"Y" GROUPS ENTER ON DISCUSSION OF SECOND QUESTION

"Do Extra-curricular Activities Topic Considered

IS OUTGROWTH OF FIRST ISSUE TO BE TAKEN UP

Leaders Feel That Point System Will Help—Students Have Complete Charge

Considering the question, "Do extra-curricular activities justify themselves," the leaders of the Y discussion groups met Thursday night to prepare for presenting the subject to the various groups. The question was considered from various points of view in order to determine what benefits extra-curricular activities give to college students.

The general feeling was that too email a number of students enter extra-curricular activities, particularly the honorary type of offices rether than those involving work, with the result that these students are overloaded with outside duties to such an extent that their studies suffer. It was deeded that extra-curricular activities are run on a democratic basis, every man laving an equal chance except in cases where possibilities are limited by previous lack of opportunities and experience.

and Half-Mile Weak

Anticipating the irdoor track contests which will begin after the midsomester examinations but with no engagements definitely scheduled the track team has been working daily under the direction of Conch National Milhough there are only a few stars including Captain "Caip" Moore, Forence and Stewart, Conch Cartinell hopes to present a well balanced team when it goes mto action at the intercollegiates in March The weakest events in the squad are at present the half-mile, the shot-juit and pole-vault, but all of the other divisions seem to be showing promise.

Coach Cartinell plans to have the men train lightly until after the examination period and then will accept the invitations of the various reeds that are presented. In order to clear up a pre-ailing idea that at cach events as the Milroos meet the whole team participates, the Lion coach stated that individual stars will represent Poin State at such contests. In the ranks of the freshmen, Coxide to be in the limiting from the teams of the freshmen, the contests to be in the limiting rompic away to a 4 minutes 25 second victory from the scratch.
