Trials for the College Orchestra will be held tonight at seven o'clock in the new band room.
There will be a meeting of the Country Life Club at seven-fifteen o'clock tonight in 100 Hut.

Professor A. A. Bolland will speak at the first meeting of the Dairy Husbandry Club in Room 250 Dairy Building. The general theme for discussion will be the junior chapter of the American Dairy Science Association. All students are invited, particularly those scheduled in the department.

GIFT OF INFLUENCE IS THEME OF DR. EVAN'S TALK TO CHAPEL-GOERS

"The Gift of Influence" was the title of the sermon delivered in the Auditorium Sunday morning by Dr. Milton G. Evans, president of Cross Theological seminary.
The men who have made the most lasting impression on the world are those who have speerchized in the religious reactions of the human soul, said the speaker. Mohammed, Buddha, the Apostle Paul, and Jesus are known the world over as men who gave up all for religion. "Coming down to recent times," said Dr. Evans, "James G. Blaine was a famous politician at the time when Dwight L. Moody was doing his work as an evangelist; now James G. Blaine is known only to the student of history and Moody's name endures.
"A man will be remembered longer for being a Christian than for being a specialist in any other line," concluded the speaker; "and the man who desires permanent influence should above all listen to the voice of God."

SAWMILL SCHOOL WILL GIVE FREE INSTRUCTION

Friel company, sawmill; Dison & Sons, saws; Westinghouse Electric company, motors; Advance Rumley, Huber, Fordson and other tractors; Warren Axe and Tool company are the concerns participating in the demonstration.

NEW DAIRY SPECIALIST JOINS EXTENSION STAFF

G. A. Taylor Has Had Varied Experiences in Practical Dairy Husbandry

George A. Taylor, a graduate of the University of Minnesota dairy course, has been appointed extension specialist in dairy manufacturing at the Pennsylvania State College. He succeeded L. W. Moyley who resigned to become director of extension and register of merit for the American Jersey Cattle Club.

The new specialist comes to his work in Pennsylvania well prepared by several years of practical work in both the manufacturing and educational phases. For the first two years following graduation he was employed by the Evansville Pure Milk company in Indiana, where he was in charge of the milk department and making up of ice cream mix. He was also engaged in quality and production work with the farmers. More recently he was with the Alamo Dairy company, Omaha, Nebraska, as plant superintendent, and then with the Twin City Milk Producers' association where he was in charge of the sanitation department. From this position he comes to Penn State where his services are now available in educational work in dairy manufacturing.

by his work on the kick-off. Sonderberg is the other candidate who is showing promise in this field, his kicks carrying for long distances. The return of the kick-off to the forty yard mark increases the importance of a good placement kicker this year.

VARSITY HARD PRESSED BY OPPOSING GRIDMEN

"Little fellows" took a brace, holding Fritchard and Helbig for a one-yard gain each. At this stage, Watson was substituted and on his first two chances counted another first down, this time on the twelve-yard line. Again the diminutive halfback carried the pigskin, reversing his field and planting the ball squarely between the uprights on the visitors' three-yards. On the next play, he slipped through the opposing right tackle for the second Nittany score. Watson added the try-for-point, making the score 11-0 in favor of the Lions.

Lebanon Valley Opens Pp

Following the kick-off, Lebanon Valley had the ball at midfield, where the backs started a belated air attack. Two passes were executed, the first being knocked down and the second netting a gain of four yards. A fifty-yard punt was returned to midfield by Pincura and Watson spearheaded the opposing forwards for an eight-yard gain as the final whistle blew.
Reple, the sensational Valley quarterback responsible for the visitors' field goal last year, was easily the star of the game. Time and again, although his team could not bicker down the strong forward defense of the Bezedekians, he knifed his way through on off-tackle thrusts, only to be picked up and literally carried backward by some stalwart Nittany back.
Reple electrified the crowd when he snared a Penn State punt on his own 20-yard line in the third quarter, waded for his interference to form, and then flashed through the surprised Penn State team to the goal-line, only to be called back to the 25-yard line, where he had been forced out of bounds by Pincura. Following a fumble in the backfield, which was recovered by

Wood, the Lebanon center, Reigle made the Valley's only first down when he took the Lions completely by surprise on an off-tackle buck from a kick formation, travelling eighteen yards before he was finally stopped from behind by Hastings.

Lions Weak at First

After House had advanced the initial kick-off to his own 45-yards, three Penn State line bucks failed to gain the necessary yardage and Lungren was forced to punt. Following Lebanon Valley's return kick, the Blue and White received a fifteen-yard setback for holding in the line. The ball was fumbled and recovered by Mahoney on the Annville 20 yards.
Helbig picked up seven yards in two tries at the line, after which Lungren skirted an end for a fourteen-yard gain, the ball being placed on a mythical four-yard line. Helbig took the oval to within six inches of the goal and on the next play, a backfield fumble, recovered by Pritchard, put the pigskin on the ten-yard mark. Here the ball was lost on downs.
Gilbert, Lebanon Valley, punted to midfield, and Lungren returned the ball six yards. A driving off-tackle was manifested at this stage for the second time, Lungren, Helbig, Pritchard and Bergman carrying the ball to within one yard of a touchdown.

Again the eyes of the herd-linesman detected a zealous Penn State line-man offside, and the ball was put in play on the six-yards after Lungren had seemed to score. At this stage, the lack of the final blow was again made apparent and the Nittany combination lost the brill on downs, Lebanon Valley kicking out of danger.
Radical Changes Predicted
Numerous observers of the game, dissatisfied with the showing of the team in a game which is traditionally regarded as a set-up, predicted many radical changes in the lineup of the Blue and White for the Franklin and Marshall game next Saturday. Greene, during the scrimmage last week, went like a "house afire" and his substitution for Bergman during the third period evidenced the fact that the big boy will see service with the temporary Varsity this week. Watson also deserves much credit for his work in scoring the second six-point. McCann, after taking the place of Follows at tackle, played a sterling game, several times breaking through to nail a Valley back for a few yards loss.
