KERN WILL CONFER ON NEW GRADUATE SCHOOL

Porto Rico May Be Location of Tropical Agriculture Institution

Dr. E. D. Kern, dean of the Graduate School, was called to New York Monday for a conference relative to a proposed Graduate School of Tropical Agriculture.

The National Research Council is sponsoring a movement to establish such an institution somewhere in the tropics. It is possible that the school may be established in Porto Rico. Because of Doctor Kern's knowledge of Porto Rico from the agricultural research work that he has conducted there, his advice on the subject was sought.

While in New York, Doctor Kern met the Commissioner of Agriculture of Porto Rico, the Executive Secretary to the Governor, the director of the Agricultural Experiment Station and members of the Insular Legislature. It is believed that a graduate school of tropical agriculture would prove to be of great value to the agricultural interests of America, since sugar cane, coffee, cocoa and tropical fruits are crops of great importance to every one outside the tropics as well as those in the southern zones.

Glee Club Ends Year With Banquet-smoker

Forty-five members of the Penn State Glee Club and guests attended the annual banquet and smoker at the Centre Hills Country club Sunday evening.

The occasion marked the climax of the most successful season in the history of the organization. Short talks were given by the graduating members of the club and E. N. Sullivan '14, alumni secretary, Dean Chambers of the School of Education and E. W. Grant of the department of music.

The gold medal, donated by C. W. Taylor '25, for the most outstanding member of the glee club was awarded to D. M. Jenkins '27.

J. A. FERGUSON LEAVES YALE FORESTRY CAMP

Will Take Charge of Freshman Woodsmen at Lamar—Rupp Appointed as Aid

Prof. J. A. Ferguson, head of the Department of Forestry, returned Tuesday from the Yale forestry camp at Upperville, Louisiana, to take charge of Penn State's freshman foresters at Lamar, Pennsylvania. Professor Ferguson was assisted in his work in Louisiana by Prof. G. F. Rupp.

While at the Yale School of Forestry, Professor Ferguson supplanted Professor Chapman, who was given leave of absence to study forest taxation problems for the United States Forest Service. Until March he was stationed at New Haven, Connecticut, under Dean H. S. Graves, of Yale university, but for the past three months he has been in full charge of the Louisiana forestry camp, where Penn State's seniors are receiving their final training in timber work.

Professor Ferguson will accompany the forestry department and the extension foresters while making an inspection tour of forest plantings and experimental plots on the College Farm at Farmer's Day next Friday. At the freshman camp, opening Wednesday, he will be assisted by Prof. W. B. MacMillan, H. S. Nevins and W. G. Edwards.

Kenney Demonstrates Value of Substitutes In Chemistry Lecture

Demonstrating the importance of substitutes in human life, A. W. Kenney, representative of the E. I. duPont de Nemours company, of Wilmington, Delaware, spoke in the Chemistry Auditorium last Tuesday morning.

In his talk Mr. Kenney stressed celluloid and bakelite. About bakelite he said, "Perhaps its only disadvantage is that it cannot be made perfectly colorless. Light amber is the closest that can be obtained to a colorless product."

In summing up the advantages of synthetic plastics he stated that they are quite inexpensive, can be developed to suit any particular need and can be made into a real reproduction of the original.

Mr. Kenney gave his lecture as a part of the course in physical chemistry which is being tried as an experiment here this year.

The Famous Whatisit?—Some Call It Froth—They Call It "Whose Party No."

"You can't keep a good man down" says Frothy. "Lindbergh hopped the Atlantic. Guess we'll try our wings." The truth of the mystery is that the newly elected board of foolish gentleness, explained down from the second floor office with their first official assortment of cartoons and wise cracks. The test flight was a success. The house party issue of Froth is out. A word to the wise is sufficient!

To begin with, the cover is smooth, but not too rough. A noble task, for in colors of blue, yellow, green and red, Frothy's paint mixer has suggested the various feelings that accompany the fratros in their June revelry.

But the jumble of humorists are considerate, that is, of the female sex, especially when they are making a house party trip. Frothy tells the fair ones "How to get undressed in a Pullman berth." Gentlemen stay out! Actions speak louder than words but on this occasion Frothy's drawings speak as meaningfully if not more than its puns. The pen and inkers have unleashed a veritable deluge of cartoons that smack of brilliancy of wit. Benno, the mystic, presents another of his feminine creations with the caption, "Castles in the Air." Hats off to Benno and good old Frothy! Froth out today!

Graduates Clash With Varsity Next Monday

Varsity Won Last Year

G. E. Hessebacher '16, who pitched for the alumni last year and was defeated 8-7, is expected to take the mound against the 1927 varsity.

The oldest stickman of them all, Bill Stuart '28, is coming back with the avowed intention of showing Lefty Page just how enemy batters would have pounded him in the nineteenth century if given the opportunity.

Herb Courson '20, Gene Carson '12, Dutch Brumbaugh '21, and Mittinger '08, are also expected to return and swell the alumni fly-chasing aggregation.

Page and Dobbelaar scored on Lungren's timely swat and he came home from second when Delp corked one over the third baseman's head with two bases.

Lebanon Valley counted their only scores in the eighth when Meteorin, the Sioux chief, hit safely to right field, went to second on Wolff's error that allowed Pierson safety at the initial sack, and came home on Field's bingle.

Pierson went to third on the Piella crash and Moyer brought him in when he hit to deep left. Hagar counted Piella for the last run of the game and season.

When Captain Lefty Page leaves the New Beaver diamond Monday afternoon after the game with the Alumni he will have completed three years of varsity and one year of freshman let-swimming. During this time Lefty has hit consistently over four hundred and has missed but few games.

In the past season he has won games from Dickinson, Duke, Georgetown and Lebanon Valley, both the Duke and Georgetown contests going into extra innings. Juniata and Pennsylvania took games from the portlander by close scores.

Fourteen Get Letters

Fourteen of the baseball squad received letters this year. They are: Captain Page, Styborski, Harris, Harrington, Lungren, Kent, Lesko, Van Atta, Hamas, Dobbelaar, Delp, Stingley, Wolff and Manager J. W. Fongie. L. R. Plotts was awarded an "S" and

Were you to meet Senator Cameron and talk about smoking, he'd say to you:

Hon. Ralph H. Cameron, U.S. Senator from Arizona, famous as a fine orator.

"Public speaking taxes the voice. One must think of the throat. I find, in smoking, that Lucky Strikes not only give greater enjoyment, but protect the throat."

Ralph Cameron

You, too, will find that Lucky Strikes are mild and mellow—the finest cigarettes you ever smoked, made of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"It's toasted"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.

When in New York you are cordially invited to see how Lucky Strikes are made at our exhibit, corner Broadway and 45th Street.
