

WOMEN

THE OLD STORY

A perennial question which has been discussed frequently by Penn State girls and never solved permanently is the problem of giving enough publicity to the activities of their organizations—simply of letting people know when things are going to happen—so that meetings and social functions may be attended by all concerned or interested. The principle difficulty lies in the fact that half the girls in college live in town and do not hear announcements which are made on the campus. Organizations have been requested to post notices on the bulletin board outside the Dean of Women's office and town girls have been urged to watch the bulletin board daily. Some progress has been made in the last three years; officers have been more thoughtful about posting announcements and many town girls have made a point of looking at the bulletin board every day.

This plan would be satisfactory but for certain unfortunate weaknesses. Notices are sometimes put up too late to be of any use, and occasionally they are so indefinite as to need further explanation before their meaning is clear. Any notice of an event should be posted at least twenty-four hours before it will occur. Suppose one looks at the bulletin board in the morning and in the afternoon the announcement of a meeting for that evening appears. Every town girl should look at the bulletin board once a day, but not twice—that's asking too much.

It is also possible to have notices put in the Collegian, a practice the girls have never followed, and might do well to try.

Often notices of meetings are too important for a news story, but a simple statement of time, place, and purpose would give the necessary information and prevent many a slip.

Womens Building Leads Campus and Town Girls In Basketball Tourney

Women's Building girls took the lead in the inter-collegiate basketball tournament Monday night in the Armory when they downed the town girls' team, this victory giving them two wins. The cottage—Mac Hall clash resulted in a score of 10 to 6 in favor of Mac Hall.

Ray Frank and Lids Robertson, stars for Women's Building, shot goals totalling thirty-one and twelve points respectively. Pete Hudnall shot three goals for the town girls and Helen Gould, two. Fumbles lost the game for the town girls.

In the cottage-Mac Hall game Gertrude Durboran made four points and Pete Pomeroy six for Mac Hall, while Sara Hartz and Evelyn made the goals for the cottage.

NITTANY GIRL DEBATERS WILL MEET CEDAR CREST

Penn State Team on Affirmative Side of Issue—Schedule Completed Soon

The first girls' debate in the history of Penn State will be held February fifth against Cedar Crest College in Allentown. The subject is,

SENIOR BALL—FEBRUARY 11

"Resolved, That the present tendency to emphasize the practical in American higher education is to be deplored." The Penn State girls will have the affirmative of the question. This debate is the first of a series of four scheduled for the season.

Members of the women's debating team are the Misses Lois Devore '27, Margaret Mercer '29, and Miss Marie Snyder '29, and Miss Tatiana Proskouriakoff, alternate. Prof. J. H. Frizzell, coach of the Nittany debaters, is confident of the success of the team. Practice debates with the men's team have given valuable experience to both squads.

President Addresses Farm Products Show

(Continued from first page) "But the most that has been done has been done by men and women who have given their lives to the search for truth with no thought of material reward. We have forged ahead so rapidly that we now find ourselves dependent upon further scientific research."

"The entire problem of adequate facilities for the expansion and development of scientific research is one of the matters close to the heart of every modern college president."

President Hetzel then pointed out the unrealized possibilities of the extension instruction of Penn State, and the contacts gained through state-wide conferences, four of which were held here last week. He also voiced his concern as being, first of all, with the boys and girls whose interest are to be served.

He spoke favorably of extra-curricular activities, saying they were a stimulant to teaching. Standards are continually being raised and admission requirements are being made more exacting, he declared.

"There is occasion for some alarm when a State institution such as ours cannot receive all qualified applicants because she has not the facilities to care for them. I feel that if this situation is not soon remedied we shall be in danger of doing violence to that intangible but real thing known as the morale of our democratic society."

letters of recommendation

EXPERIENCED pipe-smokers from Cape Lisburne to Cape Sable (get out your map of North America!) recommend P. A. to you as the finest tobacco that ever lined the bowl of a pipe. You'll check-in with their recommendation.

Why, the instant you swing back the hinged lid on the tidy red tin, your olfactory nerve registers a fragrance like that of a pine-grove on a damp morning. And when you tuck a load of this wonderful tobacco into your pipe—say, Mister!

Cool as Cape Lisburne, mentioned above. Sweet as the plaudits of a first-night audience. Mild as morning in Cape Sable. (That's working-in the old geography!) Mild, yet with a full tobacco body that completely satisfies your smoke-taste. Buy some Prince Albert today and make the test!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, round and half-pounded tin tins, and round crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and punch removed by the Prince Albert process.

PRINCE ALBERT

—no other tobacco is like it!
