

Penn State Collegian

Getting In Touch With Dad

Scholars Are All Keyed Up

VOL. XXI, No. 57

STATE COLLEGE, PA., FRIDAY, APRIL 30, 1926

PRICE FIVE CENTS

Penn State To Welcome Visiting Dads Tomorrow

Mass Meeting Tonight Opens Annual Fathers' Day Program—Four Sporting Events And Smoker Carded

With several additional features listed on the entertainment program for Fathers' Day every thing is in readiness for tonight's mass meeting...

Four athletic events will offer the afternoon's entertainment following the regular association meeting in the morning...

Tomorrow evening the Army doors will open for the big smoker, and many a youth of yesterday will forget his age to cheer the local leather pushers and grapplers...

In addition, Packard and Lord will display their wares on the main A harmonium duet and a guitar duet will be supplied as a soothing contrast to the rougher numbers...

The visiting mothers also will be tendered a reception. Plans have been completed to entertain them at ten tomorrow afternoon from three to five o'clock in the Women's Building...

CUB NINE OPENS AGAINST SLIPPERY ROCK NORMAL

Tentative Line-up Selected for Game Tomorrow—Twirling Problem Unsolved

In the initial encounter of the year Coach Leo Houck will put his plebe diamond proteges on the field against Slippery Rock Normal School aggregation tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock...

Leo is confident that he has a hard-hitting combination in the twirling line but has found no solution to his twirling problem...

C. Hadley will be placed on the initial sack and Dobbela, who has shown marked ability is named to cover the keystone sack...

The outfield will probably be Monahan at left, R. J. Hadley in center and Delp at right...

The visitors will start either Duff, Ripper or Baum in the box. The latter was a regular on the plebe squad last year...

The visitors will occupy the outfield posts. The committee consists of W. W. Allen, chairman, L. K. Wilson, A. K. Smith, I. L. Bernstein, P. M. Schefter, Eleanor J. Leitch

DAIRY EXPOSITION BEGINS Beginning this afternoon and continuing tomorrow night the fourth annual Penn State dairy exposition will be held under the auspices of the Penn State Chapter of the American Dairy Science Association

Women To Serve Tea For Visiting Mothers

Tea will be served at the Women's Building from three to five o'clock tomorrow afternoon to the mothers who accompany the dads. Musical entertainment has been arranged by those in charge.

SPIRIT WEEK WILL BEGIN WEDNESDAY

Sophomores To Meet Plebes in Pushball Scrap—Pajama Parade Thursday

FRESHMEN TO OBSERVE ANNUAL POVERTY DAY

Streamers of green suspended from the dinks of flying freshmen will announce the opening day of the annual Spirit Week Wednesday morning...

Sophomores may descend from their high estate to the rank of freshmen should the yearlings best the second-year stalwarts in the push-ball scrap Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock...

Thursday evening will witness an all-college pajama parade. The participants will assemble at some central spot and tour the town and campus in their nocturnal raiment...

GRADUATION PROGRAMS TO ARRIVE NEXT WEEK

Black Leather Cover Encloses Invitation—Enrollment Of Class Included

Anticipating an early call for 1926 Commencement programs and name cards, the senior class announcement committee will take orders at Co-op next week as soon as the display samples are received from E. A. Wright and company, Philadelphia...

The 1926 program is larger than the usual Commencement item list, and in design is similar to that used at Princeton university last June...

While the program has been altered from the usual Penn State types, the announcements and invitations remain the same. Names cards for the invitations will be on sale as soon as the samples arrive...

REVISED CATALOG WILL CONTAIN NEW FEATURES

Many new features in curricula and courses of study are contained in the 1926 catalog of the Pennsylvania State College which the college registrar, W. S. Hoffmann, today announced is ready for distribution to prospective students and others desiring it.

STUDENT COUNCIL NAMES COMMITTEE FOR MOVE-UP DAY

Each Class Advances One Year In Social Standing Under New Regulation

SUGGESTIONS MADE FOR PROCLAMATION RECEIPTS

Law-Makers Report Favorably On Ivy Day—Meeting Set For Next Week

That Penn State will have a Move-up Day and an Ivy Day this year is practically assured because of action taken by the Student Council Tuesday night...

Besides deciding favorably upon these two measures, the student lawmakers accepted the Spirit Week program as outlined by H. D. Fitchman '26 sat in a "superior" court in two cases appealing for reversal of judgment handed down by the Student Tribunal and discussed a new idea of financing the sophomore proclamation next year...

If Move-up Day is instituted, it means that on a specially arranged occasion, not more than two or three weeks from the close of college, freshmen will dispose of their dinks (Continued on second page)

HOLMES DELIVERS SCHOLARSHIP TALK

Emphasizes Value of Character Analysis—Many Dangers In Pseudo Forms

CANDIDATES ANNOUNCED BY HONORARY SOCIETIES

Speaking on "Common Sense Character Analysis," Dr. Arthur Holmes, formerly Dean of the renewal faculty at Penn State, declared that "No man is going to get in a niche which fits him exactly," at the Scholarship Day exercises yesterday morning...

Many pseudo forms of character analysis were listed by the speaker and he explained that although this form of psychology is gradually becoming recognized among scientists, no man should allow his career to be influenced completely by the analyst's findings...

The President Sparks prize was again awarded to Anna Haddow '26, who has won the distinction five times in seven semesters. D. D. Henry '26 was selected to receive the John W. White fellowship, which provides a (Continued on second page)

Plans Matured for Plebe-Soph Smoker

Plans for the first freshman-sophomore smoker to be held in the Army next Saturday evening at eight o'clock are beginning to take definite shape...

Dean A. R. Warnock will open the program with a short speech. J. T. McClellan '26 will also speak and a few selections on the musical saw by P. F. Foster '29 will follow. Thursday's only on the Penn State campus, W. T. Neff '28, will give an exhibition of magic while W. C. Boyce '29 will sing several selections to be chosen at a later date...

Tobacco, pipes and cigarettes will be at convenient positions in the Army next Saturday evening will consist of punch and pretzels

FRATRIAL ELECTIONS

- D. R. Bevan, W. H. Cameron, W. L. Dobbela, S. Hannas, B. Jacobson, M. S. McAndrews, G. K. Offenhausser, R. M. Warren, R. G. Whitmore, J. R. Wilson, C. A. Yost

Hon. John S. Fisher Speaks Here Today

The Honorable John S. Fisher of Indiana county, trustee of The Pennsylvania State College and candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor of this state, will speak from the upper porch of the State College hotel this afternoon at two-thirty o'clock...

Mr. Fisher is conducting a speaking tour through the principal cities and towns of central Pennsylvania in his political campaign. He will speak in Bellefonte this morning and arrive in State College shortly after noon, accompanied by Mr. C. E. Dornworth of the Bellefonte Republican

BATSMEN TO FACE URSINUS TOMORROW

Lions Mace Thomas' Delivery For Ten Hits in Victory Over Susquehanna

HARRIS, KENT, LESKO, CLOUT CIRCUIT DRIVES

The Nittany batsmen will attempt to make it four in a row when they oppose the Ursinus nine tomorrow afternoon after downing the Susquehanna university team in a rather easy fashion, 8-3, Wednesday. Tomorrow's tilt will start at one-thirty...

When the teams clashed in the mid-week game a strong northern wind swept the field making it uncomfortable for both players and fans alike and causing several misplays.

Three Circuit Smashes Penn State found the offerings of Thomas, veteran ace of the visitors, to its liking and pounded out ten safeties including three home runs. Lesko pulled out his second round-tripper of the season in the opening inning with Lungren, who had singled, on base, accounting for the first two tallies. In the next inning Kent caught hold of one of Thomas' shoots and raced around the sacks after eluding one down the third base line...

Lefty Page had things his own way and never in danger throughout the nine innings. The Schreiner batters were unable to cope with his portside delivery and gathered but four hits, all singles. The tall south-paw had difficulty in locating the (Continued on last page)

Dickson Receives Fine Arts Award

Receiving a Carnegie scholarship under a plan of promoting art teaching in colleges, H. E. Dickson, instructor in fine arts in the department of Architecture, has been honored by inclusion in the list of twenty-five scholarships which have just been announced by the Carnegie corporation for the year 1926-27.

These appointments are the first, according to the "New York World," under the system recently established by the Carnegie corporation to set aside one million dollars for the purpose of increasing the number of qualified teachers in arts for American colleges and universities.

Ranging from two hundred to two thousand dollars, the awards permit students to pursue graduate study in the fine arts in this country and abroad. The selection of twenty-five qualified instructors was made from eighteen colleges.

OLD MAIN BELL PI DELTA EPSILON ELECT OFFICERS

Choosing officers to serve for the 1926-27 term, the Penn State chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, international honorary journalistic fraternity met Tuesday night. Results of the regular election were as follows: president, S. L. Reeder, vice-president, H. G. Womley '27; secretary, C. E. McFadden '27; treasurer, S. H. Culp '27

In the Old Main Bell elections, R. D. Dunlap '27 was chosen editor-in-chief, and B. C. Whurton '27, business manager. S. R. Robb '27, was selected as the representative to the national convention of the Pi Delta Epsilon to be held in Berkeley, California, sometime during next September.

Who's Dancing

- Friday Women's Building Girls, Saturday Alpha Zeta

REEDER, BELFIELD WIN PRESIDENCIES IN RECORD BALLOT—1523 VOTES CAST

MONOGRAMS SUGGESTED FOR DIPLOMA FRAMES

A uniform diploma frame bearing a class monogram for the class of '26 has been suggested for seniors. It has met with the approval of the College executives and members of the senior class to whom it has been presented.

The monogram is to be a blue and white "3" and the class numerals in class color. This feature is responsible for much of the popularity of the idea. At present, several manufacturers are being considered to do the framing at a reasonable price.

G-BURG DRAMATISTS APPEAR TOMORROW

Stage "You and I," Philip Barry Success, at Eight-thirty In Auditorium

NOTED COLLEGE ACTORS CAST IN MAJOR ROLES

"You and I," a popular comedy by Philip Barry, will be presented by the Owl and Nightingale dramatic club of the Gettysburg college in the Auditorium tomorrow night at eight-thirty o'clock, under the auspices of the Penn State Players. Tickets are priced at fifty and seventy-five cents and are on sale at Whitey Musser's shop.

A conflict between love and artistic ambition involving parental responsibility is the theme of the comedy. In the opening situation, Maitland White is not content as a soap manufacturer—his ambition is to be a painter.

His heart is set upon having his boy becoming a great architect but his son, Rodna, falls in love with Veronica Duane. He announces his intention of marrying her and of leaving the soap business as his father had done before him. The father, desperate because of his advancing age and with his artistic ambitions still unrealized, quits his office and completes a picture at the very moment when his son is about to marry Veronica.

Just then word arrives that the family fortune has been swept away in a Wall Street storm and Veronica learns that, while her fiancé is dutiful (Continued on last page)

FRATERNITY TRACKMEN COMPETE FOR HONORS

Entries Must Be Made By Six O'clock—Mile Relay To Be Run Monday

Track representatives of approximately twenty-five fraternities will swing into action in the annual inter-fraternity meet on New Beaver field promptly at one o'clock tomorrow. The inter-fraternity mile relay will be contested Monday afternoon at five-twenty o'clock.

Entries may be made until six o'clock this evening by remitting one dollar to either R. B. Donaldson at the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity, or R. G. Oldfield at the Sigma Nu house. No fraternities will be permitted to enter contestants until this fee has been paid.

All the events of a varsity track meet will be run off tomorrow but no man may compete in more than three events. To be eligible for competition in this meet a contestant must not have taken part in varsity competition.

The scoring will be the same as in previous meets. Five points will be given for first place, four for second, three for third, two for fourth and one for fifth.

Because of the Varsity lacrosse game it will be necessary to start promptly at the appointed hour.

- DRUIDS ELECTIONS W. C. Bowie, W. J. Cox, W. S. Delp, H. J. Lockwood, T. W. Lord, A. P. Mathews, H. E. Monahan, A. T. Purse, L. D. Reilly, J. R. Steele, A. Wolf

Berryhill Gets La Vie Editorship with Lane Business Manager—Torchia Senior Vice-president

Penn State's mantle of student administration fell to new shoulders last night. Following a two days' balloting, Wednesday and Thursday, forty-seven students were chosen to fill the posts of outgoing officials from the classes of 1927, 1928 and 1929.

S. L. Reeder, with 157 votes, was elected senior class president for next year. J. C. Belfield's 214 ballots selected him as the 1928 class president by a margin of sixteen votes over Hewitt A. J. Gares, with a total of 192 votes, won the 1929 class presidency. Vice-presidents of the classes for the coming year with their totals are: 1927, S. H. Torchia, 101 votes; 1928, E. E. Hewitt Jr., 198 votes, and 1929, H. E. Pfeifer, 114 votes.

By an equally large total R. A. McQuade was elected secretary for 1927 with 146 ballots; C. E. Gettinger, 1928 secretary, with 183 votes and C. A. Yost, 1929, class secretary, with 196 votes. C. C. Berryhill '28, with 264 ballots, received the election as Editor of La Vie, while D. O. Lamb '28, with 183 votes, was selected as Business Manager of the Junior Yearbook. J. R. Kershaw and P. R. Smaltz, with 102 and 66 votes respectively took the positions of Associate Editors. J. Ferguson won the Advertising Manager's berth with 116 ballots.

Because of the rapidity with which these tabulations were recorded the totals are unofficial and the checking and final results will be published in Tuesday's COLLEGIAN.

Student Council Officers Although this is the second year for the poll method of class office selection the results have been gratifying to Student Council. The freshmen cast 173 ballots, making by nearly two hundred that of last year, the sophomore cast 189 ballots, exceeding last year's count by twenty, and the juniors polled a tally of 301 votes, surpassing last year's total by nearly one hundred-fifty counts.

From the School of Agriculture in the class of 1927, G. P. Lippincott and R. B. Dickerson were elected to Student Council while R. D. Donaldson and J. H. Eib polled a tie vote. This will probably be decided next week at a special ballot election.

To the student legislative body from the School of Education, W. A. Baei was elected. R. P. Heiwick and A. C. Santy were selected as the councilors from the School of Chemistry and Physics. Four men were elected to Council from the School of Engineering, E. L. Spitzer, R. P. Strickland, J. A. High and T. A. Mathias. G. J. Bari was selected as the representative. (Continued on third page)

ST. STEPHENS WILL TEST LACROSSEMEN

Coach Leonard Drills Stickmen In Offensive Plays for Tomorrow's Game

VISITORS EARN WIN OVER OXFORD-CAMBRIDGE, 6-1

With the scalps of Pennsylvania and the Struense Crescents on the belts of his stickmen, Coach Leonard for the past week has been drilling his proteges in new offensive plays to be used when they meet St. Stephens college on New Beaver field tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock.

After the showing against Syracuse last Saturday, the Nittany coach believes the offense is the department in which the Penn State lacrosse men need strengthening. Although he was satisfied with the showing of the defense last week he has also been scrutinizing the Varsity goal protectors against the first-string offense in making up plays and checking attacks.

Few plays were used in the Green game Saturday because Coach (Continued on last page)

AVIATION OPPORTUNITIES EMPHASIZED BY COCKLIN

Types of Aircraft Explained in First Lecture—Models Illustrate Talk

"Aviation holds a large inducement for the college graduate," declared H. S. Cocklin '11 in his fourth lecture of a series of five given in the Old Mining Building Wednesday. In this lecture he said that government plants offer the best opportunity for the beginner, providing one has had little or no experience in aviation work. He also described the rapid advancement of aviation in this country.

The first lecture, "Design and Structure," given Tuesday at eleven-twenty o'clock in Old Mining Building, was devoted to types of aircraft, and actual models illustrating their general features, were used.

Again addressing the students on "Selection of Material," at four-thirty o'clock Tuesday, he showed the efficiency in the make-up of the airplane. His third lecture on "Practice in Material" was devoted mainly to the various types of engines which were employed. All lectures were illustrated by slides.

After graduation Mr. Cocklin received here as an instructor in descriptive Geometric and Drawing until he went into war work in the Naval Aircraft factory at Philadelphia. Since 1922 he has been engaged in improving seaplanes of the type PN-7, 8 and 9.

VETERAN TENNIS TEAM WILL OPPOSE BUCKNELL

Penn State Netmen Journey to Lewisburg for Opening Match Tomorrow

With six veterans from previous seasons as a nucleus, Coach W. R. Ham has selected a tentative squad from which the team, which will oppose Bucknell tomorrow afternoon on the Bison courts, will be selected. The tennis candidates have been handicapped by inclement weather, but have displayed promising form in practice tilts during the week.

Captain Don Malpass '26, number three singles man in last year's combination, will probably be elevated a notch for Saturday's match. E. R. Eggleston '27 will in all probability (cock) racks with the first ranking Bucknell player.

G. L. Setman '27, veteran fifth singles courtman, has displayed a fine-fibered brand of tennis during the week and will probably see action Saturday. Other veterans expected to finish high in the ratings are R. A. Garman '26 and W. A. McCabe '27. A. E. Hellmich '26 was a consistent point-winner on the 1921 squad but fell under the elephantine hand last season. His showing thus far has practically assured him of a berth on the team.

Four sophomores have attracted attention by their fast play and clever stroking and may be given an opportunity to battle with the Bison netmen. Bari, MacGowan, Schuster and Hinkle, all of last year's yearling squad, form the quietest Coach Ham will use at least three of the second year men to test their ability in match play.

The cement court which is being constructed on New Beaver field will not be finished until weather conditions permit the laying of concrete. The foundation and drainage systems of the new court have been practically finished.