IF THE CAP FITS—

Nobody likes poor losers. They are despised by their enemies, laughed at by their friends, and tolerated by their friends. Even Fate seems against them, and in their estimation Fate is a powerful thing. "Some people have all the luck," is their favorite expression.

It is hard to lose a coveted position, or "miss out" on the honors, and sometimes the world does seem against you. Did you ever stop to consider that perhaps it was your own fault and that even your best friends won't tell you so?

The point of the matter is that if somebody gets what you want, in nine cases out of ten they deserve it more than you do.

So many girls talk about losing when they win, but when they win, but when they lose it is another story, which proves the theory that preachers don't always practice what they preach.

Poor losers have become the trouble makers and traitors of history. A Penn State girl plays fair. She plays to win, but she loses gracefully.

Ag Dance Committee Prepares for Annual

The decorating scheme selected by the committee is based on an arrangement of natural foliage. Palms and potted plants will set off the orchestra pit and greenery will grace the corners of the dance floor. A subdued colored lighting effect will be used, softening the familiar bare aspect of the Army and harmonizing with the decoration of natural greenery.

The poster contest, it is announced, will be open to all undergraduates, with a complimentary ticket as the award for every two posters accepted. The posters must be in three colors and must be submitted to A. S. Zerbe '27, Sigma Pi house, by May tenth. Contestants may submit as many contributions as they desire.

Having set the subscription price at two dollars, the committee is planning an intensive ticket-selling campaign, announces J. M. Staszewski '27, chairman. Dancing will be from eight to twelve o'clock.

Study in Color Awaits Prom Patrons Tonight

Fette's latest Victor record, "Sunny Disposition," is released at the Music Room today. The same troupe which came here from Detroit last year will furnish syncopation tonight. Twelve pieces, including Goldkette himself on the violin compose this group.

Another innovation tonight will be the opening of the Allen street driveway. Only one-way traffic may be used in order to relieve congestion. Cars may go north from College avenue and unload their passengers at the canopy which will extend to the street. Then drivers will proceed to the drive past the Auditorium where parking will be in charge of the campus police force.

Curley Miller, known as the "Wandering Minstrel," has been engaged for a special feature act at the short intermission. His main accomplishments are novelty acts on the banjo and piano.

Alternating dances will be attempted by the committee in order to permit as many couples as possible to dance comfortably to the continuous music. The aim of the committee is to have a constantly changing group on the floor.

All furniture for fraternity booths must be in its place before noon today and should be removed by tomorrow afternoon. Absolutely no floor lamps will be permitted in any booths. Coats and hats will be checked in the locker room as has been the case in the past affairs.

In order to avoid congestion at the door, a final ticket sale will be held at the Athletic store until six o'clock this evening.

The Man Who Wrote
The Story of Philosophy

Explains Those Youthful Suicides

Will Durant has joined that group of writers who make Cosmopolitan the most alert magazine in America. How deeply he has thought out the subject he writes of is shown by these questions:

"What happens to the famous 'first law of nature' in these instances? What impulse is it that is so strong that all the instincts, all the hunger for possession and love and power crumble at its coming? How can the will to live lose its omnipotence when the body is still young, and the blood courses freshly through full veins?"

And his answer is so coldly logical, that it is sensational by virtue of its simplicity.

HAVE A CAMEL

"Speaking of fine tobaccos — Have a Camel!"

MODERN smokers find in Camels a nicety of blending, a friendly cordiality of flavor, an inherent goodness that thrills from the first puff to the last. That is why Camels are the favorite of this present age. The warmth of golden sunlight or autumn fields gleams in their smoke. Camels are the modern expression of all that is the finest.

Camel quality and Camel excellence are recognized wherever modern smokers gather. Particular smokers in this hard-to-please age find the best of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos blended in this famous cigarette. They find a consistent goodness that never fails, no matter how liberal the smoking.

And wherever modern smokers gather, wherever the conversation turns to tobacco, to the world's best, someone is sure to say: "Speaking of fine tobaccos . . . Have a Camel!"
