Notices

Attention is again called to the recent ruling passed by Interfraternity Council stating that members of the class of 1928 will not be permitted to visit dances at houses other than their own, until they become possessors of junior registration cards.

The Outing club will meet at the Catholic church at four-thirty o'clock tomorrow, and hike to Shingletown Gap where a wolver roast will be held. The club will meet Thursday in Room 814 Old Main, to elect officers.

Dean Chambers requests a meeting of all summer session managers of fraternities houses to be held Tuesday night at 6-15 o'clock in Old Chapel.

Newly elected officers of the Agricultural Economics Society are: president, S. A. Zerbe, vice-president, F. A. Harvey; secretary-treasurer, F. B. Brindle, and marshal, S. B. Wingard.

Rabbi Bernard Heller, of Scranton, will address the members of the Menorah Society at Old Chapel Sunday evening at seven o'clock.

The election of Mandolin Club officers has been postponed until the next regular meeting on Monday evening.

Tossers Meet Orange Today In Road Finale

(Continued from first page) whenever they oppose the Orange and Black. Last year the Lions held a three run lead over Princeton only to let it slip away in the late innings to lose 6-5.

Striborak turned in the best mound performance of the season and had the Princeton batters at his mercy throughout the contest. On only two occasions were the Tigers able to connect with his offerings. In the fourth inning, fleet football star, bent out an infield tap and in the seventh Schalk singled to center. Five of the

(Continued from first page) past week however, Cup has given indications of staging a comeback that ought to cause Wolf, Dye, Grumbles and several of the other barrier-jumpers no little worry.

Sty issued four free passes and it was one of these that resulted in the "sole tally for Princeton. After Dignam struck out in the first canto, Richards drew a walk. He then proceeded to pilfer second and continued on to third when Langren let Sty's batsman's throw get away. Laboime tapped to Sty but when the latter threw to the plate Harrington dropped the ball and the sole run of the game crossed the plate.

With all the miscues out of its system Penn State settled down and for the remainder of the contest the playing was air-tight on the part of both teams. Coach Clarke used three twirlers from whom the Lions garnered a total of eight safeties. Kellogg, Orange and Black ace, started the fracas and after working three innings gave to Goetz who in turn was succeeded by Hendley.

Penn State's best chance to score came in the ninth when with two out Mairs, batting for Harrington, walked. Fletcher, pinch-hitting for Greene, dumped a Texas-leaguer back of third but the game ended when Rhees camped under Jacobson's long fly to center.

Aside from the first inning debacle Penn State performed in errorless fashion. Princeton went along just as smoothly and held its one run lead throughout the pastime.

(Continued from first page) Eggleston was the master of Stouffer and was not extended throughout the match which ended 6-3, 6-1. Gorman and Pierson waged a closely fought match but the Michigan State player was not able to withstand the assault and went down to defeat 7-5, 6-3. Bair, fifth Nittany singles man, edged out a win after both sets had gone to duce. The final count was 7-7, 7-5.

Penn State failed to provide much opposition in the doubles matches and except for spurs on the part of the Hellich-Eggleston combine were completely outclassed. Hendeschott and Stouffer defeated them 6-3, 6-4. Hinkel and McCowatt proved no match to the Lawrence-Pierson pair and were downed 6-0, 6-1.

Although the Lafayette contest was the first collegiate match for the Lions, the home Knights of putt presented as strong an appearance as it did against the previous three country club tilts. Although the Maroon annexed a point for its first low ball foursome with McGuire and Engart opposing Taylor and Canon the latter two won their individual points to lead the scoring 2 to 1. McGuire, a product of Brooklyn, New York, links, was the satellite for the invaders.

Lions Change Style

According to Coach Leonard, the Nittany stickmen are aware of the mistakes made in last week's contest with Cornell when they played a slow game in mid-field, waiting for openings to start a play. During practice sessions this week the Lions have been carrying the ball through the opposing defense as soon as they get it rather than wait in the open field for the opportunity to pass to uncovered men.

Penn State Lineup

The Nittany stickmen will probably lineup with Harkins at goal, Gruver at cover point and Cook at point. The defense will consist of Pritchard, House and Welker. Shanks will take care of the center position. On the offense will be Helbig, Belfield and
