SIXTEENTH ANNUAL SUMMER SESSION TO OPEN MONDAY

Advance Enrollments Indicate Large Student Body for Six Weeks' Term

BRANCHES CONDUCTED AT ERIE AND ALTOONA

Students Will Assemble at Community Singing Monday Night in Open Air Theater

Advance enrollments for the sixteenth annual summer session that will open with regular classes Monday, indicate that the entire enrollment this year will be far in excess of last summer and one of the largest ever had at any summer session. More than fourteen hundred students have already enrolled, and according to the records of previous years this will be about two-thirds of the actual number of students or more than two thousand students are expected to enroll before the end of the registration period.

The majority of the students will be enrolled in the central session here at State College, with smaller numbers in the two branches at Erie and Altoona. The Erie branch is under the supervision of Nelson Long, of the department of English of the College. Mrs. D. H. Lohmeyer, assistant professor of education in charge of Pittsburgh Teaching Center, will take charge of the Altoona branch, while the central session is under the direction of Dr. W. C. Chambers, director of the summer session.

The faculty for the summer session will consist of over one hundred and forty-five men and women, seventy-seven of which have been selected from the resident staff of the College, nineteen from other colleges and universities, nine from private educational institutions, seventeen from teachers and superintendents in public school systems, fourteen from directors, and "supervisors" of departments of education from state and national departments of education.

Although classes will not start until Monday, registration will be held today and Vesper Song Service will be held tomorrow night at seven o'clock in the Open Air Theater. The session at tomorrow night's service will be given by Dr. Fraser Metzger, chairman of the College.

The first assembly of the summer session students will not be held until the community singing and student assembly scheduled for Monday night at seven o'clock in the Open Air Theater. As this is the first assembly of the entire summer session student body, Dean Will Grant Chambers will open the meeting with a short address of welcome to Penn State. This will be followed by community singing under the direction of Professor R. W. Grant, director of music.

HECLA PARK SQUAD WILL TEST LOCAL NINE TODAY

Millheim Trounces State College Batsmen With Comeback in Sixth by 7-6 Score

Engaging the Hecla Park diamond for the fourth time this season the State College squad will endeavor to avenge two previous defeats this afternoon at three o'clock on New Beaver Field.

With their streak of hard luck still pursuing, the State College batsmen dropped a hard fought game to the Millheim nine in a 7-6 score last Thursday at Millheim. The local sixers were leading up until the sixth inning when the Millheim hitters gained three hits and two bases on balls which combined with two local errors allowed six of their players to cross home plate and sew up the old ball game.

Janiswick started for the local team but was replaced in the seventh by C. S. Mather. Millheim had scored their six runs in the first inning. State College struck out seven stifles, made a double and missed the opposing pitchers, while the local hurler was nicked for but five singles. However, three of the Millheim hits went for home runs, as the ball was lost in the tall grass at the edge of the outfield.

The local hits were divided among three players. Buck, coming for three while Longmeyer and Hollibaugh each gathered two singles. Buck also broke into the run column with two counters, the remaining run being accounted for by Mather, Hartswick, Harkins and Longmeyer. The locals scored in the fourth, fifth and seventh frames while Millheim used the second and sixth innings to do all their scoring, but these two innings were enough to hand the State College team another reverse.

DEAN CHAMBERS GREETES STUDENTS

To the Summer Session Students Penn State opens with her doors to old friends and new acquaintances alike. For the sixteenth time she has prepared a program of work and play of study and recreation for those who desire to use the maximum weeks for personal growth and professional advancement. But the concern of the College does not cease with these preliminary preparations. Have we succeeded in including your needs and desires? Can we be of further service in making your sojourn here profitable and pleasant? Will you consult frequently with members of the staff who can assist you in any way? We await your suggestions. Penn State welcomes you! May your labors here be fruitful! May your recreations be wholesome! May you abide here with content, and depart satisfied. Dean Will Grant Chambers

DR. STODDARD WILL BE FIRST LECTURER

Speaker Is Authority on Racial and Social Problems of Europe and East

TALK SLATED FOR OPEN AIR THEATER WEDNESDAY

Appearing in the Nittany Valley for the first time Dr. Lothrop Stoddard, noted lecturer and writer, will be the first speaker of a series of lectures which will be given at Penn State under the auspices of the summer session authorities. "Present-Day Europe" is the topic on which he will talk Wednesday evening at seven o'clock in the Open Air Theater. "The Rising Tide of Color" was the first book written by Dr. Stoddard and marked his first attempt at an interpretation of the post-war racial and social problems. A second, "The March of the Landmark" followed and the work of both books brought forth much discussion and authorities commended his endeavors.

Transition from book-writing to journalism was accomplished through the Saturday Evening Post which sent him to Europe to study the racial and political conditions confronting America and the world. These articles revealed the

NUMEROUS TOURS ARE PLANNED FOR SUMMER SESSION

Opening Trip to Bear Meadows Scheduled To Start Next Saturday Morning

W. R. WHITE TO TAKE CHARGE OF EXCURSIONS

Reservations Must Be Made by Friday Noon at Summer Session Office

In an attempt to provide excursions for the summer session students during the week-ends and evenings, W. R. White, professor of agricultural education, who has had charge of these trips for several years, has arranged an elaborate program for several scheduled tours to interesting scenic spots in the region of State College, with a possibility of eight more which will be taken on favorable evenings. Excursions will leave from the Auditorium at eight o'clock every Saturday morning for which reservations must be made at the Summer Session office not later than Friday noon each week. Announcements of excursions will be made each week in the "Summer Session Collegian" and on the "College Bulletin Boards." The trips this year will include Bear Meadows and Alan Sager Forest, Altoona, Mount Union, Kishinouche Valley and Fort Mount. The first excursion will be held next Saturday.

Interesting Sites
Many places in and about the State College region can be easily reached and provide an excellent opportunity for seeing the grandeur of both mountains and valleys. At this time of year there are green meadows, waving fields of golden grain and endless forests of forest and rhododendron in full bloom, all of which give the grandeur and beauty of an immense flower garden. Since, during Summer Session Saturdays are given over to recreation and relaxation, there is a splendid opportunity to see many of these most attractive beauty spots of Pennsylvania for which Centre county is noted. For several years the College, as a part of its educational program, has conducted parties for students to points (Continued on last page.)

Students' Steps in Registration Given

Students for summer session should register between eight-thirty o'clock and noon this morning, and from one to five o'clock this afternoon. The following steps should be followed in registration:
1-a If you have prepared a final schedule by correspondence, see step 2 below.
1-b If you have not prepared a schedule go to the office of the summer session and get an approved schedule signed by the Dean.
2 Go to the Arms' and fill out an identification card. Have it and a final schedule checked by the Registrar.
3 Go to the Trust Office and pay your fees, thus completing your registration.

Dean Ray Sets Regulations on Rooming Houses

The Dean of Women has outlined a list of rules to be observed by all houses rooming this summer session. These regulations are issued by Dean Ray, appeal below:
1 There should be no loud noise in the house or on the porch after nine o'clock in the evening during the week.
2 The house should be closed to callers at eleven o'clock on all nights except Friday and Saturday when callers may stay until midnight.
3 It is understood that all women shall be in the houses at eleven o'clock except Friday and Saturday nights when they may be out until twelve-thirty after dances on other parties.
4 Dances may be held only on week-end nights and must close at midnight. This applies to Victrola dances lasting later than nine o'clock as well as to orchestra dances.
5 In case of sudden illness or accident the College Health Service can be reached through an telephone operator. A physician and nurse are constantly on duty.
6 Will chambers please bring to the attention of the Dean the request that the use of kitchen be restricted to hiking and physical education classes? Our summer girls wish to support the best customs of our college and they will find here a very decided objection to knickerbocker dining-room and classroom use.

PRESIDENT THOMAS RESIGNS AT PENN STATE TO HEAD RUTGERS UNIVERSITY

Administration Committee With H. W. Mitchell Chairman, Appointed by Board of Trustees To Act Until Position Is Filled

DEPARTING EXECUTIVE

After the resignation of Dr. Thomas as president of Penn State to become head of Rutgers University, the Board of Trustees meeting during Commencement Week, adopted the following report of the Committee on College Administration pending the selection of a new president:
That in Administration Committee be created consisting of the three senior deans, Messrs. Watts, Sackett and Stoddard, and the president of the Board of Trustees, Dr. W. Althoff, as ex-officio Chairman of the Committee.
That the Controller of the College shall be executive secretary to the Committee.
That during the interim from September first next until a new president of the College is duly elected and during any prolonged absence of President Thomas prior to September first, the Administration Committee shall order the director of the Board of Trustees have authority to decide all matters of educational policy and discipline.

That all routine administration not involving educational policy and discipline shall be disposed of by the executive secretary under the direction of the ex-officio chairman.
Apparently reading much between the lines of President Thomas' statement on his resignation, newspapers have declared that "Pennsylvania is bereaving its principal educational child" and that "it should be a source of mortification to Pennsylvania to learn that Dr. Thomas has resigned" and "it will be a matter of regret from one end of the state to the other, and the Commonwealth loses the services of a valuable man." Many similar remarks have come from partisan sources all with the general belief that Pennsylvania's loss will be New Jersey's gain.

The news of President Thomas' resignation known only to a few individuals on the campus before Saturday afternoon in which the release of a news dispatch from Rutgers where it was released at noon Saturday at an annual luncheon following a meeting of Rutgers trustees. It spread like wildfire over the town and campus as well as with universal expression of surprise and regret.

In a statement issued immediately by President Thomas he declared that opportunity for more constructive service at Rutgers, his friendships gained through 15 years residence at Easton, was a factor in the resignation. He also stated that he had accepted the position of president of Rutgers University as a result of the resignation of Dr. Thomas.

President's Statement
"I have lost none of my confidence in the steady growth and ultimate development of the Pennsylvania State College, but under present circumstances I believe I can do a more constructive service in New Jersey. For many years legislatively appropriations to the Pennsylvania State College have been far below the careful calculations of the institution. It is not the hard work a man does which sways him out, but the good work which needs to be done which he cannot do owing to circumstances beyond his control. Both Doctor Sparks and Doctor Althoff my immediate predecessors, broke down before they were 50 years of age.
Rutgers University has a clear field in New Jersey as the largest of the state and the designated State University. The college goes back to colonial days and has a great and noble tradition. The state of New Jersey is in urgent need of better facilities for higher education and the opportunity at Rutgers for sound development on a large scale in the immediate future presents an appeal which I cannot resist, particularly as New Jersey is my old home state where I began my professional work and lived for fifteen years.
"I shall leave Penn State with deep regret. There is no dissention in the institution and entire harmonious peacemakers both in the board of trustees and in the faculty. I have had most loyal and hearty support from trustees, faculty, alumni, students and the many friends in the State, all of whom I shall remember in deepest gratitude.
The resignation was received and accepted by the board of trustees at its meeting Saturday afternoon, and resolutions expressing their regret in his departure and endorsing his service here, were passed at a second meeting Saturday night. Acceptance was only in accordance with President Thomas' conclusion to make the change.
It was recalled that the duties attending the college building fund campaign and the start of the recent legislative campaign had forced Dr. (Continued on second page)

PLAYERS CONTINUE DRAMATIC EFFORTS

Organization Will Stage Showing of "Kempy" With Original Cast, July Tenth

SECOND CAST TRYOUTS SET FOR MONDAY NIGHT

Continuing their dramatic activities of the year the Penn State Players, under the direction of A. C. Goodrich of the department of English, plan to present two comedies during the summer session. The first play to be given is "Kempy" a well-known comedy by J. C. and J. P. Nugent, which will make its debut appearance before a State College audience on the evening of July tenth in the Auditorium. The original cast that appeared here before will be used.

The second show to be given is "The His Friends' Wife," a popular farce by A. B. Hamilton. This well-known play will be presented in the Auditorium on the evening of August fifth. Both shows will be under the direction of A. C. Goodrich.

Tryouts Monday
Although "Kempy" will be played by members of the original cast in summer session students who are interested in dramatics are invited to try out for places on the cast of the second production, "His Friends' Wife." Such students should report to A. C. Goodrich at the office of the Penn State Players Monday evening at eight o'clock.

The Players' office and workrooms are located in the Auditorium on the Old Main, directly above the stage. Both men and women are urged to attend the tryouts for places in the cast of Monday night.

The story of "Kempy" concerns a young plumber-architect who, while living a quiet life in the home, meets the author's of a book that has greatly impressed him and has vowed to marry the author's should he ever meet her and after a series of humorous situations finally succeeds in doing so. Katherine Stone feels that he could appreciate her talents.

The following is the list of players who will comprise the cast of "Kempy":
Ruth Bone Madeline Wright
"Dad" Bone C. J. O'Donnell
"Abe" Bone Edith H. J.
Jane Wade Helen Powell
Katherine Stone Dorothy Mueser

ARTISTS' COURSE BOOKINGS FILLED

Authorities Arrange Six Numbers for Entertainment Program for Summer

SALE OF TICKETS FOR SEASON STARTS TODAY

Having met with unusual success on former years the summer session entertainment course has been increased from two to six numbers which will begin Thursday July ninth with a vocal recital by William Gustafson, a member of the Metropolitan Opera company and will close with a second lecture by Lorado Lutz noted sculptor on Tuesday evening August fourth.

Following William Gustafson on the second number of the series, the Tolpeltown Trio consisting of violin, cello and piano will present several instrumental selections on the evening of July tenth. This series of artists will present a variety of other things for their summer season as makers of records for the Victor people.

"The Plays" and the School for Scandal are each of two plays which will be presented by Coffee-Miller Players who appeared in the course last year. These two shows will be staged on Friday and Saturday evenings July thirteenth and August first, Lorado Lutz will speak for the first time on Monday evening August third on the subject of A College of Sculpture's (Continued on last page)

THIRTY MEN ENTERED IN INTENSIVE COURSE IN PRACTICAL MINING

With an enrollment of about thirty students, the annual summer short course in Practical Mining conducted each year by the School of Mines and Metallurgy opened its Monday night session at the direction of Professor W. G. Dunbar. Of the students enrolled, twelve are from the mine and coal fields, while the remainder had from the Birmingham region of the state.

As part of the course, the sixty-four from the United States Bureau of Mines has arrived and for the next week will be stationed just west of the Bellefonte Central depot. Instruction in first aid and mine safety will be given the students under the direction of D. J. Keehan, former miner.

The short course will end Wednesday, July twenty-second, when a three days examination will be given the students by the Pennsylvania state department of mines. Those who pass the examination successfully will be granted State certificates of competency as fire-bosses or mine foremen.
