I. F. C. ADOPTS NEW RUSHING CODE BY LARGE MAJORITY

Elects F. H. Yocum '29, President And R. M. Streicker '29 as Secretary-Treasurer

BOND GUARDS AGAINST VIOLATION OF SYSTEM

Action Ranks Penn State Among Few Institutions Approving Pledging Restrictions

Interfraternity Council adopted the new rushing code by a vote of thirty-six to four at its meeting Wednesday.

According to the new system, rushing season is divided into three periods. The first starts the Saturday of Freshman Week and lasts until the following Saturday.

Dates Limited Fraternities are limited to four dates with a freshman, divided evenly between the two periods.

Sealed bids will be filed with the Dean of Men on the day after the close of the last period.

Each fraternity will post a bond of fifty dollars with the treasurer of the College to cover any violations.

LACROSSERS TO ENGAGE MT. WASHINGTON TEAM

Olympic Trip Hinges on Outcome Of Tussle on Baltimore Field Tomorrow

Penn State's chances for an Olympic trip at the United States lacrosse representatives will hinge on the outcome of tomorrow's encounter with the Mount Washington twelve at Baltimore.

Before leaving, Coach Paul announced that the team will stop at Harrisburg for lunch and reach Baltimore about three-thirty o'clock this afternoon.

Undeafened for the past several years, the Mount Washington team is considered the outstanding amateur twelve in the country.

Dairy Students Open Annual Exhibit Today

Cups, medals and prizes valued at more than seven hundred and seventy-five dollars will be awarded to over two hundred contestants at the Sixth Annual Penn State Dairy Exposition today and tomorrow.

President Ralph D. Hetzel will welcome the visiting dairymen and Dr. L. M. Thompson, Montrose, Pennsylvania, will respond in behalf of the Pennsylvania Dairywomen's Association.

This event is an activity of the students in dairy department and consists of an exhibition of college dairy cattle with fitting, showing, and judging contests.

E. S. Bayard, trustee of the College and editor of the National Stockman and Farmer will speak at the banquet tomorrow evening at six-thirty.

SENIORS ANNOUNCE CLASS HONOR MEN

Award Three Coveted Positions To Berryhill, Hastings And Bellfield

SELECT IVY DAY, BANNER, LION SUIT COMMITTEES

Honor men were selected, committees appointed and nominations for valedictorian held at the senior class meeting Wednesday night.

Charles C. Berryhill, president of the class of 1928, was awarded first honors. Harold E. Hastings received second honors and John C. Bellfield was granted third honors.

It was decided that a committee be appointed to plant the traditional ivy for the senior class. Because of the sparse gathering of fourth-year men usually attending the ceremony, the class felt that it would be more impressive if a certain group were to take charge of the annual event.

The customary idea of Lion suits will be carried out this year on Move-Up Day. Brainerd T. Webb, Peter R. Smitz and Philip A. McWilliams were chosen as the committee to supervise the ordering and sale of the canvas garments.

Wheeler Lord, Jr., editor-in-chief of the 1927-28 Collegian, was selected as pipe orator of the graduating class. With the advent of the 1929 president on Class Day, Lord will present the pipe to the incoming official during a colorful ceremony.

Festival Starts Tomorrow at One-Thirty O'Clock on Holmes Field

MERCHANTS GIVE PRIZES TO BEST-GARBED PLEBES

Freshmen in the garb of bums, South Sea Islanders and in toga representative of many illustrious personages will gather on Holmes field tomorrow at one-thirty o'clock to participate in the annual Penn State Poverty Day festivities.

All first year men will be expected to wear their chosen apparel to morning classes tomorrow as has always been done on former Poverty Days, but it is hoped, declares Thomas J. Costello '28, chairman of the committee, that the indecent garb so prevalent in previous years will have no place in this event.

To provide an incentive for the donning of well-chosen outfits, approximately ten prizes will be offered by the merchants of the town. To the best dressed plebes the judges will award a pound of tobacco, a wallet, a five-dollar and a three-dollar men's ticket, a shirt, pair of golf socks, linen knickers, a tie, and sweater in addition to several other prizes.

SIX COLLEGE SPEAKERS COMPETE HERE TONIGHT

Regional Representatives Meet For Title in Auditorium At Eight O'clock

The regional semi-finals in the National Intercollegiate oratorical contest based on the Constitution will be held in the Schwalb auditorium tonight at eight o'clock.

The orators will be Roy M. Stock, of Juniata, Albert J. Gates '28, of Penn State, Howard R. Smith, Grove City, M. L. Harker, Dickinson College, Bernard Rottel, St. Francis College, and Joseph Szepanski, St. Vincent College.

The winner of this contest will enter the regional finals at Bucknell on Friday, May eighteenth. The seven successful speakers in the different regions will compete for seven prizes ranging from three hundred and fifty to fifteen hundred and totaling five thousand dollars, at Los Angeles on June twenty-first.

Buchanan and Bunting Take Secretary, Treasurer Posts--Students Cast 1654 Votes

Penn State undergraduate leadership moved into the swirl of a new regime when the unofficial returns of the 1654 votes cast Wednesday and Thursday were announced by the election tellers.

Harry E. Pfeifer was chosen senior class president for next year with a ballot of 334. J. Neil Stahtley garnered 276 votes to assume the office of junior executive and Samuel P. Flenniken with 224 tallies was elected to lead next year's sophomores.

Vice-presidents of the three classes in their respective order are: John W. Brandt, with 205 votes; James T. Wolfe with 202 ballots and Thomas P. Moore with 188 counts. Donald M. Buchanan was awarded the position of senior secretary with a total of 304 ballots. Ralph Ricker's 236 tallies gave him the secretaryship of the class of 1930 while Nelson E. Bauzenberger polled 180 votes to receive the 1931 scribe post.

BATSMEN OPPOSE SYRACUSE TODAY

Battle Orange Nine on Foreign Diamond in First Game Of Double Bill

HILLMEN SEEK REVENGE FOR DEFEAT LAST YEAR

Seventeen Nittany Lion batsmen departed yesterday morning for Syracuse where they will encounter the powerful Orange nine in a two-game series, at Archbold stadium, this afternoon and tomorrow.

Although prevented from playing the last two scheduled contests because of adverse weather conditions, the Penn State diamond performers are confident of adding the Syracuse scalp to their record.

The Hill diamond men have made a fan record so far this year, winning three engagements and losing five. Fort Monroe was conquered, 3-2, in the first game of the southern tour and William and Mary was vanquished on the following day to the tune of 6-4.

The next three scheduled contests were cancelled on account of the contraction of scarlet fever by first-basemen, Bonam.

The Syracuseans then bowed to the Boston college and Harvard nines, losing to the former, 9-5, and to the Crimson representatives, 5-3. University of Rochester was overcome, five runs to four, on April twenty-fifth, while a close battle was dropped.

GOLFERS OPEN SEASON WITH DARTMOUTH FOUR

Encounter Lafayette Tomorrow On Easton Links--Veterans Oppose Nittany Team

Penn State's golf team left yesterday to engage in the initial intercollegiate encounters of the season with Dartmouth and Lafayette, today and tomorrow. The Nittany linksmen will meet the Maroon at the Lafayette college links and the Dartmouth team at the Lulu Country Club, Philadelphia.

Captain James F. Bunting '29, Harry V. Fritchman '29, Earl E. Hewitt '29 and Tuomo S. Pannacion '30 have been selected by Coach Rutherford to represent the Lions in the opening collegiate matches.

Because of unsuitable course conditions, the College team has been prevented from practicing and will be rather unconditioned. The scheduled engagement with Centre Hills Country Club last Saturday was not played because of weather conditions, so the team will have its first trial of the year tomorrow.

The Dartmouth team will participate in their first links engagement of the year when they meet the Nittany golfers. On the Lafayette quarter there are two veterans, who represented the Maroon here last year when Coach Rutherford's team defeated them.
