REDUCED COLLEGE APPROPRIATION BILL APPEARS IN HOUSE

Passes Senate After Committee Deducts $734,500 From Proposed Sum

AMOUNTS TO THREE AND ONE-HALF MILLIONS NOW

Dr. Hetzel Hopes Representative Committee Will Restore Original Figure

With a reduction of $734,500 from the $1,234,500 that was originally asked by the College for the biennium in the form of a state appropriation, the College appropriation bill is now in the House where it will be referred to the Appropriations Committee after having passed final reading in the Senate last Wednesday.

The bill, reduced by a Senate Committee to $3,500,000, was reported out of the Senate Appropriations Committee Monday night, passed first reading and second reading Tuesday and was passed finally in the Senate Wednesday.

President Hetzel Comments "It is our hope that the House Committee, a sub-committee of which made a thorough study of the institution needs in a recent visit here, will see the necessity for restoring the amounts as given in the original bill," said President Hetzel yesterday.

Foresters Encamp With Yale Seniors

Three seniors of the Penn State department of forestry are now attending the spring camp held annually in conjunction with the Yale university forestry seniors.

The Nittany delegation attending the camp this year are J. H. Abbott, J. T. S. Host and K. J. Seayworth. The students are making a survey of an area, estimating the timber thereon, and preparing a fire plan for the section. Their work will also show the time required for tree growth in this part of the country.

The purpose of the survey is to place the forests on a continuous yield basis, so that future crops of forest trees may be assured.

Prof. J. A. Ferguson, of the Penn State forestry department at present teaching at Yale, is in charge of the survey.

NITTANY ORATORS OPPOSE BOWDOIN

Teams To Argue Value of Time Spent in College—Visiting Duo Formidable

OPEN FORUM DISCUSSION WILL DETERMINE WINNER

Penn State's undefeated negative debating team will encounter the staunchest forcible opposition of the season when, arguing the question, "Are most of the undergraduates in our colleges and universities wasting their time?" it opposes the affirmative duo from Bowdoin college in the Auditorium tomorrow night.

Conducted in the open forum manner, the debate is bound to provoke much humorous discussion, in the opinion of J. H. Frizzell, Penn State forensic coach. According to report, Bowdoin, one of the oldest debating institutions in the country, has one of the strongest teams in vantage.

After rehearsing for three weeks under the direction of Dean R. W. Grant, the Girls' Glee Club and the Louise Homer club, girls' honorary musical society will give their sixth annual concert at three-thirty in the Auditorium Sunday afternoon as the fourth number of the Sunday concert series.

In his talk, Dr. Tschan emphasized the international importance of things seemingly trivial as the discovery of fish as a cheap and highly palatable food. Numerous fisheries were developed, men realized the value of such posts and France and England actually engaged in a dispute over the conduct of the fisheries.

Dr. Tschan added, "Even English sea-

BEZDEK DIRECTS BASEBALL TEAM

Nittany Mentor Keeps in Touch With Players and Makes Plans in Hospital

FIRST PRACTICE GAME SCHEDULED FOR TODAY

Giving directions from his sickbed in the Bellefonte hospital for baseball practice, Coach Bezdek keeps in daily touch with the progress of his diamond aspirants. Members of the team and various coaches visit the absent mentor every day.

Although Bez has been confined to the hospital for nearly a month, and is pressing the doctor hard for his release, it is doubtful if he can leave for several days. "Can't leave for a week at least," declared the doctor.

"The inflamed veins in his legs are liable to keep him from any activity for two months, and if the trouble continues on up to the thigh, it may develop into something very serious."

"This lying in bed has done one good thing, at least," said Bez. "I've had a chance to think things over in the last three weeks, and with what the boys have told me, I have all the hope on the team crystallized in my mind."

"Now if the fellows get out there and practice hard, get into good condition, get the old legs and arms limbered up and the feel of a baseball in their hands," he continued, "it will take just about one week to get the team organized."

"Sure we're going to have a good ball team, looks as though there is better material out now than at any time in the past."

ALUMNI BOARD DEFERS REPORT ON COMMITTEE

Athletic Findings Submitted To Graduate Meetings In Five Cities

After making an extensive survey of athletic relations at Penn State, the special alumni committee appointed last June has submitted a report to the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association.

The nature of the report which has not yet been disclosed was considered of such great importance by the Board that they have authorized the calling of special meetings of the Alumni Association. These meetings will be held in five different parts of the State in order to give alumni a greater opportunity for attending the deliberations.

The first of these meetings will be held in Pittsburgh at the conference room of the William Penn hotel, the night of April fifth at seven-thirty o'clock. The other meetings will be as follows: Harrisburg at Fahnstoeck Hall, Y. M. C. A. building, Wednesday night, April sixth, at eight o'clock; Philadelphia, Penn State club rooms, 1827 Arch street, Thursday night, April seventh at eight o'clock; Wilkes-Barre, Chamber of Commerce Auditorium, Miness Bank building, Friday night, April eighth at eight o'clock. As a climax to these deliberations a meeting will be held in Old Chapel, Saturday night, April ninth at seven-thirty o'clock.

Special notices of these meetings have been sent to Alumni in the state.

COUNCIL BACKS PROJECT

Student Legislators Also Revise Election and Attendance Rules at Meeting

President R. D. Hetzel will have his first official opportunity to meet the student body at a mass meeting held in his honor at the Auditorium tonight at eight o'clock, announced S. L. Reeder '27, president of the Student Council, after the meeting Tuesday.

Students Meet at Co-op Co-op corner will mark the gathering place of the students. The College Band will start playing there at seven-thirty o'clock and will lead the student body to the Auditorium where Reeder will introduce the President to the meeting. President Hetzel will then address the student gathering.

Election Dates Named Dates for the election of class officers were set by the Council for May tenth and eleventh and the names of all candidates must be submitted to T. L. Spiller '27, secretary of the Student Council, before April thirtieth.

In changing the election rules the Council has provided for several things. Greater publicity will be given to the election process.

PLEBE BOXERS DEFEAT SOPHOMORES IN SCRAP

Five Decisions Clinch Meet and Give Freshmen Second Win of Season

Winning five bouts out of seven, the 1926 boxing team defeated the sophomores in the annual scrap Wednesday evening in the Army gym. In the freshman 145-pound fight five men who did not face the Bellefonte academy team.

In the bantam class, Hawthorne '29, after a good showing in the first round, was unable to stop the punches of Cunningham and lost the decision to the freshman.

Cannon, plebe featherweight knocked down Arthur in the opening round but the latter talked in the second and third rounds and the judges called for an extra round in which he received the decision.

In a give-and-take setto, Wood, freshman 137-pounder, and Lee, fought an extra round, but Wood, after a better showing, got the judges' decision.

Completely outwitted and out-weighted, Dushwick, frosh welterweight, managed to defeat Lane, in a bout which the judges called a draw but which Referee Grazer awarded to the freshman.

Loock, frosh middleweight, was unable to repel the attack of Trautman although he fought hard in the third round.

In the light-heavyweight class, Lewis '30, defeated Curry in a battle which required an extra session. Griesman, frosh heavyweight, showing vast improvement since the Bellefonte match, easily defeated Donaldson, although the latter had greater reach and more experience.

Penn State Club Will Conduct Nominations

Nominations for the offices of president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, social secretary and athletic director, open to all non-fraternity men, will be made by the Penn State Club in Old Chapel Monday evening. The elections will be held one week later at a special meeting.

It is requested by the club officials that all non-fraternity men be present and become affiliated with the Penn State Club in order to create a club-like atmosphere. Old Chapel will be bedecked with the club pennants on Monday evening.

A social evening will be held at the Andy Lytle Club tomorrow afternoon. Unit Three, which includes members from Flaxton street to Barstow street and from Beaver avenue to College avenue, and Unit nine, the district lying between Barstow and Gill streets and College and Nittany avenues, will meet jointly at the Cabin.
