BUCKNELL AGAIN SENDS PENN STATE DOWN, 2-1

Makeshift Lion Squad Forces Bisons To Limit—Page Hurls Valiantly

With the curtain already lowered on the intercollegiate diamond season following a second defeat at the hands of Bucknell in a torrid clash at Lewisburg Wednesday, 2-1, the Nittany baseball team will line-up against an Alumni nine of unknown strength tomorrow afternoon on New Beaver Field at five-thirty o'clock.

Final examinations wrought havoc with the regular line-up and Coach Hugo Bezdek was forced to start a patched-up team against the Bucknellians. Szyborski, Lungren and Kent were the trio unable to make the Lewisburg trip because of scheduled examinations.

Lions Put Up Stiff Battle A sacrifice hit far into left field in the ninth inning scored Gaskill from third base with the winning tally and enabled the Bisons to keep their winning streak over the Lions intact. It brought an end to a hard fought tilt.

Lefty Page and Murphy were again the pitching selections of the rival coaches and both displayed an even better brand of curving than in their first meeting. The Nittany left hander, although touched for a hit, was safe-guarded to keep the bangles well scattered and hurried remarkable ball. Murphy held the Lions to seven hits and was given air-tight support by his teammates who did not make a fielding blunder.

D. O. ETTERS '81 AND J. B. STRUBLE '89 DIE

Former History And Mathematics Instructor Passes Away Saturday Night

Prof. D. O. Eppers '81, formerly an instructor of history and mathematics at Penn State, died Saturday night, June fifth, following a sudden congestion at the base of the brain. Burial was made at Pine Hill Tuesday. Word from San Francisco reached here yesterday that he had been elected to the office of president of the Pennsylvania Historical and Geographical Society.

Professor Eppers has been associated with school affairs in Centre County during the last fifty years. He recently retired as head of the Centre County public schools after twenty-five years of service.

NEW FACULTY MEMBER STUDIED UNDER DR. HAM

In the recent report of the coming of Dr. Wheeler P. Davey to Penn State next September as professor of physical chemistry, it was stated that Dr. Davey received his master's degree here in 1911 when Dr. G. G. Pond was dean of the School of Natural Science. The work conducted by Dr. Davey in earning his degree at that time was under the personal supervision of Dr. W. R. Ham, present head of the Department of Physics.

WARNOCK UPHOLDS JUNE HOUSEPARTY

Urges Student Cooperation To Retain Reinstated Spring Affair As Custom

THREE DAYS ALLOTTED TO COLLEGE ACTIVITIES

Recalling the action taken by the College last year in eliminating house-party from the commencement program, Dean A. R. Warnock imparts a final word of advice to the students, in asking that they conduct themselves as befitting Penn State men and women, especially since this year's affair will pass judgment upon the school socially, academically and morally.

If such functions are to continue, he says the participants must lead their earnest co-operation. The message he gives as chairman of the Commencement committee is as follows: "The Commencement program this year is attempting to combine two principal features that a good many people think cannot be successfully combined: student social parties and college events.

TRUSTEES WILL DISCUSS ELECTION OF PRESIDENT

Choice Of Executive Tomorrow Unlikely—To Consider Building Program

The Penn State Board of Trustees will meet tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock in their regular June session to discuss matters of vital importance to the College and to plan faculty changes. A president may be chosen at that time, according to R. H. Smith, comptroller, but it is not likely that a new head will be elected until a special summer meeting.

Approval of the budget for the coming year is the most important bit of College routine that must be transacted. Building extension plans which have already been decided upon must also receive the final approval of the Board. These arrangements include provisions for a new recreation building, a men's dormitory and a student hospital.

Among the faculty matters the committee must consider is the leave of absence of C. O. Rudenour in English, and extensions of leave for professors D. K. Merrill and C. R. Orton. Action must also be taken on resignations which have been submitted lately, including that of Prof. A. L. Kocher, Dr. W. P. Davey and Dr. E. D. Ries will also be formally accepted to the Penn State faculty.

About one hundred delegates from farming and industrial centers will convene at the same time as the trustees to elect four new trustees to take the places of those whose terms have expired. This election will be held under the supervision of three trustees who have been appointed by the Board.

PROFESSOR TUDOR, THIRTY-TWO YEARS ON FACULTY, DIES

Succumbs To Heart Attack On Monday—Taught Until Last October

DOCTORS RUNKLE AND GIBBONS GIVE EULOGIES

One Of Seven Oldest Members Of Faculty In Point Of Record Service

Burial of the body of the late Prof. J. H. Tudor, for thirty-two years a member of the mathematics department at Penn State, who died at his home, 138 McAllister street, Monday night, was made at the Lewisburg cemetery yesterday. Doctor Tudor died late Monday night following a general breakdown and heart trouble. He was in his sixty-ninth year and is survived by his widow.

Students Gate Presents Professor Tudor was one of the seven faculty members here who have established records of thirty or more years' service with the College. His health began to fail about five years ago, but it was not until last October that he finally had to give up his duties.

CAPS AND GOWNS EXPECTED TODAY

Committee Begins Distribution Of Outfits This Afternoon From Engineering A

COLLECT REGALIA AFTER GRADUATION EXERCISES

Caps and gowns to be worn during the Baccalaureate sermon and Commencement exercises will arrive today. The distribution will begin this afternoon and continue until Monday night in order to give seniors who are out of town an opportunity to get their outfits.

Outfitting Schedule Seniors whose names begin with letters from A to I inclusive will be outfitted on the first floor of Engineering A this afternoon from four until five-thirty o'clock. On Saturday morning from eleven until twelve-thirty o'clock seniors whose names are included from J to Z may secure their gowns.

THIEVES LOOT LOCKERS OF ATHLETIC EQUIPMENT

Athletic equipment amounting to three hundred dollars, according to Chief-of-police Yougel, was stolen from the Army locker-room some time during Tuesday when a number of lockers still in use, were jammed. One student lost equipment worth twenty dollars.

Although no evidence has yet been discovered to reveal the perpetrators, Yougel believes that the loot was wrapped and mailed from the local Post-office. Because of the seriousness of the crime the authorities are eagerly seeking the thief.

One-time Captain In Russian Army, Governor of Province, To Graduate

From the rank of a captain in the Czar's army to that of a fish-washer in a Washington, D. C. restaurant was the come-down for Serge Konstantinovich Hapoguzin, young Russian student at Penn State, but it failed to break his spirit and he has now completed the course in agricultural biochemistry here and will receive his degree Tuesday.

Hapoguzin was serving in the Czar's army at the outbreak of the world war and served four years on the Western front. Under the Kerensky revolutionary government he was appointed governor of a province. He subsequently joined the peasant's army against the Bolsheviks, when the latter triumphed. Russia became too dangerous for the young officer so he fled to Siberia, thence through Japan to Canada and finally to the United States.

FORESTERS LEAVE FOR SUMMER CAMPING TRIP

To get practical experience in actual field work the freshmen and sophomore foresters will leave for their eight week's camping trip June seventeenth.

The camp sites are located in various parts of the State and include thirteen thousand acres of timberland in all. The yearling camps are stationed at Lamar, Clinton county, and at Cherry Run, Union county. The second-year class situation is at Sheffield on timberland owned by the Central Pennsylvania Lumber company.

MUSIC GROUPS JOIN IN COMMENCEMENT

Glee and Mandolin Clubs Will Combine With Orchestra In Two Concerts

PROGRAM ARRANGED FOR BACCALAUREATE SERVICE

Presenting their twenty-sixth annual musical program the combined Glee and Mandolin clubs with the College Orchestra will play an important role in the Commencement activities Monday night at eight o'clock in the Auditorium. The music department will direct a Sunday evening Baccalaureate concert in the Auditorium at eight o'clock.

Although the advance sale for the joint recital indicates a marked interest in the affair, there are still seats available at the Music room for one dollar, seventy-five and fifty cents each. There will be no charge for the Sunday concert.

FRATERNITY BASEBALL TEAMS REACH FINALS

Phi Kappa Psi Clashes With Phi Kappa Sigma For Greek Diamond Crown

Terminating a tournament marked by hard-fought and free-hitting contests, the baseball teams of the Phi Kappa Psi and Phi Kappa Sigma fraternities engaged in the tilt for the interfraternity baseball supremacy yesterday afternoon on the Army field but the results were too late for publication.

Phi Kappa Psi was eliminated by Chi Phi by a 10-2 score on Tuesday in the semi-finals. The Chi Phi losers attempted to pull an iron man stunt on Wednesday when they participated in a double header. In the first game Chi Phi defeated Sigma Phi Sigma 7-6. They were baffled in their attempt to win the next encounter when the Phi Kappa Psi team, relying on Slate's masterful right arm, defeated them by an 8-3 score.

Three teams remained for the final round after these games. Phi Kappa Psi drew a bye and the Phi Kappa Sigma men earned the right to play Phi Psi by naming out the Phi Sigma Kappa diamondmen in a free-hitting game that ended with the score 11-10.

SOCIAL AND ACADEMIC PROGRAM MARKS SIXTY-SIXTH COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Five Hundred and Fifty Seniors Observe Class-Day Ceremony Monday, Receive Degrees Tuesday--Dean Walters Of Swarthmore Delivers Graduation Address

WEAR ROBES FOR CLASS DAY PARADE

March From Old Main Steps To Campus Amphitheater

Seniors garbed in caps and gowns will gather on the front steps of Old Main at eight-thirty five o'clock Monday morning, form a procession and march to the open air theatre to observe their class day exercises. Sections will be led by E. D. Mairs, J. L. Bickley and Miss Anna Haddow. This event, to be held at nine o'clock in the morning, will open the Commencement exercises listed for Monday. D. D. Henry, delivering the president's address, will be the first speaker. J. E. Darlap, class historian, will read his semi-manuscript and Rebecca Hess will recite a class poem of her own composition. Following these first three offerings the traditional class orations will be given. The pipe oration by A. O. Mc-

GRADUATION BALL SET FOR MONDAY

Annual Function Will Terminate Commencement Program Of Seniors, Alumni

ORCHESTRA FOR ARMY DANCE STILL UNDECIDED

Coming as the final social event of the week-end program the Commencement Ball will attract Penn State seniors and alumni to the Army Monday evening. As yet the final arrangements for an orchestra have not been completed because of the inability of the Memphis Five to be in this section of the country at the beginning of next week.

Preceding the Ball a reception will be given in the tent opposite the Army. All seniors with their parents and friends as well as the alumni and the speakers of the program will meet in this preliminary function.

The Army has been decorated by Silverstein and company of Wilkes-Barre. From the center of the ceiling will hang orange and black streamers and the sides of the building will be draped in the same colors. The orchestra will be placed on the platform at the end of the floor and the sounding board will be covered with green. The Army will be entered through a bowet of flowers entwined among greens.

Hole in the Wall Is Gaping Remnant of "Hole in the Wall"

The place where the "Hole in the Wall" was, a hole in the wall is. The coffee urn got hot, the pipe line exploded and before an astounded but cheering crowd of students knew what it was all about, the Alpha Fire company's best engine snorted down Allen Street and halted before six hundred feet.

There came the gushing of water, the sizzle of chemicals upon flames and when the smoke had cleared, lying in serenity of the learned building, was the hole in the wall. There is a hole in the wall in Atlantic City too. "Mike" Nahass, owner of the hash emporium, is vowing that when Mike returns he will probably rename his restaurant "the Coffee Urn" or "The Coffee Pot" or something. The fire came in Wednesday night at eight o'clock and was out at seven minutes after evening. During that time an ever-increasing crowd of students heartlessly applauded while the firemen were mastering the flames.

The hot dogs were still sizzling when the fire engine snorted back to the score 11-10.

ALUMNI TO HOLD REUNION MONDAY

Fifty-four To Graduate With First Honors In Scholarship

Fifty hundred and fifty seniors will be graduated from Penn State at the sixty-sixth annual Commencement exercises beginning today and ending Tuesday. An extensive program has been prepared for visiting parents, friends and alumni.

Longest Journey Hundred of parents from this and from neighboring states are arriving for the exercises. The longest journey is being made by Mr. and Mrs. George Cartwright, parents of G. J. Cartwright, a graduate in the Engineering school. They are coming from the Panama Canal Zone and are expected here Saturday.

Vesper services and concerts combine to present a program extending over a period of four days.

Athletics Add Color On Sunday, Rev. Maitland Alexander, D. D., of Pittsburgh, will deliver the Baccalaureate sermon from the Auditorium pulpit. Sabbath services will commence at ten-thirty o'clock in the morning. Several concerts will provide music Sunday afternoon on the Front Campus.

On Tuesday, the senior procession, which is to form in front of McAllister Hall, led by the College band, will march to the front of Old Main, the scene of the actual Commencement ceremony. At ten o'clock the Commencement address will be delivered by Dean Raymond Walters of Swarthmore College. In case of inclement weather the exercises will be held in the Auditorium.

The Board of Trustees will be tendered a luncheon at Varsity Hall on the morning of Commencement day. The affair is sponsored by the College Senate members.

Late this afternoon class banquets, council meetings and reunions of various types will be held.

Sport activities will occupy a prominent place among the list of events. Saturday afternoon on New Beaver field the Alumni-Varsity baseball game will be played. A few prominent Nittany track stars are scheduled to perform in exhibitions on New Beaver field Monday afternoon. Cup Moore, Torrence, Barclay and others.

NITTANY COURTMEN FACE BISON SQUAD TOMORROW

Visitors Boast 7-2 Victory Over Lion Netmen—Hardfought Matches Expected

Penn State's netmen will have much to avenge when they take the courts against the Bucknell team which defeated them in the first match of the season, 7-2. Coach Ham will use his strongest line-up in the duel with the Bisons tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock on the Army field in an attempt to even the count.

Final examinations did not hinder the court work-outs of the Lion players to any noticeable extent, and it is expected that they will be in top form when they cross racquets with the Lewisburgians. Helmut will probably be pitted against Oudisil, Bucknell first singles ace, while Captain Malpass will match drives with Baintone on the second court.

McCaskey, Horter and Gottman, all of whom won their matches against the Lions in the first engagement, will probably be used against the Blue and White. Recent reports indicate that only five Bucknell men will make the trip necessitating a curtailment of activities to five singles and two doubles matches.

Burr, McCowatt, Eggleston, Garman, McCabe and Hinkle are competing for berths on the Nittany squad. The men have showed increased fitness and court generalship in practice matches, and are on edge to avenge their early season setback. The doubles combinations have not yet been selected.
