Convention of Engineering Experts Opens Here Today

Problem of Placing Technical Graduates Is Chief Theme--Authorities To Discuss Business Topics

Engineering experts from all over the country will meet here for two days beginning this afternoon for the purpose of discussing industrial problems, college training methods of selection and placement of graduates and planning the problems of industry and will discuss carefully planned steps to conserve human energy and reduce the waste which occurs when the "right man is in the wrong place."

Outstanding among the features of this convention is the opportunity which is offered for coming in contact with those men of wide experience among the various lines of industrial planning. Rarely has a body of men of such practical experience in the phases of employment training ever been assembled at Penn State before.

Experienced Speakers. The varied program includes addresses by President J. M. Thomas, Dean R. L. Sackett, H. W. Cope, assistant director of engineering at the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, J. J. Chestnut, Chief Engineer of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, C. I. Farnham, General Manager of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, P. Binkerd, Vice Chairman of the committee on Public Relations of the Engineering Council, Miles Lambert of Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, H. P. Hammond, Associate Director of S. P. E. Investigation.

A dinner tonight at the Centre Hotel country club will be attended by delegates of the convention and the social feature will be supplemented by an address on the History and Outlook of Engineering Extension. The Convention and the Penn State Press will entertain the delegates.

Numerous Discussions. Succeeding sessions will be crowded with such discussion topics as "Application of General Engineering," "Personality--What It Is," "The Development of Executive Ability," "Industrial Economics," "The Educational and Vocational Guidance of Engineers," and others.

A luncheon at the University Club tomorrow will be followed by section meetings of utility representatives, followed by a dinner and social and extension school representatives.

WILLIAMSPORT COLGERS FACE LIONS TOMORROW

Captain Gerhardt and Stevenson Will Play First Foursome--Others Not Chosen

With a record of hot sun win out of these states the Penn State golfers will strive to even the count which they make the Williamsport country club in Williamsport tomorrow afternoon.

Fourteen men will make the trip with the Blue and White squad and as was the case in the last match foursomes will be played first and singles, Captain Gerhardt and Stevenson will play in the first foursome but the other teams have not yet been picked off. Among the men who will probably make the trip are Taylor, Canon, Shrock, Mader, Hamill, Greer, Mensch and Pindick. The other four members have not been decided upon.

The first five men on the Williamsport team are all extremely good players and should give the Blue and White plenty of opposition. All of the entries to meet match and the titles throughout will be closely contested. This tournament is not expected to be as hard as the match with Lock Haven last Saturday which resulted in a defeat for the Lions by the encounter last year with the Williamsport combination. The Blue and White team was the winner.

In order to have a little practice before the encounter the Penn State squad will have State College club officials to look Saturday morning. After the match the Nittany team will be the guests of the country club at a dinner in the club house.

A new eighteen hole course has been opened by the Williamsport club this year which has added greatly to the attractiveness of the links. The original nine holes have remained unimproved but new ones have been added. This course is in excellent condition and should insure some interesting matches.

After suffering a 12-4 defeat at the hands of the Blue and White team in the Penn State return contest at Mogantown, the Mountaineer Nine will attempt to avenge their defeat by battering the Blue and White team in the return contest at State College.

The Blue and White team played a very good game in the first contest, but the Mountaineer Nine was too strong for them. The Blue and White team was out of sync in the fourth inning and the Mountaineer Nine took advantage of this to score five runs.
