

Penn State Collegian

Booters Badly Benched

14 Pounds Per Man and We Don't Mean Rations

VOL. XXI, No. 9

STATE COLLEGE, PA., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1925

PRICE FIVE CENTS

"Daddy" Groff Gives Plan for Use of Contributions

Penn State's Aid for Canton Christian College Should Be Used for Extension, Is Proposal

A plan whereby the contributions from Sunday chapel would be used to inaugurate a new phase in the work of the Canton Christian college...

Lauds Penn State He lauded Penn State for making the establishment of the agricultural school possible and as proof of the success of that department...

Predicts Success He predicted that a success similar to that of the agricultural school will be forthcoming for this new phase of administration at Canton...

This plan will be submitted to the student body during chapel service according to Mr. Groff, such a move will increase the prestige and prominence of Penn State in foreign lands...

STUDENT COUNCIL ACTS ON IMPORTANT RULINGS

Class Treasurers to be Ex-officio Members of All Committees Involving Finance

As a further move toward better class financing, Student Council on Tuesday night adopted a measure to make the treasurer of each class an ex-officio member of all committees dealing with the expenditure of funds...

Realizing that much wrong had been innocently done when R. J. Lewis '28 was attacked by several supposed juniors on Stunt Night, Student Council voted to reimburse Lewis for the loss of his clothing...

Class Scraps

Class Scraps for the coming year will be under the care of W. W. Allen '26. The committee is composed of Allen, chairman, H. D. Fritchman '26, T. A. Mathias '27, G. S. Setman '27, and C. W. Bauer '25...

Mother's Day came in for considerable discussion of details and arrangements for the first event of its kind in the history of Penn State. Setman was appointed to secure a suitable recognition pin for the mothers to wear during their visit to the Nittany institution...

Because of the absence from College of the two first choices of the members of the sophomore class for secretary of the second-year men, F. B. Mahon '28 will succeed to the position as third highest candidate...

Track Mentor Given Watch by Proteges

To Nate Cartmell from the 1925 Track Squad is the inscription engraved upon the back of a silver stop-watch received by the Penn State track mentor from the men whom he tutored on the cinder path last spring...

THE SPIANS PREPARE FOR NOVEL REVIEW

Twelve-act Show To Feature Program for Pennsylvania Day House Party

LACK OF TIME PREVENTS CONCERT BY GLEE CLUB

Consisting of twelve acts of a widely varying nature, a passing review of nineteen twenty-five will be presented by the Penn State Thespians in the Auditorium on Saturday evening October twenty-fourth...

Although the review is new in its nature the participants are rehearsing daily so that by making a perfect showing in the type of play production will become a regular feature of the fall house-party program...

ART COLLECTION WILL BE ON DISPLAY TODAY

Paintings by Roerich, Modern European Artist, Compose Exhibit in Old Main

Exhibiting a collection of paintings by the modern European artist, Swatoslav Roerich, the Museum of Fine Arts of the department of Architecture at Penn State will be open for inspection beginning Friday and continuing until Alumni Home-Coming Day...

Roerich, who has been highly acclaimed by American and European critics, is the son of the world renowned artist, Nicholas Roerich. He has been favorably referred to by the noted painter, Ivan Mestrovic, as "a remarkable artist."

The exhibit consists of some thirty to forty paintings completed in India and Tibet, including portraits, characteristic Tibetan scenes, and types as well as costume design. This same exhibit has already been booked in several important college galleries.

Together with this exhibit there will be a collection of twenty-five reproductions in colors of Paintings by the Great Masters. It will feature the Italian school with such artists as Van Anglica, Botticelli, Raphael, Titian and also the well-known English painters, Gainsborough, Hoppner, Raeburn and Reynolds.

There will also be a few paintings by Rembrandt and Franz Hals. These pictures are reproductions for home decoration and may be purchased at cost through the Museum. The size of these reproductions is suitable for over-mantle and general room treatment.

This later exhibit will open Tuesday and will continue for two weeks. Both exhibitions will be in the Fine Arts Galleries located on the second floor of Old Main, which is always open to visitors from college and town.

NITTANY BOOTERS MEET BROWN AND WHITE TOMORROW

Injuries Handicap Squad on Eve of Opening Clash—Several Veterans Missing

BETHLEHEM SQUAD HAS WEALTH OF MATERIAL

Lion Coach Drills Players in Passing in Preparation for Coming Tilt

Handicapped by injuries and facing a strong Lehigh team that threatens to mar their six-year string of consecutive victories, the Nittany booters will clash with the Brown and White on Old Beaver Field at two-thirty o'clock tomorrow.

With a veteran team primed for the clash tomorrow, optimism reigns in the Lehigh camp as the game approaches. Over forty candidates have been fighting hard for berths on the Brown and White eleven and the team that will face the Lions tomorrow has suffered a minimum of injuries.

The forward line that will clash with the Bethlehem aggregation tomorrow will probably consist of Schwartz or Griffin at center-forward, Michael Gil at inside-left and Briery at inside right, and Keen and Pecori at the wing positions.

Several candidates have demonstrated excellent ability. Cox is undoubtedly the most skilled performer of the group. Black is showing good form in hurling the javelin and Mathieu is fulfilling his reputation as a weight man. Brownstein, former Germantown high luminary, is broad jumping over the twenty-foot mark and runs the hundred in fast time.

"Y" PREPARES TO OPEN MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN

Six Thousand Dollars Is Goal Set for Drive—Starts on Wednesday

In order to provide the financial means to carry out its constructive work for the present college year, the Y. M. C. A. will inaugurate its annual membership campaign on Wednesday night, October fourteenth.

The goal has been set at six thousand dollars with individual shares in the "Y" work valued at three dollars and fifty cents. The goal in this campaign exceeds last year's quota by one thousand dollars, but these additional funds will be necessary in order to aid in the construction of the Andy Lytle Cabin and other new projects.

Don Cook '26 has been selected as the executive director of the campaign, and working in close co-operation with him will be W. J. Duddy '26.

REV. WAYNE CHANNEL IS SUNDAY CHAPEL SPEAKER

Next on the list of chapel speakers for this year at Penn State is the Rev. Wayne Channel, D. D. of Allentown, who will address the student body at the Sunday morning services on his first visit to State College.

PLEBE CINDERMEN TO DISPLAY TALENT

Freshman Compete on Beaver Field at Two O'clock Tomorrow

FEW EXPERIENCED MEN MATRICULATE THIS YEAR

Nate Cartmell will scan the performances of the yearling cindermen with more than usual interest when they compete in the all-freshman track meet tomorrow afternoon on New Beaver Field. The Penn State track mentor asserted that at present prospects for the squad are the most discouraging since he has served here.

The list of experienced trackmen is decidedly short, and thereby it offers a sharp contrast to conditions last fall. At that time, Nate could justly be proud as he viewed the excellent performances of such men as Bates, Bartholomew, Karbach, Sands, Kilmer and others. However, the Nittany mentor isn't wasting any time lamenting the absence of high school stars, instead he is prepared to develop a squad from inexperienced men. Tomorrow those who demonstrate any ability whatsoever will be asked to report regularly for practice and intensive training.

Some Showing Up Well A few men have been practicing for the meet and there are in this group some who are showing encouraging form. Among these are Bowie, House, Aluse, and Conaway who run the century and the 220, Maurice and Hawthorne, both quarter milers, and Bass, who excels in the mile.

Several candidates have demonstrated excellent ability. Cox is undoubtedly the most skilled performer of the group. Black is showing good form in hurling the javelin and Mathieu is fulfilling his reputation as a weight man. Brownstein, former Germantown high luminary, is broad jumping over the twenty-foot mark and runs the hundred in fast time.

FOUR CHEERLEADERS TO ATTEND GRIDIRON CLASH

Four cheerleaders will be on hand at the Georgia Tech football game tomorrow at New York to organize those students who will witness the contest. Head cheerleader Roberts will be in charge and will be assisted by H. Schumpf, H. Blankenmiller and W. Dennew. Roberts will also be present at the alumni smoker tonight at the Hotel Pennsylvania.

It is expected to select the 1926 class yell and the class cheerleader at the first meeting of the freshmen which will be held in the near future. All freshmen are asked to compose yells prior to the meeting, in order that no time will be lost when the selection is being made.

Although the season's schedule is not yet complete, at least twelve matches will be arranged. Of the five dates set thus far, the triangular meet with Pitt and Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh on November twenty-fourth is outstanding. However, in the other matches, the Nittany gunmen will meet many first-class eastern teams.

ELEVEN YEARLINGS JUDGED GUILTY AT TRIBUNAL MEETING

Freshman Thinks Order To Make Paddle a Joke—Must Wear Two Large Signs

FOUR OFFENDERS NOW HAVE NOVEL PLACARDS

Colonel McLaughlin Suggests First-year Men Parade to Games in Uniform

As a warning to their fellow classmates to adhere strictly to freshman customs, a group of wayward yearlings was censured by the Tribunal at its third sitting of the semester Tuesday night. Eleven men were accused with outright disobedience, and three others petitioned to be excused from customs.

Featuring the meeting was the case of Edward Custer '29 who, upon being requested to make a paddle for an upperclassman, retaliated by sending to this upperclassman the following letter:

119 Fairmount Avenue Right Reverend Sir, Because of a preference job for Messrs. Slanev and Blopp, we are at present out of stock. We are glad to announce, however, that we will have replenished our supply of paddles by next T-Tac night, when our saplings have reached a woim maturity.

Yours 'till Heinz has 58, Benedict Arnold P. S.—Needless to say, name and address are fictitious. My name card also—X (unknown)

He was sentenced to wear two signs which read, "Yours 'till Heinz has 58—Benedict Arnold" and "The sap that reached a woim maturity." He will also be treated to a molasses bath.

Next on the program was William Stevens '29, accused of disobeying a sophomore's order to stop. He was run down and after a short shut out overpowered. He must wear a sign, "I threw him off—it wasn't exactly comfortable."

Mark Guttridge '29, who failed to produce matches and bible upon re- (Continued on second page)

NITTANY SHARPSHOOTERS PREPARE FOR FIRST TILT WITH BUFFALO RIFLEMEN

In preparation for their first match which will be fired in less than three weeks, the Penn State riflemen are displaying real form during daily practice on the range. From the number of men now trying out, Lieutenant Miller, coach of the team, expects to be able to select a squad of real ability.

The exact personnel of the team will not be known until the week after next, when eliminations will be held to select the men who will enter the first match with the University of Buffalo the last week in October. Two new men who are showing up well are C. B. Pritchard '28 and Coneski '28.

WHEN SOUTH IS NORTH

Table with columns for Penn State and Georgia Tech, listing names and numbers of athletes in various positions like L.E. Stamp, R.E. Marshall, L.H.B. Lungren, R.H.B. Barron, etc.

LIONS AND GEORGIA TECH CLASH IN SECTIONAL TILT

Gridiron Fracas in New York Tomorrow of National Importance—Bezdek Undecided on Lineup

COLLEGIAN CALLS WOMEN REPORTERS

All freshman and sophomore women candidates for positions on the editorial staff of the COLLEGIAN are requested to report in Room 11 L. A. at seven o'clock, Monday evening.

WORK BEGUN ON "THE FIRST YEAR"

Farce-comedy Will Appear in Large Cities—Plan Commencement Show

AUTHOR OF PLAY STARS IN LONG NEW YORK RUN

Although the Penn State Players' production "Charlie's Aunt" promises to occupy the limelight this season yet the cast for "The First Year," a second and equally as comical presentation, has been selected and already A. C. Cloetingh, director, has begun the regular rehearsal program.

Assisted by Mr. Mason, Mr. Cloetingh has worked diligently throughout the week in selecting the cast. The reason for beginning such vigorous preparation so early in the season is to secure as highly a perfected group as possible.

Some slight deviation from that of previous seasons marks the selection of this year's cast. Instead of having two persons for every character (Continued on third page)

MANDOLIN CLUB SELECTS CANDIDATES AT TRYOUTS

Trips Are Planned To Several Nearby Towns—Rehearsals Will Begin Monday

Under the direction of S. H. Torchia '27, tryouts for the Mandolin Club were held Monday night in the Bandroom. The candidates were placed on probation, and as soon as their ability warrants, they will be permanently enrolled.

With the addition of many new men and the return of most of last year's members the Mandolin Club expects to better last year's good record.

It is the ultimate hope of the organization to put the Penn State Mandolin Club on the same plane that other colleges raise theirs. During Torchia's address, mention was made of the recognition that was generally accorded to the mandolin clubs of other institutions. At Penn State the only official recognition a member receives is a gold watch charm, and that only after three years of service.

Further discussion brought out the fact that although the Mandolin Club had a successful season last year, little of what took place "behind the scenes" was ever disclosed.

Rehearsals will be held every Monday night at seven o'clock in the Band Room on the fourth floor of Old Main. All mandolin and guitar players who have not yet come out are especially urged to do so.

On the Gridiron

Saturday, October 10 Penn State vs. Georgia Tech Pittsburgh vs. West Virginia Pennsylvania vs. Brown Princeton vs. Washington and Lee Yale vs. Georgia Harvard vs. Middlebury Cornell vs. Williams Army vs. Knox Navy vs. Marquette Villanova vs. Dickinson Lafayette vs. Washington Lehigh vs. Drexel Columbia vs. Wesleyan

A growing pack of Nittany Lion, unleashed in unknown territory for the first time this year, leaps into action tomorrow against the Golden Tornado, a newly-developed Northern football machine will be tested against the latest Southern tactics tomorrow afternoon in New York city when Penn State's revived eleven meets Georgia Tech's veteran team in one of the most outstanding inter-sectional clashes of the season.

Coach Hugo Bezdek, as late as last night was undecided on the Blue and White lineup which will answer the opening whistle in the combat against the Gold and White of Tech. New men and veterans have been battling each afternoon for positions on the Nittany team, no one is sure of his berth. But the combination that is thrust upon the chalk-lined arena of the Yankee Stadium tomorrow will be the best that can be devised, a team which, to a man, expects to avenge Penn State's ignominious defeat suffered at the hands of the Atlantics last fall.

Lion Team Outweighed Poole, veteran pivot of the Southern line, is the lightest man of the Varsity team, weighing 170 pounds. Godwin, guard, Thorpe, tackle, and Carpenter, another tackle, tip the beams at 190. Forrester, at right guard, and Marshall, right end, scale an even 180, and Merkle, the other wingman, weighs eight pounds more.

Merley, the speedy signal-caller of the invaders, balances a 190-pound weight while Wycoff, the captain and triple-threat man, weighs 195. Burton, right-half, scales 177 and Williams, the other back, commands 185 pounds of brawn and muscle. Wright and Conley, two substitute backs, are comparatively light, carrying 160 and 170 pounds respectively.

Bezdek's probable lineup will average somewhere around 171 pounds apiece while the opponents strike a medium at an even 165—almost fourteen pounds heavier per man than the Blue and White.

Lions Have New Attack Last Saturday's successful aerial attack against Franklin and Marshall has received many additions during scrimmage this week. The Lion coaching staff has developed an over-entirely repulse, the rushing advance of the Gold and White.

With Langston, Peneira and Bergman on the passing end, and every eligible man as a receiver, the Penn State team hopes to break through the defense of the opposition with a barrage of aerials, every one of which is almost sure to be a certain ground-gainer. A running attack, both in wing plays and line plunges, also is on the path to perfection, and on this superb offense is pinned the hopes of the Nittany eleven.

In the line, the Blue and White has a combination of seven fighting stalwarts. Slump, star of the E and M, Scares, and Wilson on the terminal, (Continued on last page)

TO VIE FOR CUP, DRAMATIC CLUBS

Seven Members of Pennsylvania League Will Stage Plays in Auditorium

As the initial undertaking of the Intecollegiate Dramatic Association of Pennsylvania a tournament among seven of the association members will be staged at the Schwab Auditorium here December third and fourth.

Last year the leaders of the players at Penn State, seeing the need for an organized union of dramatic clubs invited all colleges of Pennsylvania to attend the meeting. At that time eight charter members of the association were founded and since then six other societies have sought admission.

In the coming contest four comedies will be staged each evening and there will be no duplication of plays by any two clubs. Two prominent judges from New York City have been chosen, a third to be selected soon. First and second cup prizes will be awarded the two leading organizations.