Penn State Mittmen Meet Penn Tomorrow

 lone contender to secure a victory over Penn State battles to his utmost.

Kolikoski and Fieger, the Lion's formidable lightweight duo, will clash with Ramey and Riccio respectively. Fieger outclassed Riccio last year.

In the welterweight fight Captain Graziop of Penn State will try to start a new streak against Cowan while Allie Wolf will square off against Northrup in the middleweight bout.

Nittany students may have an opportunity of watching two Pennsylvania football stars in the ring when the heavyweight fights take place. George Thayer, all-American end in 1925, may out Lewis, regular 175-pounder, while Jack Butler, crack Quaker center last year, may replace Renthall who has fared badly thus far. Harrington and Mahoney will represent Penn State in the heavier divisions.

While Leo contemplates no immediate changes in his line-up now that Fieger has returned to the ring, he is closely following the work of several fifteen-pounders. Bytem has been showing his old form of late and Baer, a senior, is also making things hum in the lower weights. Rog Mahoney has been improving steadily and any college heavyweight will have a real job trying to stop him.

Michigan State bowed 36-34 at Lansing last week while Syracuse, with its best team in years, was nosed out 29-28 on its own court. W and J., West Virginia and Carnegie Tech are other strong teams that have felt the sharpness of Panther claws.

Only one man, Captain Parsons, guard, was lost from the 1926 court squad Kowalski and Wroblecki will be the probable forwards with Rihanek, center and Captain Lissfel and Sykes Reed, former Lion courtman, at guards. In addition Coach Carlson has six substitutes possessing nearly the same prowess as the varsity players. Phamahl, center, McMahon, Hoban and Fisher guards, and McGill and Wunderlich, forwards. Ten players, Coach Heiman and Manager H. R. Huffman left State College yesterday morning for Pittsburgh. The party was made up of Captain Mike Hamas, Steve Hamas, Roepke and Reinhold, forwards, Page and Reilly centers, Eddie Baron, Von-Nieda, Delp and Jacobson, guards.

In the twenty-nine meetings between the two time-honored rivals, the Nittany Lions have succeeded in annexing twenty-one while eight went to the cause of the Gold and Blue of Pittsburgh.

 floor; as a result some of the strongest teams in the country have felt the power of the Pitt onslaught. Michigan, leader of the Big Ten conference and without a blemish to mar its record, came east only to receive a surprising setback, 35-23.
