CONCERNING THE NEW DORM

Every so often some person or group of persons will do something that will be a benefit to some cause for which they are working, when they themselves will derive little or no benefit from the thing which they are doing.

This is the situation which exists in the matter of the new dormitory which the Pennsylvania Grange is giving to Penn State for the women here. The Grange is a purely agricultural organization. What they are doing will not be of any agricultural value. They are working hard so that more women of Pennsylvania may have better educational advantages.

The present upperclass girls may not benefit by the new dormitory. Those who come in the next few years will. This, however, should not keep us from showing that we are in sympathy with the Grange in this work they are doing for us.

The best way we can show our appreciation is to do all that we possibly can to help them towards their goal. We can do this by talking to the people at home and all others who might be interested. We can at least take as much interest as the Grange is.

The Grange has started something. Can we allow ourselves to fall behind them in Penn State spirit?

ELECTIONS

The mark of an educated woman is the liberality of her point of view and the extent of her capacity for independent action. It is to be hoped that Penn State women belong in this category; whether they do or not, the proof lies in their own hands. The need for these qualities of broadmindedness and independence is never greater than at the annual W. S. G. A. and W. A. A. elections which are being held today.

Any girl who will allow herself to be influenced in today's election by anything except the candidate's fitness for office will be untrue to herself and to Penn State.

Equally at fault will be the girl, whether she lives on the campus or in town, who says, "I am not interested in elections. I won't vote." She shows that she has been and is lacking in Penn State spirit.

Balloting will take place in MacAllister Hall lobby from seven-thirty this morning until six o'clock tonight. Let every Penn State woman cast her ballot for the one she deems best fitted for the office in question."

HAVE A CAMEL

Modern smoking pleasure that never fails

THE smokers of this age are the most independent ever known. Accepting no hearsay, they have smoked out the facts. They have learned that the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos grown are rolled into Camels, that here is the incomparable blending for goodness, that Camels simply never tire the taste.

Camel is the cigarette that never fails to please the modern age. Regardless of how often you want the comfort of a smoke, of how steadily you light one after another, Camel will never fail you, never give you any but the finest thrill of smoking pleasure. This is why Camel's popularity, by far the largest in the modern world, keeps overwhelmingly in the lead. As modern taste becomes more insistent upon choice tobaccos, increasing millions discover Camel's incomparable mildness, smoothness and mellowness.

If you want the cigarette that's good to live with from morn' to mid-night, the one that is the choice of the modern age, "Have a Camel!"
