SOPHOMORES DANCE TO BESTOR'S AIRS FRIDAY

Booths To Be Sold for Five Dollars Tonight at Co-op—Tickets May Be Obtained Thursday

With the Soph Hop fraternity booth drawing scheduled for tonight at seven o'clock on Co-op, the second ticket sale set for Thursday night at the same time and place, the combination program-favors on their way from Hoover-Smith company, Don Bestor and His Chicago Orchestra in Philadelphia awaiting March fifth and the decorations of Silverstein ready to bedeck the Armory, the last piece of work for the sophomore formal has been finished.

"We are leaving nothing undone to make this year's sophomore formal dance a super-function. Don Bestor's band is one of the best in the country, and we feel that he will give this year's Hop a touch that will make it the outstanding social event of the season," said chairman Beifield.

Beginning his popularity with the Benson orchestra of Chicago, Bestor collected a group of artists of his own and at once began to win the attention that was given him chief. Besides playing for Victor Records, Bestor has attained successful success at Young's Million Dollar pier, the Drake Hotel Terrace Garden, and Marigold Gardens, Chicago. At The Willows, Oakmont, Pennsylvania and on the Orpheum circuit he was unrivaled in his success.

Twelve Quintets Dropped From Tourney—Sigma Pi Five Wins Thriller

Although no game lacked action in the second round of the interfraternity basketball tourney, teamwork and smooth shooting were far from perfect. Since one defeat eliminates a team this year, each five displayed its utmost ability in an endeavor to remain in the contest. In spite of the fact that a few one-sided scores were turned in, most of the opponents were evenly matched and the encounters full of interest.

NEW RECORD SET BY SXE OPERATOR

An informal chat with two Australian radio stations in the few minutes between breakfast and the first college hour class this morning was a new record established by a student operator at SXE, the Penn State station for sending and receiving radio messages.

NEW ASSISTANT PROFESSOR

In order to take advantage of the facilities at Penn State, Thomas Thayer, assistant professor of mining at West Virginia university will spend the remainder of the semester at State College. Mr. Fraser is co-operating with Dean E. A. Holbrook and is engaged in investigational work on mine ventilation.

PROF. HARLAN TO GIVE ILLUSTRATED LECTURE

Electric locomotives and their workings will be the subject of an illustrated lecture by Prof. O. K. Harlan, Wednesday evening at seven o'clock in Old Chapel. This will be given at a combined meeting of the engineering societies. Everyone interested is invited to attend.

PLAYERS TO STAGE "THE FIRST YEAR"

Depicting the joys and sorrows of married life, the Penn State Players will stage the three-act comedy tragedy, "The First Year" in the auditorium on Saturday evening at seven-thirty o'clock. The cast playing in this production is greatly improved over the one that presented the show at Canton and Towanda.

MYSTERY SHOW DATED FOR FOLLOWING WEEK

Centering around the courtship of a young couple, the plot progresses into a comedy portraying the result of ambition and jealousy aroused between the lovers. The leads of the show, Grace Livingston and Thomas Tucker, are played by Miss M. P. Reed and O. S. Anderson '26.

YEARLING PASSERS CRUSH BELLEFONTE

Gaining momentum with every added minute of play, the Penn State yearling basketball machine battered its way to a 35-22 victory over the fast Bellefonte Academy passers in the Armory Saturday afternoon at four o'clock.

NITTANY DEBATERS WIN FROM DICKINSON—LOSE TO BUCKNELL IN MEET

A unanimous decision against Penn State's affirmative debating team was handed down by the judges after the verbal tilt with Bucknell's negatives on the question "Resolved That the United States Should Enter the League of Nations," held in the Auditorium Friday night.

Nate Primes Track Stars for Indoor Intercollegiate--Cites Former Aces

On Nate Cartmell's bulletin board in the Armory locker-room is an inconspicuous white paper. Nate calls it Penn State's indoor intercollegiate honor roll. There are only fourteen names on it, for there have been but four indoor intercollegiate, and the man who has his name inscribed must humble the fleetest runners in collegiate ranks.

MARKED INCREASE NOTED IN DAIRY SHORT COURSES

Marked increases in all three of the courses in dairy manufacturing short courses of the Pennsylvania State College are seen in figures made public yesterday by C. D. Dahle in charge of that work at the College. Twenty-seven took the two-week course in getting dairy products and making butter and cheese as compared with eighteen last year. The ice cream makers' short course enjoyed a thirty per cent growth, and the market milk and milk condensing course grew from fifteen last year to thirty-two this year, a 111 per cent increase. The increase of the total enrollment in all three courses over the 1925 figure is 55.5 per cent.

Competing for the intercollegiate basketball championship of Pennsylvania, four division winners will meet in the Armory March twenty-sixth and twenty-seventh, under the auspices of the Pennsylvania Inter-scholastic athletic association. Previously, cups were awarded only to the winner and the runner-up, but this year the team which takes third honors will also receive a trophy. Individual medals will be given every player competing. Gold, silver and bronze medals are to be awarded to the members of the first three teams while the men on the remaining team will receive plain bronze medals.

DEAN SACKETT TO SPEAK TO MICHIGAN U. ALUMNI

"The Ethical Influence of Faculties" will be the subject of an address that R. L. Sackett, dean of the School of Engineering will deliver to the Philadelphia alumni of the University of Michigan in Philadelphia Friday evening. The address will be given before the members of the Alumni association at a banquet that is being tendered tomorrow President Little of the University of Maine who has been recently named as the president of the University of Michigan.

FIVE INTERUNIT GAMES SCHEDULED FOR TONIGHT

At home with the determination to avenge last year's humiliation at the hands of Pennsylvania, the Penn State losers will stack up against one of the most dangerous combinations on its schedule tonight in Philadelphia when it attempts to dispose of the Philadelphians in the same manner that it trounced Catholic university 47-27 in the Armory Saturday.

A week ago the Quakers downed Army 21-11 and Saturday Army bent Navy 21-11 which had already administered a drubbing to the Lions 41-21 on the foreign floor. From the aggressiveness shown by the Red and Blue in every fray this season they are favored to humble the Blue and White.

Penn Strong This Year Reinforced by the return of Lindsay after being out of the line-up with a "charley horse" the Penn aggregation is going at top season form. Although Lukasiewicz, stellar Quarter guard, fractured his wrist last week he may be able to enter the fray with Goldblatt as running mate. Sherr, rangy center, with Thompson and Davenport, forwards, complete the quint. Sherr is a lightning dribbler and is noted for his ability to break through the opponent guard. Ramages, guard, Conard and Field, forwards, are three anchor reserve men upon whom the Red and Blue mentor may call. With the trip to Philadelphia today and the journey to Syracuse Saturday Penn State faces the most critical period of its schedule.

Lion Trounces Catholics If the Lion five can muster the same fight that beat the Cardinals and the Orange last week they should return home with victories. In the setto with the Cardinals, every warrior on the Nittany roster displayed superior shooting and steeper passing than any time this year except the Orange game and MacDonald, especially, distinguished himself by amazing markers from the home's left-four, and Long, mainstay of the visitors, with fourteen points.
