.

Bucknell's strong The top-sided score of the reversal in Lewisburg resulted from the terrific attacks of the veterans composing Bucknell's 1925 squad. Penn State was, it seems fortunate in capturing the one singles match since Hays' Green and White are the only inexperienced netmen on the Lewisburg team.

Captain Goucher and Webster scored the second point for the Blue and White when they took the second doubles match from the home team.

The Nittany representatives looked strong and their consistent playing captured the match in three sets.

Goucher looked strong in carrying (Continued on third page)

THESPIANS STAGE SHOW IN ALTOONA TOMORROW

Penn State Alumni Will Entertain Club Following Play With Dinner and Dance

Friends families and Penn State alumni of Altoona will be given an opportunity to comment on "Wooden Shoe" tomorrow evening when this year's Thespian production goes on the stage at the Mabel theater in that city.

The performance at the Blair county club was arranged principally by the alumni in their effort to see the Thespian Club's greatest hit, and the Penn State friends have arranged for a reception and dinner for the entire cast and stage crew at the Penn-Alto hotel after the show. The Blair county alumni club also has requested the presence of the members of the company at an informal dance after the reception.

Taking the stage in the Mabel theater will be the same cast which performed here on the Saturday evening following the Junior Prom. This cast will probably be used throughout the entire season with the possible exception of the commencement showing when it is expected that J. D. McLean '25 will take the role of Jimmie Donovan.

But one more out-of-town showing remains for "Wooden Shoe." The performance in Tyrone, originally scheduled for April twenty-second, has been booked for May nineteenth in the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium.

- ### TRUSTEES ELECTIONS
- J. C. Brubaker
 - J. A. Bryson
 - B. P. Claybaugh
 - D. Dingolfeld
 - D. Greenfield
 - R. W. Hancock
 - A. A. Hantington
 - F. B. Mahon
 - F. P. Houseman
 - H. S. Mahony
 - J. P. Taylor
 - J. P. Joseph
 - H. A. Slite

LION BATTERS BOW TO TARTAN ATTACK IN CLOSE CONTEST

Nittany Batsmen Fail to Hit at Crucial Moments—Final Count is 5 to 3

PLAID HURLER Baffles PENN STATE SLUGGERS

Spectacular Fielding Is Feature of Clash—Page Does Good Work on Mound

Failure to hit in pinches cost the Penn State baseball team the second defeat of the season when the Carnegie Tech Tartans riddled in the fourth and fifth innings, took the contest by a 5 to 3 score. Page pitched the whole game for the Lions while Captain Conrad held the mound for the Shiloh for nine innings.

Time after time the Nittany batters had chances to score but the Plaid hurler kept his opponents baffled by his curves when he found himself in danger. Page performed in an excellent manner but was unable to stop the onslaught of the Smoky clay sluggers in critical moments.

Lyon'ski singled in the second inning and was advanced to the keystone sack when Harris went to first on the pitcher's error. Keistetter doubled and scored Stykowski while the Penn State first baseman state home after the play had been completed.

Dahl made a wonderful catch of Schuster's long fly which looked good for a hit. Bryson sipped while chipping Wilson's terrific drive and the Nittany left fielder covered the bags for a home-run. It was the last run chalked up for the home team.

Teich tied the score in the fourth inning when nine men faced Page before the side was retired. Christoff made a scratch single. Maurer drew a pass, while Newman was safe at first when Stykowski dropped his line.

Teich scored the game as in the fifth. Christoff landed on first when Schwartz badly handled his drive. Maurer and Lynch singled scoring the Plaid left fielder. Wilson dashed after Duffey's fly and made a wonderful shoestring catch. A drive to McVicker by Vogt put Maurer across the rubber.

The scoring for the game was over when Hays caught Duffey in fly, ending the hitting. The game was full of interest from start to finish and was marked by spectacular plays. Nittany team showed the effects of lack of practice brought about by the bad weather and played a snappy brand of baseball throughout the nine innings.

There is no knowledge as to the exact day when the "Posters" and "Parsons" saw their demise, but certain it is that the main item in the execution was "Joe College." And it surely appears that his style is here to stay. Perhaps the earliest notice of any dissatisfaction with the aged custom of wearing garters was given by Haldeman and Julius several years ago. Since then there has been a steady stamp in the gutter industry, undergarments setting the pace with their styles.

Naturally, manufacturers of this hitherto well known calf commodity have been loud in their protests and demands, but the collegians have been equally strong and as consistent in their practice and by this time have practically elected the business Collegians as to the local effect, a reporter was sent to interview the clothing merchants in town and obtain their opinions as to the retail change as they have noticed it.

Merchants suffer Of the men's furnishing specialists interviewed, all but one reported a decided decline in the garter trade. This one merchant had no direct contact on the sales but he believed conditions had not changed much in the past few years. He explained things by saying that the increased output of garter class had balanced the falling-off in the other line of supporters. This merchant refers to garters to an older class of men than do the other "garters."

The second business man spoken to was affected much more, he claimed. He explained conditions thus—Fully one-half of my garter trade has been taken because of the popular change in styles. The younger college men are responsible for this loss altogether, I believe as there is very few students nowadays who cling to the ancient habit of wearing garters. However, the older men of the town are anxious to casting their vote and therefore form the bulk of our business."

Another merchant, after a little thought, stated that his sale of garters is considerably less than was the case ten years ago when his establishment was smaller and when the buying public was considerably fewer in number. "The first change," he said, "occurred

(Continued on third page)

SPARKS MEMORIAL BOOK IS ON SALE AT LIBRARY

A Sparks Memorial booklet, compiled by a committee of the College Senate and containing a biographical sketch written by Dr. P. R. Rankle of the department of philosophy has just been published.

Other chapters of the booklet are "College Administration," "Peace's Preachment," "The Faithful College President," "The Closing Scene" and "Eulogy" which was delivered by President Thomas at the funeral services last June.

The pamphlet is one sale at the Carnegie Library for the price of fifty cents a copy. Part of the proceeds will go towards the Sparks' Memorial Library fund.

LITERARY MAGAZINE SENT TO PUBLISHER

Proofs on The Old Main Bell Are Expected This Week—Forty Articles Received

STANDARD COVER DESIGN CHOSEN FOR PUBLICATION

Copies for the Old Main Bell including about forty articles, poems and reviews written by faculty members, students and alumni, was sent to the printers last week. Proofs are expected this week and it is likely that the new Penn State Bell publication will be placed on sale May twenty-second.

The magazine will contain illustrations, book poetry, articles devoted to drama and the various schools of the College and short stories. A church of a wing which was the winner in a contest held by Miss H. W. S. at the art department will be found in the new magazine. The cover design will be standard and will be used on all coming issues. It will be of gray paper with a sketch of Old Main tower.

Among the contributors for the first edition of the publication are Dr. P. R. Rankle, Dr. O. P. Houser, Prof. Mason Loomis, Dr. L. W. Mott, H. E. Baker, Miss J. E. Hill, Prof. A. C. Goodrich, Prof. W. M. Harris and C. D. Pasque. Articles and poems have also been written by members of the alumni. They include G. W. Chrysler, 20 former members of the Fresh and old class of the Blue and White, and Miss I. P. Gibbons '22.

It will be placed on sale in one of the stores in town and will also be sold in the various schools. It is decided by a meeting of the board that the price should be reduced from six to five cents to five cents. This step was taken so that the magazine could be put into as many hands as possible. The cost of publication must be met through subscription since only a few pages are devoted to advertisements.

It is the desire of the present staff of the Old Main Bell to perpetuate the newly founded magazine and steps will be taken to elect a board of trustees for the work next year. The Penn State chapter of Phi Delta Theta national honorary journalistic society, which were the head for 1926 within the next few weeks.

Alumni and all others who may be interested in the publication may write to B. I. Gotwald, Phi Kappa Sigma House, 101 copies of the first number.

"Joe College" Throws Garters For a Fall, According to Town's Merchants

Where on white his the collegians of today hidden his garters. In all walks of life, from banker, politician, farmer and even the clergyman and professor is the once well known ankle now conspicuous in its absence but the course of all this trouble, the present-day collegian and especially, it seems, the one at Penn State has been the most affected.

There is no knowledge as to the exact day when the "Posters" and "Parsons" saw their demise, but certain it is that the main item in the execution was "Joe College." And it surely appears that his style is here to stay. Perhaps the earliest notice of any dissatisfaction with the aged custom of wearing garters was given by Haldeman and Julius several years ago. Since then there has been a steady stamp in the gutter industry, undergarments setting the pace with their styles.

Naturally, manufacturers of this hitherto well known calf commodity have been loud in their protests and demands, but the collegians have been equally strong and as consistent in their practice and by this time have practically elected the business Collegians as to the local effect, a reporter was sent to interview the clothing merchants in town and obtain their opinions as to the retail change as they have noticed it.

Merchants suffer Of the men's furnishing specialists interviewed, all but one reported a decided decline in the garter trade. This one merchant had no direct contact on the sales but he believed conditions had not changed much in the past few years. He explained things by saying that the increased output of garter class had balanced the falling-off in the other line of supporters. This merchant refers to garters to an older class of men than do the other "garters."

The second business man spoken to was affected much more, he claimed. He explained conditions thus—Fully one-half of my garter trade has been taken because of the popular change in styles. The younger college men are responsible for this loss altogether, I believe as there is very few students nowadays who cling to the ancient habit of wearing garters. However, the older men of the town are anxious to casting their vote and therefore form the bulk of our business."

Another merchant, after a little thought, stated that his sale of garters is considerably less than was the case ten years ago when his establishment was smaller and when the buying public was considerably fewer in number. "The first change," he said, "occurred

(Continued on third page)

ADOPTION OF HONOR CODE APPROVED BY STUDENT COUNCIL

Project Has Been Developed From Proposal Made to Governing Body Two Years Ago

OLD SYSTEM PLAYS NO PART IN NEW POLICY

Committee May Meet With Each Entering Class To Discuss Penn State "Ideals"

Adoption of a Penn State honor code was considered and approved at a meeting of the Student Council held Tuesday evening, April twenty-sixth. This matter has been before student government for some time, having first been proposed two years ago.

In this year Student Council sent representatives to study the honor systems in operation at several eastern colleges. No report of their findings was published but the general evidence was in favor of again putting in operation at Penn State the type of honor system that existed here for several years. This was abolished by the faculty on July 1, 1921 after a canvass of the faculty and students had failed to disclose sufficient favorable evidence to warrant its continuance.

Need Honor Code It was the judgment of Student Council that what we need at Penn State is not a system of honor with the intricate rules and regulations that burdened the one discarded in 1921 but the spirit and tradition of honor. It is planned to carry over into the new system the best of the old system and other campus activities to be carried on in the same spirit of fair play that has been characteristic of our participation in intercollegiate athletics.

No statement of the Penn State code has been adopted as yet but the following has been suggested: "A good name is earned by fair play, square dealing and good sportsmanship in the classroom on the athletic field and in all other college activities. We earnestly desire that the spirit of this code be a tradition at Penn State."

Aim To Create Sentiment The function of the code committee to be appointed by the Student Council will be to create sentiment for the full observance of the code. It has been suggested that the committee (Continued on third page)

SOPHOMORES-FRESHMEN CLASH IN TIE-UP SCRAP

Underclassmen Meet in Annual Encounter on Old Beaver Field Saturday

Traditional rivalry between the two lower classes will be renewed when the freshmen and sophomores clash in their annual tie-up scrap on Old Beaver Field Saturday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock.

All members of the two classes are required to take part in the contest, except those exempted by reason of physical disability or named in approved athletic lists.

Red case shirt demands that every man be present to support his class, according to J. J. Brennan, president of the Junior class and in charge of all underclass sports. Dale went on to say that a year ago a year of Penn State spirit and that such success depends on the attitude taken by the participants in former tie-up scraps. This evidence of winning class spirit caused the passing of the resolution that all members of each class must take part in the scraps.

Student Council urges the second-year men to have a good representation at Saturday's homecoming contest so that the boys may be staged with some success and not have to be disappointed as was the case in the fall when the sophomores failed to appear. Members of Student Council and the Blue Key society will be on hand to supervise the affair.

1927 AND 1928 CLASS MEETINGS

1928 class meeting will be held in the hall from tonight at seven o'clock for the purpose of nominating officers for next year and at the same time the Sophomore proclamation will be read.

An important meeting for the sophomore class is scheduled for Thursday night at seven o'clock in the Hall.

TRUSTEES ELECTIONS

- R. H. Bartholomew
- A. H. Bates
- G. T. Becker
- C. G. Gardner
- H. R. Greene
- L. B. Howell
- W. N. Kurbach
- I. W. Krill
- T. G. Langston
- L. C. Packard
- C. Smith
- K. R. Stamp
- D. W. Tishler

NITTANY CINDERMEN TAKE ORANGE MEET

Lion Team Captures Honors by 73-62 Score—Moore and Barclay Set Track Records

Shattering three State records the Nittany track squad defeated the Orange runners by a 73 to 62 score in its second dual meet of the season in Archbold stadium last Saturday. With the score tied at 51 all the Penn State entries in the broad jump, javelin throw and high jump secured enough points to give the Lion team the victory.

Captain Chip Moore and Barclay proved to be the Penn State stars of the meet, the former losing the State record for the 120-yd high hurdle race and Barclay running the two mile in the record time of 9 minutes 20 seconds. Chip in Donnan of State proved to be the outstanding runner of the meet, the fastest mile runner in the 100-yd and 220-yd dual events.

Torrence Was Quarter Leading to the fore on the final stretch of the quarter-mile Torrence passed the Dutch Blue first in the contest in 49.25 seconds. Prominent and leader of Syracuse was second and third in this event. The half-mile proved to be an Orange victory as first and second places went to Coach Keene's men.

In the century dash Bowman led the field by about two yards to the finish with Corvay second and Withers third. The 220 yard race went to the best Orange runner with Torrence a close second and Cook of Syracuse third. The half-mile events were won by Chip Moore with each the only other Penn State finisher scoring taking second in the 150 and third in the low hurdles.

Hilpatrick Takes Mile The mile run proved to be one of the best races of the meet. Hilpatrick finished with a fine effort which carried him ahead of Louck's effort. The winner's time of 4 minutes 29.47 seconds is good considering the heavy condition of the track. Torrence also accounted for a point in this event by taking third place.

Setting a new track record despite the poor condition of the course, Hilpatrick finished first in the two mile run with Torrence second and Thrus of Syracuse third. Louck's time of 12 minutes 19.25 seconds for this event (Continued on third page)

Score Five In First

Mostly Bucknell mounted an easy triumph, that of the showers in the first game when the Blue and White batters put five runs across the plate. Lutz's lead-off run received in Annie O'Leary and advanced to second when Smith's bunt was tumbled.

Green shot a fair through the infield and the bags were fully populated. Penn divided scoring as for the first run. Fletcher came through with a double contact single. Hewitt whiffed and Trubshaw's fly caught out Green and Flynn. Fletcher also denoted the plate before the side was put out.

Bucknell Counts In Sixth States' shoots went unchallenged by the visiting nine until the sixth inning when the Bucknell batters counted (Continued on third page)

COLLEGE CELEBRATES ANNUAL FATHERS' DAY

Entertainment for Dads Consists of Mass Meeting, Baseball Games and Smokes

Approximately one thousand fathers of Penn State students attended the annual Dads' Day celebration held in the Auditorium Saturday afternoon. Meetings, athletic events and smokes were held for the entertainment of the "Dads."

The Dads' day in town but a short time ago was celebrated in the Auditorium and introduced by Penn State and several subjects. A. B. Helfrich '25, chairman of the meeting introduced the new "Press," "The" I. P. Guy who represented the parents of the men students and Mr. Martha Taylor '26 women's representative.

Accompanied by their sons the parents met at 10:30 a. m. in the Auditorium in the presence of President Thomas and other prominent men spoke. At the conclusion of musical selections J. S. Mueser, president of the Association of Parents of Penn State, made the address of welcome to the group. He was followed by Pressy who explained the change that the approval of the eight million dollar bond issue would bring to Penn State.

T. C. Whitman opened a discussion on "How the Parents Association Can Help" and was succeeded on the platform by R. L. Sackett, dean of the School of Engineering who presented "The Problems of Choosing a College."

A conclusion of this talk, the theme was given over to a business session in which the publication of the "Penn State Bulletin" was approved. A discussion of the future of the Parents' Association closed the meeting.

After the guests of the day spent the afternoon watching the baseball games on New Beaver Field they assembled in the Annex where a smokesession in which the publication of the "Penn State Bulletin" was approved. A. Thomas for the third time in addition to Captain Metzger, Dean A. R. Wirtz, Prof. S. W. Fletcher and another led Mandolin selections, wrestling and boxing matches, the latter featuring Johnny McCreary and "Priddy" Washington, rounded out the program.

Large Number of Candidates Are Practicing—Several Games Listed This Week

With the inter-class soccer season out for distant future and the football season in the final stages, the focus of college sports will be on the various games listed for this week. According to B. S. Lewis, yearling manager, no lineup has been selected as yet because of the short practice period. However, a sufficient line will have been obtained on the new men to warrant the forming of the class line-ups later this week.

As a result of last year's complete present Junior hostess proved their superiority over all comers and were crowned champions. With virtually the same lineup they are expected to retain their title although little is known concerning the strength of the visiting success.