Student Delegated To Aid in Red Cross Work

Instituting a new system this year, the American Red Cross of this district will have a student of the College on the committee for the tenth annual roll call day, it was announced yesterday. L. R. this year to present the cause to the College through one of its students. According to the committee, the word "campaign" has been eliminated and the term "roll call day" will be used to secure the sympathy of the public for enrollment in the American Red Cross.

Debaters To Consider Problems of Campus

will be on the question: "Is the present tendency to emphasize the practical in American higher education to be deplored?"

This has become a more or less important question among leading educators and college students themselves. The second question is "Should the Volstead Act be so modified as to permit the manufacture and sale of light wines and beers?" It was selected as a means for sounding student opinion on this much discussed subject.

They are often so far apart. And there are so many things worth having too. But are you going about getting what you really want in a systematic way?

Ask the man or woman who has a healthy bank account how it feels to have ready money at one's beck and call. Then ask yourself if it isn't worth some effort to build up a personal bank account, and you can have some, too.

Where Men Talk

You know how often the talk turns to clothes.

Someone says, "I got this suit!" and then follows a general check-up and comparison of appearance, wear and prices. The man in the HICKEY-FREEMAN is usually the man whose appearance is most admired, whose story of long continued satisfaction with his clothes is most envied. The showing of Hickey-Freeman suits that we have in our store today is something that you, personally, ought not to miss.
