NITTANY PASSERS DEFEATED TWICE ON WESTERN TRIP

Pitt Overtakes Varsity in Last Few Minutes of Game by Sensational Rally

ILLNESS KEEPS HAMAS FROM BOTH CONTESTS

Passers Decisively Defeated by Dukess—Lion Five Scores Two Field Goals

After suffering a loss at the hands of Pitt on Friday night in a closely fought battle that ended in a 30-20 score, the Penn State passers were surprised by Duquesne and were decisively defeated 36-12.

The Pitt game was a neck and neck affair with the Blue and White in the lead during the major part of the game but the Panthers staged a rally in the last few minutes of play and came off with honors. At the end of the half, the contest was at a standstill at 12 all and soon after, Coach Hermann's men jumped into the lead only to lose it in the last part of the final chapter.

Coach Carlson's proteges opened the scoring of the engagement but were soon lopped by a small advantage. From then on the lead waddled from one team to the other with the score tied intermittently.

Rally Wins for Pitt

A sensational comeback in the last half with only five minutes to go gave Pitt the game. The Lions held a small lead but the Oakland tusslers broke loose and tied the score. A field goal by Kovallis and a pair of fouls by Reed gave the Panthers an advantage of four points just two minutes before the final gun shot. From the time that the last market was rung up until the end, the Penn State passers were never in the possession of the ball.

The Blue and White quiet misused the services of Mike Hammas who was too ill to make the trip and Saylon stated for the lanky veteran. However the substitute failed to measure up to expectations and Kent was sent in by Coach Hermann. Kent was apparently nervous, making some wild passes and shots.

In the second quarter, Captain

LACROSSE PRACTICE TO BEGIN FEBRUARY TENTH

Candidates Practice Daily To Perfect Form—Several Veterans Remain

Intending to place a well-oiled, fighting lacrosse machine on the field when the season opens in April, Coach Leonard has already begun preparations for the season's program. With twice the number of games on the schedule this year as last, the coach has set February tenth as the beginning of the more intensive training period.

Several members of last year's team along with the freshmen and new candidates have been working intermittently during the past weeks to keep in trim. Despite the loss of Leonard and Glasgow by graduation, Leonard expects to build a winning combination with Hackett, captain, Goswami, Wendell and Edmonds for the backbone, Shanks, Seaman, Buckley and House are some of the other warriors who will bid for berths on the Varsity twelve.

In speaking of the roster of the team for this year Coach Leonard stated that it was the best that has been arranged since the game's introduction at the College. Lacrosse at Stephens, Swathmore and Syracuse is a major sport and stiff battles are expected from Pennsylvania and Cornell. A game with Pittsburgh is being sought for May twenty-ninth to complete the schedule of eight games.

DANTE CLUB BANQUET IS INDEFINITELY POSTPONED

Because of the death of the Queen Mother of Italy, the Chief of the Italian Consul in Washington was unable to fill any of his recent engagements. This necessitated the postponement of the contemplated banquet of the Dante Club.

This banquet will be held as soon as a date agreeable to the expected guests can be obtained. President Giordano has called a meeting for February tenth. At this time arrangements will be made and the work of the club for the second semester will be outlined.

"Customs Lay Foundation for Class and College Unity," says Warnock

Your editorial, "Goodbye, Culture," gives me an opening for a few cautioning remarks on freshman customs. The attitude of the Daily News-Gazette is a natural one; most of the outside world considers our customs a relic of cow-college days. When I came here in 1919 I got the same first impression, all newcomers get it. I have come to see a considerable benefit in them in spite of some of their uncouth features. And if I were told to see that they were cut down, I do not know where I should recommend the first cut to be made. But the benefit is in discipline and control, no body should be deluded into thinking that they are intended to add culture. Culture does not come about through legislation and policing.

A lot of people are deluded in thinking that freshman customs are supposed to be administered evenly and that the Student Tribunal is a judicial body. That is a wrong conception and, if used as a basis for reasoning, will lead to a fallacy. It is absurd to say that our published code of freshman customs represents standards of conduct which we consider appropriate to a young man in this land every other college, be he fresh

NOTED PUBLISHER WILL SPEAK HERE

Phi Kappa Phi Secures Celebrated Lecturer and Author To Deliver Addresses

WILLIAM ELLSWORTH MAKES RETURN VISIT

Coming to Penn State as the next speaker on the yearly program of Phi Kappa Phi, honorary scholastic fraternity, William B. Ellsworth, noted speaker and author, will deliver two lectures in the Auditorium on Thursday, February eleven.

Combining the latest of the new poetry with that of such poets as Frost, Amy Lowell, Masters, and others who began writing some fifteen years ago, Mr. Ellsworth will speak on "The New Poetry" at four-thirty o'clock. Special arrangement has been made with the English department for the permission of every student now taking an English course to hear the author.

Shakespeare and Old London" is the topic upon which Ellsworth will deliver an all-college illustrated lecture in the Auditorium at eight-fifteen o'clock the same evening. This poet is a personally conducted tour around London town and the theatre district Shakespeare knew. One reviewer writes concerning his study, "It is as if by some miracle we had been set down for an hour in the London of three hundred years ago."

LA VIE STAFF SELECTS COVER FOR YEAR BOOK

Committee Discusses Dedication of Volume—Partial Proof Already Returned

Considering the matter of dedication, the business and editorial staffs of the 1927 La Vie met at the Alpha Chi Rho house last week. E. N. Sullivan, alumni secretary, advised the staff on the question in a short talk. Several persons are being considered but no decisions will be made until the next meeting of the staff. All suggestions from the student body as to dedication will be deliberated upon if sent to R. D. Dundore at the Chi Phi house.

Select Cover
A decision has been reached in regard to the cover, the colors of which will combine chocolate brown and heavy cream gray. The lettering is to be done in bronze and the inner will be copper color.

The proof of the "La Vie" is the copyright and the binder design have been received and returned as satisfactory. The 1927 book will have about 517 pages, a cut of forty-nine pages over previous La Vies. The proof of the senior section has also been received and approved.

Art Work Nears Completion
R. M. Gibbs, art editor, announces that two thirds of the art work of the 1927 annual has been finished and that the remainder will be completed within the week. Much appreciation is extended Prof. M. M. Harris for his assistance in preparing the year book. Professor Harris is engaged in copyediting the manuscripts for the publication.

INTERFRATERNITY SPORTS WILL START NEXT WEEK

In order to advance preparations for the inter-fraternity winter sports, activities which will start next week, the basketball, wrestling and boxing managers from each fraternity will meet next Tuesday night. Basketball managers will convene at the Alpha Chi Rho fraternity house, R. E. McQuade '27, R. E. Parnell '26 and J. E. ## PLEBE FLOORMEN WIN DOUBLE BILL

Yearlings Defeat Panther Cubs by 37-21 Score—Hold Lead Throughout Contest

SHADYSIDE FIVE DOWNED IN SECOND GAME 29-22

Continuing their steady brand of basketball, the Nittany freshmen extended their string of victories to four by virtue of wins over the Pitt yearling passers and the Shadyside academy floormen on a two-day trip to Pittsburgh. The scores for the games were 37-24 against the Panther cubs and 29-22 against the prep school five.

Playing a preliminary contest to the Varsity-Pitt game, the Blue and White plebes routed the Smoky City freshmen. The Nittany yearlings jumped into the lead at the outset, but their opponents kept close behind and at one time succeeded in knotting the score.

Two Point Margin
When the whistle ended the first half, the Lion cubs were leading by a score of 14-12. During the half, Hammas led the attack for the freshmen with three field goals, while Wenderlich and Sherwin kept the Pitt team in the running with four points each.

Starting the second period with a two point margin, the freshmen began to pull away from the Panther cubs and were never headed throughout the remainder of the contest. While the Pittsburgh five succeeded, only in duplicating their score of the first half, by tallying another dozen points, the Centre Countians scored twenty-three points.

During this half Captain Delp was the big gun for the Blue and White plebes, scoring three goals from the foot. Sherwin was the outstanding performer for the Panthers. All through the contest the Nittany floormen clearly outlasted their opponents, but it was not until the second quarter that they were ahead.

PENN STATE CLUB PLANS IMPORTANT MEETING TO INCREASE MEMBERSHIP

Starting a membership drive for the Penn State Club, non-fraternity men will discuss means for furthering the development of the organization at seven o'clock Monday evening in Old Chapel.

One of the objects of the campaign is to increase the attendance at the Penn State Club dancing classes. At present sixty members are enrolled in four different sections that meet weekly.

A program has been arranged for Monday evening, at which the officers of the organization will be present. The Board of Administration has granted a convocation to be held in the Auditorium during the fourth hour in the morning.

Dr. Colkey graduated from Harvard in 1901 and later attended Oxford university and the Glasgow college. He is now pastor of Holy Park Baptist Church on the campus of the University of Chicago and is also one of the influential trustees of that institution. When a new president was being chosen for the same college several years ago, he was one of the men considered for that position. Among his other outstanding accomplishments was that of delivering the Burrows lecture course in India last year, during which time he spoke before more than 40,000 people.

State College To Be Converted Into "Tank Town"---Lasting Humidity Insured

State College is no longer a "dry" town. Even the followers of old "Andy" Volstead are in sympathy with the movement to construct a water tank of 1,000,000 gallons capacity to be used as a reservoir for State College citizens.

Despite the huge dimensions of the steel shell, which measures seventy feet in height and fifty feet across, the builders deny the rumor that the plates for the structure taxed the capacity of Pittsburgh's largest mills. Respecting the motto, "Save the builders,"

COLLEGE WILL AID STATE INDUSTRIES IN RESEARCH WORK

Expenses for Experiments Will Be Met by Manufacturing Concerns Benefitted

SIX MAJOR PROJECTS ARE NOW UNDER WAY

Experienced Scientists Will Be Secured for Work—Dean Wendt Is Director

Authorizing the establishment of a division of Industrial Research in the School of Chemistry and Physics at Penn State, the Board of Trustees has placed the laboratories of the College at the disposal of Pennsylvania's industries. The object of the new department of which Dean Wendt is director is to conduct research work for the manufacturing concerns of the state and to promote success in industry by means of scientific investigation.

With an organization similar to that of the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research, the division at Penn State will receive no appropriations from the College but will work on a contract basis. That is, any manufacturing concern that desires an investigation of the products used in its processes, of the processes themselves, or that is seeking new knowledge in its field may contract with the division here to carry on the work.

An experienced scientist is appointed by the director of the department to take charge of each experiment and the company stands the total expense of the tests, the usual period of an investigation being one year.

Industry Nearer
Bringing the College in closer relation with the industries of the state, the experiments of the division of research will enable manufacturers to obtain results in a shorter period of time and at less cost. In addition to uncovering the difficulties in manufacturing and eliminating or correcting them, the investigations will lead to new materials and processes used to advance industrial development by means of the application of scientific methods to production.

Although this division of research will mostly benefit the industrial world it will prove valuable to Penn State by enabling investigative work which the College cannot finance to be completed. It will also increase the staff of the research department, the number of experiments conducted and it will bring Penn State in closer contact with business interests of the State.

The great service which the research department will render is shown by the fact that since its establishment six major investigations have been started in co-operation with the United States Bureau of Gypsum Crystals.

DR. C. W. GILKEY SLATED FOR THREE-DAY LECTURE

Oxford University Graduate Is Highly Recommended by Many Colleges

Coming here highly recommended by every college at which he has spoken this year, Dr. Charles W. Gilkey will give a three-day lecture series beginning Wednesday, February sixteenth. The Board of Administration has granted a convocation to be held in the Auditorium during the fourth hour in the morning.

Dr. Gilkey graduated from Harvard in 1901 and later attended Oxford university and the Glasgow college. He is now pastor of Holy Park Baptist Church on the campus of the University of Chicago and is also one of the influential trustees of that institution. When a new president was being chosen for the same college several years ago, he was one of the men considered for that position. Among his other outstanding accomplishments was that of delivering the Burrows lecture course in India last year, during which time he spoke before more than 40,000 people.

HARRIS SEES INAUGURAL

Following the convocation Dr. Gilkey will give a three-day lecture series beginning Wednesday, February sixteenth. The Board of Administration has granted a convocation to be held in the Auditorium during the fourth hour in the morning.

Representing Penn State at the ceremonies, Professor C. L. Harris attended the inaugural of Dr. George Zoek as the President of Municipal University of Akron, Ohio, on January twenty-first to twenty-third. Dr. Zoek was formerly head of the department of History at Penn State.

LIONS TRIUMPH OVER QUAKER CITY MATMEN

Nittany Grapplers Hand Red and Blue Team 19-6 Setback---Rumbaugh, Garrison Win by Falls

Establishing their supremacy over the University of Pennsylvania wrestlers for the fourth time in as many consecutive years, the Penn State grapplers defeated the Quakers by a score of 19 to 6 in Weightman Hall Saturday afternoon.

Approximately one thousand spectators witnessed the Lion wrestling championship, top the Red and Blue seven with two falls and three decisions. Rumbaugh and Garrison succeeded in throwing their opponent, while Lienfeld and MacDonald won for Penn with time advantages.

To open the meet Kaiser set the Centre Countians off in the right direction by defeating Cliff Servas, a brother of Bunny Servas, Penn mat coach, with a time advantage of 11 minutes 11 seconds.

G. G. MacDonald, Penn 125 pounder, immediately proceeded to tie the score by keeping on top of Luggett for a time advantage of 2 minutes 18 seconds. With the score knotted at three all, the scrappiest match of the meet followed.

In this tilt Chenoweth, Nittany, 175 pounder, held a time advantage of 1 minute 8 seconds after a thrilling battle that went into extra period.

During the regulation nine minutes neither of the rivals went to the mats for more than a few seconds at a time. With neither boasting a time advantage of one minute the referee ordered two extra three minute bouts. Lienfeld won the loss and election to assume the defensive for the first period.

Referee Cann had scarcely started the bout when Lienfeld was on his feet. Tussling with a dexterity that broke Chenoweth's hold before anyone realized what was going on, the Red and Blue wrestler placed himself on even terms and assumed the offensive. The remainder of the time was spent in dickering for hold.

When Chenoweth assumed the defensive in the second three-minute bout everything looked bright for a Penn victory. Although the Nittany

STOCK-JUDGING CONTEST MARKED BY MANY TIES

Freshmen Show Knowledge of Animals at Block and Bridle Exhibits

Because of many ties scores, the prize donors of the annual freshman stock-judging contest which was held last Saturday in the Stock Pavilion, met with great difficulty in naming prize-winners and it is believed that only a neutral will serve to break some of the deadlocks.

The winners of the Galt-McDell was S. P. Sloan who turned in a total score of 270 points. In the hog-judging contest, A. A. Ammar-Baker is declared winner with 253 points. A final score of 285 points won for C. I. Schmidt the first prize for the judging of horses.

The hog-judging contest was a tie with seven men on a par with 200 points each. The men are S. H. Shirk, S. O. Kuntz, J. A. Marquardt, I. Wolfslaver, R. M. Warren, C. I. Schmidt and C. W. Leppa.

In the two-year Ag section, in Horse Show was won by W. W. Nathanson, while W. M. McGardles and J. L. Williams tied for the Latin Medal in the sheep-judging contest. H. E. Hoffeltz, C. A. Rowan, G. H. Patterson, G. E. Hall and C. A. Hales also all turned in the same number of points.

Five men were tied in the hog contest also. They are H. E. Hoffeltz, J. G. Lint, C. A. Dalesino, E. H. Coalson and C. A. Rowan. The winner of the general medal will be announced at a later date.

Professor Cryder has charge of the courses which were formerly in the hands of Professor Schott and will continue to have charge of the work in chemical engineering. He will be assisted in chemical engineering by Dr. Eugene Leonard who recently came from the University of Budapest and has been appointed Instructor in Chemistry.

CO-ED MARKSMEN NOSE OUT DREXEL INSTITUTE

Shooters Win Second Match of Season—Register First Perfect Scores

In their second intercollegiate rifle match, held last week, the Blue and White women sharpshooters nosed out the female rifles of Drexel Institute by a score of 195 to 194, showing a decided improvement since the first match two weeks ago with the University of Michigan.

As in the case of the Washington match, ten women fired for each team with the five highest scores counting. Penn State's five highest scores were as follows: Miss E. A. Bullock, 27; Miss M. L. Dunlap, 29; Miss M. P. Callahan, 27; Miss W. M. Forbes, 28; and Miss J. G. Ritter, 29. Two of these, Miss Bullock and Miss Dunlap, made perfect scores—the first perfect scores to be made by our co-ed sharpshooters. The five others who fired in the match were Miss J. E. Womer '27, Miss E. T. Deubler '29, Miss L. E. Anderson '27, Miss K. Holbrook '28 and Miss H. M. Hakes '27.

On account of an error in schedule in the part of the University of Cincinnati, the match with that institution which was also to have been held last week, did not take place. Two matches with Cornell university and the University of Nevada, during the second week of February will be the next test for the initial co-ed rifle team.
