"ARCHOUSAL"

When at the girls' mass meeting Saturday Dean Ray took the platform to make an announcement everyone wondered just what it was going to be. As her talk continued, the listeners became more and more curious. She brought her remarks to a climax with the announcement of the formation of "Archousal," the new Senior girls honor society.

This announcement was received in different ways but the majority approve highly of the action of these girls in forming themselves into such an organization. They not only have the honor which is the reward of their labors, but the strength which comes through union in carrying out their plans. It is only right that girls who have given time and energy to leading activities on the campus should have such a reward as membership in Archousal brings.

The girls who have formed this organization should be commended. It fills a place in our college life which has been empty until now. Their object is worthy. May they attain it.

Christmas Spirit Invades Mac Hall

Lord and Lady McAllister kept open house for the surrounding community Wednesday night at the banqueting hour. Nobles, vassals, and serfs will be welcome to the festive board which will be crowned by the "boy's" head and bedecked with bays and rosemary.

Artistic decorators completely transform Mac Hall dining room into the semblance of an old English manor. The usual austerity will be corrected by holly, mistletoe, ground pine, flickering candle light, and all the trappings of the Christmas tide. Jolly jesters make mirth and by their antics delight the guests. Gay talk, feasting, and rich revels will instill the real holiday spirit into the hearts of all the co-eds.
