Virginia at Monticello. Again the fourth inning proved disastrous for the Lions when West Virginia unloaded in attack and scored seven runs. Page who started the seventh inning frame was given a chance to hold the Suez Canal Mountains and once more was removed in the seventh to allow Stobinski to finish the game.

Lisenhuth drove a hit in the vicinity of second in the opening frame pitched second and romped home when Wilson and McVicker were shown out. Hits by Wilson and McVicker were responsible for scoring Page in the third stanza. Kelly boosted the count in the fourth stanza, in the only run of that chapter.

The score-board read 4-1 in the ninth when the Penn State batsmen attempted a rally but only succeeded in running up two tallies when Gens playing right field flung out. The scores:

which the third chapter once had with a popular movie star. The actress appears in town just in time to make the miserable for both Simmons and his shy protegee. From this juncture until the final curtain a succession of events occur that keeps the audience in constant laughter.

With two exceptions the original cast remains intact and includes R. W. Tyson '27 as Henry Simmons, A. McCarley '27 as Chester Barnes, Miss M. P. Hayward '28 as Simmons' wife Miss M. E. Jones '25 as Miss Ethel Simmons, Miss J. L. Cranmer '26 as Ella Wilson, Miss K. V. Hershby '25 as Sally Ode, Miss S. M. Millroy '25 in the role of Letty Lathie and P. H. Krutz '25 as the moving picture director. Minor parts are filled by Miss Helen Dotsy '27, J. Mathes '25, K. A. Wilson '25 and Miss E. M. Kelly '25. Tickets for the production are on sale at the State Light Shop.

PLEBE BATSMEN HUMBLE WYOMING SEMINARY NINE

green was caught napping off the sack and letted.
The remaining innings were equally contested, the plebes losing another chance to score in the fifth inning as Jacobson had singled and reached third on Huntington's blow to left center twice during the final stages of the tilt. Smallz stopped sizzlers and succeeded in getting them to the first base on a difficult underhand throw. The Wyoming hitters failed to get further than the keystone sack after the fourth inning.

test in the potential runners who will have invaded State College for the day.
Lock, seven high school promises to give stiff opposition both because of the number of entries from the school and because of the demonstration of their superiority when they won the Carnegie Tech meet in Pittsburgh last Saturday by a forty-eight point score. Further proof of their quality lies in the fact showing they are against the Penn State team, when the latter took them over in a recent contest.

kept the ball passing from one end of the field to the other with many narrow misses at the net for both teams. The visitors rallied and scored their lone tally just before the whistle sounded to end the tilt. The opposing stick-wielders played the entire game without substitutions and the pace set by the Sittany presser told heavily on them.

Although this was their eighth game the club has not been organized for practice since their season does not begin until the latter part of May. Opponents for the aggregation for the next few days are those of the Canadian city leagues from which several veteran players have been taken.

BETA THETA PI CAPTURES FRATERNITY TRUCK TITLE

won the two-hundred hurdles, with Oldfield of Sigma Nu and Lathrop of Beta Theta Pi finishing second and third respectively. Phi Kappa Delta proved to be the class of the field in the two-hundred Kilmer of Alpha Gamma Phi took second and Karbock of Phi Kappa Sigma third.

The field events were all closely contested and uncovered some likely talent for Coach Cretford to look over. The team of Sigma Nu was just a trifle better than that of Delta Upsilon and Garrison Sigma Pi in the shot put. Slump counted five more for Alpha Gamma Phi when he hurled the javelin farther than that of Sigma Nu and Ryan, Beta Theta Pi in the pole vault. Sweeten of Beta Upsilon captured first place with Howe, a Sigma Chi, second, and Houseman, Phi Sigma Kappa, third. Barton, Sigma Tau Phi, Slamp, Alpha Gamma Rho and Hart, Alpha Chi Sigma fought it out for first place in the high jump, Barton, topping the bar a little higher than Slump. Leaping consistently beyond the thirteen foot mark, Slamp carried off first honors in the broad jump with Hancock, Beta Theta Pi, second and Guller, Delta Upsilon, third. Garrison, Sigma Pi was the best.

After a fruitless start, Captain Geuthen swung into a winning stride and downed Cable, Pitt's number one man, on Saturday. The Blue and White pitcher lost the first set, 4-6, but captured the next two, 6-3, 6-3. Seaman lost to Einton, Pitt, in two sets, 3-6, 1-6, and Gaitman was bested by Silverman, 6-6, 2-6. Ferguson, Pitt lumina, took only two sets to defeat Webster.
