SYRACUSE MATMEN LOSE TO LIONS IN HARD-FOUGHT MEET

Pop Garrison Clinches Victory for Penn State With Fall in Unlimited Class

CAPTAIN LIGGETT WINS FROM ORANGE LEADER

Score for Closely-contested Match Is 18-13—Kaiser Shows Good Form

With the score tied at thirteen after the seventy-five pound bout, Pop Garrison clinched a hard-fought victory for Penn State in the meet with Syracuse Saturday afternoon by throwing Patterson in the unlimited scrap. The score for the match was 18-13 in favor of the Nittany grapplers.

By winning over Klein, Orange 175 pounder, Bumbaugh knotted the score at thirteen. This left the question of victory or defeat entirely up to Garrison. Wrestling against the runner-up for the Olympic heavyweight berth in 1924, Garrison for a Penn State victory appeared small. Garrison, however, proved himself equal to the occasion and, much to the surprise of the Syracuse followers, threw Patterson to the mats before three minutes of the bout were up. The Orange grappler was pinned to the mat for a fall, and Penn State had added another victory to her growing list.

Garrison's Second Fall

In throwing Patterson, Garrison used a half Nelson and a bar lock. This fall was the second that Pop has gained in the last two meets. In the first tit with Alfred university, he was left out because of injuries.

Captain Walter Liggett in his first bout of the season threw Captain Jeffers in the abbreviated time of 1 minute 50 seconds with an arm and body lock. Jeffers in the intercollegiate last year was runner-up in the twenty-five pound class and is considered to be one of the best for that weight in college circles.

Kaiser Wins

To open the meet Kaiser in the 115 pound division threw Allen of Syracuse in 2 minutes 23 seconds. In winning this match Kaiser displayed more power and aggressiveness than

I. M. C. ADOPTS NEW SYSTEM OF ELECTIONS

Officers to be selected by Popular Vote—Commencement Program Accepted

At the Intra-Bural council meeting Thursday evening, the proposed commencement program, as adopted by the College Senate, was accepted. This plan provides for a two-day party in June, admitting all four classes, and a Commencement ball, open only to members of the junior and senior classes.

An endeavor is being made by the committee to improve the system now in operation for receiving student grades. At present many cards are ignored by instructors and the entire method is highly unsatisfactory. By adopting a new form of scholarship card and improving the method of submitting the cards to instructors, it is hoped that the system can be made to accomplish its purpose as it should.

The method of electing council officers has also been changed. Up to this time officers were chosen through rotation of houses but in the future they will be chosen by popular vote. In this way the presidential office will not be restricted to the older houses but will be open to any house enrolled in the council.

BREEDERS ASSOCIATION OFFERS ESSAY PRIZES

Prizes aggregating two hundred dollars and ranging from one hundred to ten dollars are offered by the Ayrshire Breeders' Association in an intercollegiate essay contest. The articles should contain about 2500 words on the subject, "The Economic Value of Production Tests."

All agricultural students who have completed work equivalent to that of the Freshman year and are in good scholastic standing may enter the competition. Essays are due before June first at the offices of the Association, 100 Centre street, Brandon, Vermont.

BAND'S SUCCESS DEPENDS ON WHITEY'S MAGIC PERSONALITY

Whitey Kaufman and his band made their stepping is compelled, what whispered words, what long-drawn sighs! If ever a Senior Ball "went across" at Penn State, the 1926 affair did. It was a "wow!"

No other orchestra could have been the same, could have ruled off the endless appealing numbers which, after causing the dancers to become foot-weary, chained the spinning couples to the gaily-decorated Army unit the last note of the last number had become an echo.

Kaufman's crew of instrumentalists may not have been versed in the art of public speaking, but collectively those ten men could have made an orator's gestures look like a pennant's.

PROM LIST CUT TO THREE ORCHESTRAS

Jones, Landry and Goldkette Eligible—Decision Set for This Week

INTERCLASS COMMITTEE APPROVES DANCE BUDGET

With the number of orchestras under consideration for the Junior Prom now cut down to three, the committee will announce within the week the band that will furnish syncopation for the upperclass function. This decision was reached at a meeting of the committee at the Phi Sigma Kappa house Thursday evening.

Spending the week-end in Philadelphia, Chairman A. C. Alloway conferred with the booking-agents of the three prospective bands. The first organization being considered is Gene Goldkette's Victor Recording Orchestra. The next group is Art Landry and his Victor Recording band. Landry's latest record is "Swamp Blues." At the present time his band is playing on the Keith vaudeville circuit.

A Brunswick Recording aggregation, Isham Jones and His Orchestra, is the third prospect.

Budget Approved

Although the budget for the dance has been approved by the Interclass Budget committee, the Prom committee declares that the allotments for several items will be cut considerably. The financial statement includes all expenses and prospective receipts for the affair.

At Thursday's meeting the committee named the patrons and patronesses for the Prom and also decided upon issuing complimentary admissions.

Posters

Posters advertising the dance may be submitted to W. P. Reed at the Phi Sigma Kappa house any time before March tenth. From these placards submitted forty-eight will be selected and a complimentary admission to the Prom will be given to each one turning in four acceptable posters. All posters must be done in three colors, must contain a figure of some sort preferably a girl, and must include time, place, date, price and orchestra for the dance. The poster contest is open to all students.

Bids for checking privileges at the Prom must be in the hands of B. T. Conrad '27, 216 Pugh Street, within one week.

AMAZON EXPLORER TO LECTURE HERE THURSDAY

Dr. J. T. Singewald Visits Penn State Under Auspices of Mining Fraternity

Under the auspices of Sigma Gamma Epsilon, honorary mining, metallurgy, and geology fraternity, Dr. J. T. Singewald, Jr., of Johns Hopkins university, will lecture here Thursday afternoon and evening. His explorations in South America, particularly among the head hunters of the upper Amazon basin, is the subject for his discourse.

The first lecture will be in Old Chapel in the afternoon at four-thirty o'clock. It is open to students and faculty alike. This talk will be of general interest and will be illustrated by slides made from photographs taken by Dr. Singewald during his exploratory expeditions.

At eight o'clock in the evening, Dr. Singewald will give a special lecture on the geology and mineral deposits of the Andes mountains at a speaker of the Mining and Metallurgy Society. Visitors will be welcome at this gathering.

Dr. Singewald has made several expeditions to South America and has visited and photographed regions never before invaded by white men.

Student Council Sends Delegates to Tulane

D. D. Henry '26 and P. M. Schiefel '26, president and vice-president of the senior class and Student Council, entrusted for New Orleans where they will attend the annual mid-west student conference of colleges and universities from the fifteenth to the twentieth. This body has to do with student self-government in the institutions represented.

The convention will be held at the Louisiana metropolis under the auspices of Tulane university. The Mardi Gras will be a feature of the week's entertainment.

REV. HART MEETS Y. M. C. A. COUNCIL

Prominent Figure at U. of P. To Advise Local Group on Discussions

VISITOR IS KNOWN FOR WORK AMONG STUDENTS

Meeting with the Y. M. C. A. advisory council in the Association's hall on Thursday evening, the Rev. John Hart of Philadelphia discussed the system to be used in discussion groups at Penn State following the visit of Dr. Gilkey. Familiarly known as "Jack" Hart, the Philadelphian is active in the work of discussion groups on the campus of the University of Pennsylvania.

During the conference the Rev. Hart explained the manner in which group discussion is carried on at Penn and how the churches co-operate with the University in its work. He was decidedly in favor of the plan suggested to request the aid of faculty members as advisors to the group leaders and also as active participants in the discussions. This idea, which is used in Philadelphia and which was in practice here last year, will be put in force again at Penn State within the next few weeks.

Under the part of the plan the "Y" discussion groups will talk over questions of paramount importance brought out by Dr. Gilkey concerning the college man. After members of

COLLEGIAN MANAGERIAL CANDIDATES TO RECEIVE INSTRUCTION TOMORROW

The second of a six-weeks series of instructions in the work of the COLLEGIAN managerial staff will be given to freshmen candidates for the business staff by Business Manager Thomas Gann tomorrow at seven o'clock in Room 11 Liberal Arts.

Assured by the business staff that no previous newspaper experience is required more than fifty freshmen reported last Wednesday. The lectures are designed to acquaint the freshmen with the advertising and circulation conditions which the business staff must meet.

Though the general lessons are only preparatory to actual work on the paper they are necessary for the candidate to his efficiency in starting the newspaper detail. Like the course for editorial men the lectures are a training course for future COLLEGIAN men.

SPANISH CLUB PROGRAM TO INCLUDE TWO PLAYS

Musical and Dancing Numbers Listed for Presentation in March Session

Under the direction of Instructor Jose Gallardo the Spanish Club has arranged to present two short plays sometime during the first part of next month. Besides the regular performance, some additional numbers consisting of short talks in Spanish, and several musical and dancing exhibitions will be given during the entertainment.

Although no definite program has yet been arranged, Mr. Gallardo stated that D. D. Northrup '28 and S. C. Runkle '27 have consented to give an exhibition of a Spanish dance, followed by several vocal selections by the second Varsity quartet. Other musical numbers will be given by J. E. Dickson '28, Mrs. E. N. Montague, the Mandolin club and a group of Porto Rican students.

The cast of the two plays, "El Ciego Atuto" and "El Joven Medico Infatuado," is composed of Miss M. A. McLaughlin '27, Miss E. M. Grafius '27, R. W. Huston '27, Willard Putney '28 and W. R. Feyer '26.

VIRGINIANS DOWNED BY LION PUGILISTS IN CLOSE BATTLES

Three Extra-round Bouts and One Knockout Feature 5-2 Victory

WELSKO SCORES KAYO IN FIRST MINUTE OF BOUT

Grazier Granted Judges' Award in Bloody Fight in Adult Canto—Kiel Wins

A knock-out and three extra round bouts which included two referee's decisions marked the 5 to 2 victory for the Blue and White boxers when they defeated the University of Virginia Saturday and avenged the setback of last season. Every bout with the exception of the first and last went to Penn State.

The bout between Grazier and York in the forty-five pound class was considered the best encounter of the afternoon. Both gave a wonderful exhibition of boxing but Grazier was declared the winner by the referee at the end of the extra period.

Grazier proved himself the better defensive man especially in the first round, dodging the attempts of the visitor and landing telling blows on his opponent. At one time in the second canto, the curly headed man-man tore loose with his fists and pounded York into a corner opening a cut above his eye.

Bloody Serap

Blood flowed freely from both combatants when Grazier was bumped on the head gashing his scalp. At the close of the second round York backed the Blue and White representative into a corner and almost put him through the ropes but Grazier staged a comeback as the ball clanged.

York's style of cutting down with his left fist and jabbing with his left caused Grazier considerable worry for a time but he soon was able to cope with his opponent. In the final round Grazier stepped into York's landing both times to his head and face, partly closing the latter's eye.

A blow to Grazier's nose drew blood. He came back ferociously and with a straight left followed by a right to the head sent York reeling. The round ended with both exchanging blows in a semi-clinch.

Drop Fifteen Pounds

Flanagan and Gans, in the fifteen pound division staged an extra period fight that ended in a referee's decision.

MUSICAL ORGANIZATIONS LIST CONCERT PROGRAM

Blue Band, Mandolin Club, Phi Mu Alpha and College Orchestra Slated

Opening the mid-winter concert season the Penn State Blue Band will give the first of a series of afternoon musical entertainments Sunday at three-thirty o'clock in the Auditorium.

A schedule in which each of the college musical organizations is represented has already been arranged by R. W. Grant, director of music.

For the past twelve years the music department has offered these Sunday afternoon concerts and they have come to be a regular part of winter activities at Penn State. In the past, the primary purpose of these entertainments has been to help break the monotony of the Sunday afternoons during the winter months.

One of the features of this Sunday concert is the presentation of the tenpins luring classroom artists to "Heavy" Pastime as Battle Waxes Hot.

Prof. W. R. Ham uses a ball made of a soft material which he has turned from their profession to the much more brassy pastime of competing in a tenpin tournament.

Anyone may remove all doubt by visiting the Blue and White alleys where these would-be bowlers can be seen "doing their stuff" almost any evening of the week. There, according to Prof. P. T. Ziegler, they roll 'em hard and with a punch that can make the ball travel in a straight line from the foul line to the pocket.

Although he has been received from several publishing companies, the staff has made no selection as yet.

DR. GILKEY TALKS AT ASSEMBLY TOMORROW

Lectures and Conferences To Follow Convocation Address—Quintet Will Entertain at Each Meeting

Forceful Speaker

DR. C. W. GILKEY

YEARLINGS SWAMP CALIFORNIA NORMAL

Cub Passers Strike Fast Pace in Second Half To Win by 41-22 Score

REILLY AND DELP LEAD PLEBE SCORING ATTACK

Striking a pace in the second half that completely outdistanced their opponents, the varsity passers swamped the California Normal five with a score of 41-22 on the Armory floor Saturday night.

Neither team at the outset of the game was able to penetrate the opposing defense with the result that the first quarter ended with a score of 2-1 in favor of California Normal. Last playing was made extremely hazardous because of the slippery condition of the floor. Quick stops were impossible and falls were numerous.

Monahan was the first to break into the scoring column when he caged a free shot from the foul line. Following closely upon this Captain Wolfe placed the Normal school five.

Staff To Begin Work on Student Handbook

Having already selected both the editorial and business staffs for the Student Handbook which is published annually under supervision of the "Y," W. J. Durbin '26, editor, states that work on the 1926-1927 edition will be started within a few weeks.

The newly appointed editorial staff of the Freshman "Bible" is composed of Durbin editor, G. L. Fisher '27, assistant editor, U. W. Howard '27, P. R. Smally '28, J. T. Vandolovic '28 and R. P. Siegmüller '28. The business staff consists of S. L. Reder '27, manager; C. C. McClain '28, John Ferguson '28, W. D. Kersnyder '28, C. E. Flinn '28, R. B. Kithorne '28 and Donald Gray '28.

Although bids have been received from several publishing companies, the staff has made no selection as yet.

Endowed with the knack of presenting his messages with a vigor and vivaciousness that is remembered Dr. C. W. Gilkey, college trustee and campus pastor at the University of Chicago, will be the guest of Penn State tomorrow morning at the specially arranged convocation in the Auditorium from eleven-twenty to twelve-thirty o'clock with Dean R. L. Watts presiding. No classes will be held that hour.

Dr. Gilkey will arrive at the Nittany institution today primed to deliver at least five lectures and several informal talks during his four-day stay here. Special conferences and luncheons have a place on the itinerary of his visit. At the College men's meeting tomorrow morning Prof. Gilkey will be formally welcomed to Penn State and he will deliver his first public lecture.

Accompanied by Negro Quintet

The Lincoln university Colored Quintet, which won tremendous popularity at Silver Bay conference last summer, has been secured to entertain in conjunction with every talk that the noted speaker delivers. This negro five is especially noted for its harmony and its serious and humorous singing.

Although Dr. Gilkey will begin his program of speeches today at noon at a luncheon for faculty members at the University Club, the principal lectures will be delivered tomorrow morning at eleven-twenty o'clock and tomorrow, Thursday and Friday nights at seven o'clock in the Auditorium. The convocation will be held at the latter place but the entire four days of activity will be centered about a revelation of practical religion for college students.

LION RIFLERS TOP FIVE TEAMS IN TOURNAMENT

Three R. O. T. C. Rifle Squads Fire in Third Corps Area Match This Week

Pitted against five teams in the opening tilt of the Appalachian League tournament last week, the Penn State riflemen came out on the top of the list, scoring 1908 points.

The Appalachian Rifle League is composed of college teams from Western Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia. In the recent match, the scoring was as follows: Johns Hopkins 1895, Pitt 1879, Carnegie 1826, West Virginia 1809 and Western Maryland 1776. Don Ficar '26, captain, totaled the highest score with 791 points.

According to Lieutenant Miller, coach, the Varsity team is doing first class shooting. At the end of the season, the team scoring the greatest number of wins will be awarded a trophy, symbolic of its achievement in this branch of college competition.

The freshman teams have been divided into the R. O. T. C. unit, which enters into the Third Corps Area match this week. Three teams will represent Penn State in this meet. The first team will be composed principally of Varsity R. O. T. C. members, while the former freshman squad will compose the remaining two teams. Detweiler was high scorer in the R. O. T. C. match last week, totaling 585 points.

The Inter-class match takes place during the last week in April. To the five highest scorers of each class participating, numerals will be awarded.

VETERANS RAISE HOPES FOR LACROSSE SEASON

With practically all of the veterans of last year's squad available, Penn State's outlook for a successful season in lacrosse is quite cheering. New equipment has been purchased with which to equip the lacrosse and the candidates may now be seen every day working out in the field behind the Armory.

Coach Leonard is looking forward to a big turnout when the call is issued for material. This season the freshmen will slack up against some of the best in the line up opponents, the schedule being comprised by eight of the leaders in the sport. Among them are Stephens, University of Pennsylvania, Crescent Amateur A. A., Cornell, Syracuse, Swarthmore and Union, a new addition to the previously announced schedule.
