PENN STATE TO OFFER WINTER SHORT COURSES

Instruction in Agriculture and Dairy Manufacturing Will Begin January Sixth

Winter courses in agriculture and dairy manufacture will be offered at Penn State, January sixth to March fourth, 1927. R. G. Brossier, vice-dean in the School of Agriculture, announces.

A booklet containing descriptions of the various courses open to students, information about the college, and helpful pointers about getting located is being sent to prospective students upon request.

The dairy manufacturing short courses will be divided into three distinct parts this winter. Work will be given in the testing of dairy products and manufacture of butter and cheese from January sixth to the twenty-first. The next two weeks will be devoted to ice cream making. From February seventh to the eighteenth market milk and milk condensing will be on the program. The course in agriculture will run for the full eight weeks.

CO-ED CLASS PRESIDENTS TO ENTERTAIN MOTHERS

Three class presidents, Miss L. F. Baker '27, Miss E. D. Whitman '28 and Miss M. E. Watkins '29 and the W. S. G. A. president, Miss E. R. Frank '27, will act as hostess at a tea for the mothers in the Woman's Building, Saturday afternoon from three until five o'clock. Mothers of men students as well as women students are invited.

STUDENT BOARD TO ASSUME SHARE IN JUDGING OFFENSES

Administrative Council Grants Petition Submitted by Governing Body

LAUDS INITIATIVE SHOWN IN ASKING COOPERATION

Deans Warnock, Stoddard and Chambers Will Confer With Students

The Student Board will have power to recommend punishments in cases of student dishonesty, gambling, immoral and unethical conduct, the Council of Administration announced Monday. The Council accepted the Student Board petition but deemed it advisable to vest final authority in all cases in the President of the College.

The petition presented by the Board follows:

WHEREAS, the student members of the Student Board of student government of The Pennsylvania State College feel that it is one of the duties of this Board to recommend punishments for infractions of rules concerning the welfare of the student body to the President of the College, or in his absence to the Council of Administration, and

WHEREAS, the faculty is represented on the Student Board by the Dean of Men; the student members being elected by Student Council, We, the student members of the Student Board, submit the following resolution to the President (Council of Administration) for action:

Be it resolved, this fourth day of October, 1926, that the President (Council of Administration) recognize the Student Board as capable of disposing of cases of student dishonesty, gambling, immoral and unethical conduct, and be empowered to recommend such punishments for the offenders as may be deemed advisable by the Board, the final authority in all cases to be vested in the President (Council of Administration). Three Chosen To Fill "Y" Cabinet Vacancies

Three new members were appointed to serve on the "Y" cabinet in the place of students who are out of school, at a recent meeting of that body Monday.

A. C. Alloway '27, was appointed to fill the position left vacant by Setman while W. M. Seibert '29, will act as recording secretary until A. E. Wilson '28 returns for the second semester. The final selection was J. G. Hess '27, who will fill the post of chairman of the annual finance campaign committee.

AG COUNCIL SPONSORS INTER-CLASS SMOKER

An all-Ag smoker, sponsored by the agricultural student council, will be held in the stock pavilion Wednesday evening at seven o'clock.

As this is the first all-department smoker to be held in the College, the council invites all four classes to attend and help promote good will and fellowship among the attending groups.

Graduate in '82, Returning as Dad, Looks Back on "Good Old Days"

Among those who are interested observers of the events and functions of Fathers' Day this year is John L. Gans, managing editor of The Courier Conneville, Pa. In point of number and variety of associations and ties which bind Mr. Gans to Penn State, he enjoys a distinction rare among members of the "Pops."

He was himself a student in the days before Penn State began to take the forward steps which have steadily advanced it to the position it now occupies among the higher educational institutions of Pennsylvania. He is father-in-law of a graduate of '14—Prof. J. Orvis Keller, head of the Department of Engineering Extension; father of Mrs. Keller, who as Miss Mary Gans, was a member of the class of '17; father of Miss Catherine H. Gans, deceased, member of the class of '20, and of Fred W. Gans, class of '22. His daughter, Miss Jane P. Gans, was some time clerk in the Registrar's office and his youngest son, John L. Gans, Jr., matriculated this year with

Co-eds' Future Cheers To Be Led by Own Sex

The spirit of womanhood suddenly has broken out among the co-eds like an epidemic of measles. When MacAllister Hall, Women's Building, Biopie Lodge, Willard House, Stone House and not to forget the town girls, heard that Englishwomen had asserted their independence this week by smoking the longest cheroots they could find, they decided to take a few steps forward themselves.

The fight is on. Henceforth the Army section stands marked "girls" will be no-man's land. The co-eds will be decided to have their own cheerleaders. They are dead earnest about it. If any one doubts this let him pass by the Auditorium tonight and every other Friday night and he will hear them yelling away under the leadership of Miss L. R. Robertson '27. Only co-eds are eligible.

PLANS OUTLINED FOR ALUMNI DAY

Headquarters To Be Established in Armory—All Graduates Urged to Register

ATHLETIC EVENTS WILL SERVE AS ATTRACTIONS

Plans for the seventh annual Alumni Homecoming on October twenty-third have been announced in the October issue of the Alumni News. Accommodations are being arranged for what is expected to be one of the best turnouts in the history of the College.

Already applications have been received for the football game with Syracuse and these have not all come from members of the alumni association. Headquarters will be established in the Armory on Friday afternoon. The committee in charge requests that all those attending this year register, in order that a more accurate record of attendance can be made.

Mass Meeting Friday
The initial event on the program will be an athletic mass meeting presided over by C. R. Bergman '27, president of the athletic association. While the exact program has not been complete, there will be speeches and a special list of songs and cheers, the latter being under the direction of H. S. Buck '27, Varsity cheerleader.

Saturday morning's program includes freshman football, Varsity soccer and cross country. The plebe gridders encounter Kiski while the Blue and White booters and harriers engage Syracuse.

In the afternoon the annual football clash with Syracuse will occupy the center of attention. The Syracuse band is expected to be present to augment the efforts of the Blue Band. Special stunts are being planned by the cheerleaders.

The cider-pretzel party in the Armory, which this year will be free from speeches, is planned for Saturday evening.

Marietta Authorities Fail to Send Line-up

Because of the failure of the Marietta athletic authorities to co-operate with the sports staff of the COLLEGIAN, the box line-up which is customarily published in this space will of necessity be omitted this issue.

THESPIANS SELECT ACTORS TUESDAY

Candidates for Vaudeville Show To Report—Road Trip for "The Aztec Maid"

CLUB CALLS FRESHMEN MANAGERIAL APPLICANTS

Holding the initial tryouts for the vaudeville show to be given on November twelfth, the Penn State Thespians will select acts for the House Party presentation from the talent that is expected to report in the Auditorium on Tuesday evening at seven-thirty.

All individuals who have acts prepared are urged to appear at Tuesday's tryouts. Specialties and novelty skits are greatly desired. The ability to "make" this show will figure somewhat in the choice of applicants to be picked for the annual road tour, it was intimated by the production staff. In addition to the House Party performance, the vaudeville show will be taken to Bellefonte early in December.

1930 Managers Called

For the position of Advertising Manager the Thespians elected W. P. Reed '27 at their meeting Tuesday evening.

Candidates for freshman Thespian managers are to report in the basement of the Auditorium on Tuesday evening at seven o'clock. At this (Continued on third page)

FRATERNITY ALUMNI TRY FOR CLOSER RELATIONS

Resident and Faculty Members Will Discuss Campus and College Activities

For the purpose of bringing the resident and faculty alumni of local and national chapters into closer contact, a meeting of all fraternity alumni will be held at the Lambda Chi Alpha house, Tuesday evening.

Tuesday's affair will be the second of such gatherings, an informal meeting of alumni of the various fraternities being held at the Sigma Nu house last spring. At that time it was decided that the fraternity alumni meet once or twice during each scholastic year.

Informal Discussions
The evening will be devoted mainly to informal discussions concerning general campus activities. S. B. Maddox '23, is chairman of the committee that is making arrangements for the occasion. Assisting him are Prof. W. S. Hoffman '11, Prof. J. O. Keller '13, C. W. Taylor '25, Dr. W. S. Glenn, Jr. '11 and Prof. H. B. Shattuck, Dartmouth '07.

OUTING CLUB HIKES

Planning to leave the Botany Building at nine o'clock Sunday morning, the Outing Club will take an all-day hike over the Barrens to Scotia. All those expecting to go are requested to bring their lunch. Since Scotia is only six miles from State College and is abundant in interesting features, it is hoped that as many accompany the hikers as possible. The group will return to College in time for supper.

Reserve Backfield Will Start Against Ohioans Tomorrow—Visitors Use Bezdekian Style of Play

ACADEMY ELEVEN PRIMED FOR TILT

Starting the season against the most formidable opponent on its schedule the Lion freshmen will attempt to topple Bellefonte Academy's undefeated eleven on New Beaver practice field Saturday afternoon at one o'clock.

For the past three weeks Coach Dutch Herrmann's pate-crackers have been conditioning, learning new plays, and rehearsing signals—most of the time in mud and rain. At times their playing has been invincible while again it has been ragged. Many combinations, both in the backfield and in the line, have showed Dutch the possibilities of his men and he has definitely decided upon the opening lineup with but one exception, the quarterback post.

Quarter Post Undecided

Tommy Gettings, former Langley flash, has been effectively driving the plebe outfit at quarter but Johnny McCracken, whose bruised shoulder kept him idle thus far returned to the helm position Tuesday against the varsity third-stringers and showed a remarkable exhibition of leather toting. Dutch will not decide who will receive first call until game time.

Reserve Material Strong

In reserve Dutch has Cunningham, center; Wieland and Eshbach, guards; Snyder, a former guard, Yokum, Kentucky terror, and McDonald, 200 pound center, tackles; Conley and Faulk, ends. Wilson, quarterback, with Maxwell, Weber, Struble, Hanna, backs, will also serve as a utility man.

Bellefonte reports that for the first time in three seasons Coach Snively will be forced to start an important clash without his strongest combination, Captain Hood, fullback and Ralph Daugherty, half, being crippled for at least another week.

Engineering Extension Provides New Courses

Four new courses in metallurgy have been offered in the engineering extension department by R. S. Kearns '19 during the past year.

Of these courses practical metallurgy for the steel foundry, practical metallurgy for the gray iron foundry, and the practical heat treatment of steel carry no college credits. The fourth, the metallurgy of iron and steel, gives credits toward a college degree. The total number of courses given by the department has reached 124.

W. S. G. A. Appoints Committee Heads

Miss M. M. Wheeler '28 and Miss M. V. Huggler '28, were elected chairmen of respective committees by the Women's Student Government Association on Tuesday evening. Miss Huggler will have charge of preparation for the He-She dance while Miss Wheeler has charge of the Hallowe'en party in Mac Hall dining room on October twenty-seventh. No date has been set for the dance.

Advance Notre Dame Ticket Sale Monday

An advanced ticket sale for the Notre Dame football game scheduled on October sixteenth at South Bend will be held Monday evening at the Athletic Store from seven until nine o'clock. This will be the only State College sale.

VISITORS COACHED BY RED GRIFFITHS

Revamped during a week of trying scrimmages in seas of mud, Penn State's grid eleven is literally on its toes and waiting for the appearance of the Marietta warriors, who will furnish the opposition in tomorrow's tilt for the edification of the Fathers on New Beaver Field.

Coach Bezdek expects to start his former reserve backfield against the Ohioans. The quartet flashed a brilliant brand of football in the Lebanon Valley fray and have supplanted the regulars during the week.

Pincura, veteran signal shouter, will direct Bill Pritchard, fullback, and Hamas and Wolff, halfbacks. The Blue and White pilot has snapped his team through drills with precision and dispatch, and much is expected of him. Hamas and Wolff have mastered a few clever points which will make them even more effective, while Pritchard has continued his high caliber bucking.

Visitors May Surprise

Although little is known concerning the strength of the Marietta eleven, a nip and tuck tussle is expected. The Ohio gridders are coached by Red Griffiths, All-American guard on Coach Bezdek's 1921 machine, who is anxious to make an impression against his Alma Mater.

The visitors use a modified Bezdekian system of attack, with similar back formations and line tactics. It will be the age-old struggle of pupil against master when the two weathers test their cunning tomorrow afternoon.

Rain Hinders Progress

Forbes Field, Pittsburgh, scene of many a Lion-Panther feud of old, had nothing on the New Beaver practice fields during the week, but scrimmage prevailed. Up and down, pass and buck, kick and tackle, tirelessly the squad struggled through an endless gauntlet in an effort to reach the goal of perfection.

Pincura and Faulkner sent up long spirals in spite of the weight of the soggy leather, while Wolff and P'm paired off with Langren and Harrington and passed the slippery pigskin. Terminals were in demand to gather in long, reverse, basketball, screen and triple passes.

Larry Conover and Newsh Hentz drilled the waterlogged linemen for a half hour every evening, going through all the principles of charging, interfering, cross-checking, body-checking and blocking for the benefit of the varsity and second lines. The ankle-deep mud put speed at a premium, but the heavy mud-horses came thru with some extra flashes.

Monday evening four teams were grilled play by play while on Tues- (Continued from first page)

REV. V. G. BURNS WILL ADDRESS DADS SUNDAY

Penn State Graduate To Take Chapel Exercises—Was Active as Student

The Rev. V. G. Burns, Penn State's own son, is returning to deliver the Fathers' Day address at the Sunday morning chapel service.

Reverend Burns graduated from Penn State in the class of 1916. He was a member of the baseball and debating teams, a junior orator, La Vie illustrator and a worker in the Y. M. C. A. In the scholastic field, he won two Louise Carnegie scholarships and the John W. White fellowship.

The chapel speaker continued his education at Harvard and later entered Union seminary, New York, from which he graduated in 1922. He then took graduate work in History at Columbia university, receiving a Ph. D. degree. Following his ordination in 1920 he served in Brooklyn and New York churches.

Up to the present time Reverend Burns has published two books, "The Flora of the Hackensack Marshes," and "Fosdick and the Fundamentalists." He also edits articles for "The Christian Herald" and "The Homiletic Review." His latest work, "The Message of the Master," will be released from the press in November.
