TOO LARGE BITES

No, this is not an editorial on etiquette, in spite of the title. How many times have we started something, only to give it up before we are through with it, and left it for some kind Samaritan to finish?

One of the worst habits that most of us have is that very one. At the beginning we are enthusiastic, and offer to do everything, but as soon as the novelty has worn off, we tire of our job and seek to shift the responsibility to someone else or to neglect the matter entirely.

Often it is a matter of serving on a committee, going out for an activity, or doing some duty that has fallen to our lot.

Of course we may give the excuse that we are too busy, or that we have more important things to do. But people who are always making excuses are soon disliked.

If we are too busy, let's not take the job in the first place. It is better to do a few things well than to start many things and not finish them.

In the words of some unknown sage, "Don't bite off more than you can chew."

W. S. G. A. APPOINTS PARTY CHAIRMEN

The appointment of committee chairmen by the senate of the W. S. G. A. has made possible the planning of co-ed functions for the year.

Mabel Reed, '28, is in charge of the Etiquette Week program which will begin on Monday, October twenty-fourth, and will consist of a series of talks or etiquette given in the McAlister Hall dining-room.

The arrangements for the Halloween Party on October thirty-first are being made by Doris Calloway '29. Dates have not been set for the other events, but chairmen have been appointed as follows: Kathryn Apple, '29, Christmas Party; Jane Clark, '29, He-She Dance; Katherine Berukstus, '29, Co-ed Costume Kottillion; Margaret Girvan, '29, May Day.

Color Combines Decried for Men

"Wear her favorite color" is the advice co-eds offer to the men who are pondering over their selection of a necktie for the evening.

An attempt has been made to determine what the consensus of opinion is among the co-eds as to the kind of ties men ought to wear. Replies to numerous queries of the sort have been very diverse and it is evident that the tastes of the particular girl should be taken into consideration. Some general principles can be formulated, however, to help you men in your selection.

1. Butterfly ties are in good taste, except, as one girl says, if you have a small face, in which case you look ready to fly away.
2. Don't wear pale colors unless you have a girlish complexion.
3. Men with red hair—beware of red ties.
4. Profs, in order to emphasize your subject rather than yourself, avoid brilliant colors.
5. Never wear a combination of red and orange.
6. It is wise for a Freshman to wear black ties, even on dates.
7. Christmas ties are usually taboo.

FRESHMAN CLASS HAS ELECTED ITS SENATOR

Amanda Wakefield has been chosen by the Freshman class to represent it on the Senate. At a meeting next week the Senate will choose the second Freshman senator.

Plebe Football Men Battle Against Kiski

after an enforced rest caused by injury Geisler was unable to play in the Wyoming seminary game because of his wrenched knee but is expected to reveal a wealth of shiftness and speed in tomorrow's contest. Ed Brownlee, recently lifted from the second team, will match brown and wits against former team mates when he settles into the right end post on tomorrow. Formerly a track and football star at Kiski, the lanky athlete has transferred his pass catching propensities and mighty line lunging to the Nittany side of the scrimmage line.

French Is Signal Caller

With Coop French's shoulder firmly in good condition, Coach Heilmann has decided to let the sandy-haired quarterback govern the plays of the Penn State plebes.

Ziolla's ankle no longer keeps him from his place in the line and will see service tomorrow and Andy Berger, the consistent tackle, will match his 185-pound physique against that of Pincera, Johnny's brother, who weighs only 240 markers.

Light practice sessions have muted the yearlings' work this week. The second and third teams went through a light scrimmage Monday, while Tuesday showed only a signal drill. Yesterday and Wednesday the plebes ran through dummy scrimmage to perfect their plays and get number perfect on their signals.

Yeckley Leads Kiski
The son of a former Penn State football captain will capt in the Kiski grid forces. Yeckley, son of Ed

Yeckley, is to face Ziolla in the line, playing right guard.
Facing left guard for the home team, will give the fighting and aggressive Tommy Gordon the toughest battle of the year. Standing six feet and one inch in his socks, the 190 pound guard keeps in trim by calisthenics.
