Students Ballot for A. A. Officers Monday

Will Vote on Proposed Amendment to Constitution--H. E. Hastings '28 Explains Revisions

Penn State's student body will select next year's officers for the Athletic Association and will give their approval or disapproval of the proposed amendments to the constitution and by-laws of the organization at the election Monday morning, from eight until twelve o'clock.

Ballot boxes will be placed in Old Main, Liberal Arts, Agriculture, Engineering, Chemistry and Physics and Old Mining buildings. A vote of two-thirds of the students will be required to pass the proposed amendments.

Changes Explained

Harold L. Hastings '28, president of the Association, desires that certain of the pending revisions be explained more fully for the benefit of those who know little or nothing about the present constitution.

In Article XV, Section I, the purpose of the change is to reduce the number of numerical awards to fourteen. In previous years the number of football letters given out has been on an average of eleven. The revised ruling will make the granting of special awards an exception instead of a custom.

Cross-Country, Track Separated

Previously cross-country and track have been considered as one sport but, with the passage of the proposed amendment, the two branches of athletics will be entirely separate. Under the new law there will be a better system of management and more opportunity will be provided for aspiring managers.

Basketball awards will be given to any player competing in thirty per cent of the total time required for all of the scheduled games. The new legislation will limit the varsity letters to seven men instead of eight. Wrestling and boxing general rules (Continued on second page)

LION GOLFERS OPPOSE G. W. FOUR TOMORROW

Penn State Linkmen Encounter Capitol Team in Initial Home Contest

Fresh from a succession of victories over the golfers of William and Mary college, a well-trained quartet of linksmen from George Washington university will come here tomorrow afternoon to test their mettle against the College golf team in the first home matches of the year for the Lions.

The invading array of golfers includes two champion players, Jim Watkins and Charlie Cole, who have both achieved the heights in regional tournaments, the first having been Missouri Valley champion in 1927 and the second being present champion of the District of Columbia public links. Another member of the aggregation, John Shorey, performed a remarkable feat in the initial encounter of the season. Playing in a heavy rain over a course made almost unplayable because of the soggy condition of the ground, he shot a 73, which is par for the Potomac Park course.

The same team that represented Penn State in the Dartmouth and Lafayette engagements last week-end, will probably bear the hopes of the Blue and White in tomorrow's matches. This team consisted of James L. Bunting '28, Earl E. Hewitt '28, H. Vernon Fritchman '28, and T. S. Pannecoek '30. Hewitt was the only Lion player to win his matches in the initial engagements.

Fraternalities To Clash For Track, Field Title

Fifteen regulation I. C. 4-A events comprise the program of the interfraternity track and field meet to be held May sixteenth and seventeenth, according to Peter H. Marvel '29, manager of the meet. The competition will be run under the rules of the intercollegiate association.

Two silver loving cups will be awarded, one to the fraternity scoring the greatest number of points, and the other to the winner of the mile relay. The relay will be run on May seventeenth. The manager requests that as many fraternities as possible should enter teams. The dollar deposit for entrance fee should be made by tomorrow.

PLAYERS PERFORM TOMORROW NIGHT

To Offer "The Family Upstairs" in Schwab Auditorium at Eight-Thirty O'clock

PRODUCTION PORTRAYS AMERICAN FAMILY LIFE

As a prominent part of the Mothers' Day program, the Penn State Players will present "The Family Upstairs," a three-act farce comedy by Harry Delf, Saturday night at eight-thirty o'clock in Schwab auditorium. Miss Ann E. Mellinger '31, who appeared in the Players' recent production, "Beyond the Horizon," will play the part of Louise Hellet and Arthur B. Cunningham '31, a member of the cast of "The Cat and the Canary," is cast as Charles Grant, lover of Louise.

GRANGE DRAMATIC CLUB OFFERS COMEDY FRIDAY

To Present "The Easy Mark" in Auditorium--Prepares for Extensive Road Trip

When they conclude their showing of "The Easy Mark," a three-act comedy, Friday night in Schwab auditorium, the Penn State Grange will send the play on an extensive tour of cities and towns in this state.

Included in their itinerary will be Altoona, Bellefonte, Roaring Springs, Center Hill, Stormstown and a number of cities in the hard coal region. Miss Grace Grea '31, playing the premier feminine lead, has played previously in "The Family Upstairs," a Players production, and a Theban vaudeville offering. Before coming to Penn State, Miss Grea had played in several Shakespearean plays, among them being "Romeo and Juliet," given by a Shakespearean society.

As the hero of the comedy, Forrest Steele '30, has had considerable stage experience. Last year he filled the leading role in the Grange offering, "Papa," which had sixteen engagements in Pennsylvania.

Included among the other characters are Miss Janet Burns '30, whose character acting won her parts in two tragedies and six one-act plays produced by the Penn State Players; and Miss Lola Remley '28, who has taken roles in last year's Grange play.

PREXY HETZEL MAY SPEAK AT PROPOSED MOVE-UP ASSEMBLY

Out-of-door Mass Meeting Will Be Innovation--Starts At One O'clock

ANNUAL ROPE PULL TO FOLLOW CONVOCATION

Complete Decoration Plans for Move-up Day Dance Next Saturday Night

If an attempt to secure President Hetzel as the speaker is successful, an out-of-door mass meeting will be staged next Saturday afternoon on Holmes Field at one o'clock as the opening feature on the Move-up Day program, it was announced by the Move-up Day committee yesterday.

Whether Dr. Hetzel will be able to appear, depends on the time of his return from a trip to conventions at Lewisburg and Atlantic City, beginning on Wednesday.

Arrangements have been made with a corps of carpenters for the erection of a speaker's platform near the scene of the scheduled tug-of-war, which will follow the speeches. Several hundred folding chairs will be obtained for the convenience of a portion of the expected crowd.

The mass meeting will be of but thirty minutes duration and will be followed immediately by the customary tug-of-war between the freshman and sophomore classes. If the freshmen win this affair, they gain the (Continued on last page)

DR. METZGER ADDRESSES CHAPEL SERVICE SUNDAY

Former Chaplain Will Speak on Mothers' Day Subject in Schwab Auditorium

Choosing a subject appropriate for Mothers' Day, Dr. Frazer Metzger, dean of men at Rutgers university, will speak at chapel exercises in Schwab auditorium Sunday morning.

Dr. Metzger, who was former chaplain at Penn State, is a graduate of Union college and Defiance Theological Seminary. He was later granted the degree of doctor of divinity by Middlebury college.

After graduation in 1902 from college, Dr. Metzger went to Randolph, Vermont, and occupied the pastorate of the Congregational church there for twenty-one years. He served in the legislature of Vermont, was a candidate for the governorship of that state, was in charge of the food administration of Vermont during the war and was a member of the public safety committee. He also occupied several other positions on state commissions during that time.

Blue Band Will Lead Procession in Reading

Through the invitation of the Pennsylvania Knight Templars, who are holding a three day session in Reading, May twenty-second to twenty-fifth, the Blue Band will lead the parade on the opening day of that event.

Besides attending this affair, the band has received invitations from three other large cities in the east. None of these offers have been definitely accepted.

In connection with the band, William E. Biery '28, leader of the band announces that the noted Penn State organization will make its final appearance of the year when it plays on the front campus Sunday, June third. This is an annual function of the band which is observed in honor of the graduating class.

SHEA BOASTS STRENGTH IN FIELD CONTESTANTS

Nittany Freshmen Open Season With University Lads As Preliminary Event

A promising array of Pitt varsity and freshman endermen will invade New Beaver field tomorrow afternoon for their nineteenth annual dual encounter with Penn State's varsity and yearling track and field representatives. The first year men will meet at one o'clock while the major contest will not start until two-thirty o'clock.

Tomorrow's engagement will be Pittsburgh's third dual match this season, having defeated the University of West Virginia tracksters 76-59 at Morgantown last Saturday and overhauled Carnegie Tech 111-23 on Tuesday.

GLEEMEN PRESENT PROGRAM TONIGHT

Varsity Quartet, Orchestra and Dancers Will Entertain Visiting Mothers

SINGERS OFFER SEVERAL NOVELTY PERFORMANCES

Penn State's Glee Club will present a vaudeville show for the benefit of visiting mothers tonight at eight o'clock in Schwab auditorium. Under the direction of Prof. Richard W. Grant, head of the department of music, the songsters will offer ten acts of a varied nature.

The performance will open with several selections by Johnny Buck and his orchestra. The second act will include the Glee Club of sixty college voices in a specially prepared group of songs. The third part of the program will be a duet arrangement of "Deep In My Heart," from "The Student Prince," sung by Miss Ada Romig '28, and accompanied by William Bowie '29. Miss Romig will also sing "Can't Help Lovin' Dat Man," from "Show Boat," with symphonized accompaniment by the entire Glee Club.

Novelty Numbers: William E. Patterson '29, Walter J. Culp '30, and Albert S. Payne '29, will offer a novelty number with the organ, trumpet and piano. The Varsity Quartet will present a special act with two quartets and orchestra act. (Continued on third page)

Sophomores Wield Paddles As Plebes Display Track Ability in Spirit Week

Paddles grown old in faithful service will once again see the light of day and ring out their resounding snacks throughout the campus when Spirit Week is ushered in Wednesday for a four-day period. Regulations for this annual Penn State event require that all freshmen attach to their customary head-garb two six-inch steamer's of dark green ribbon which, by the aid of encouraging sophomore paddles, they must keep parallel to their firm by a healthy spirit while on the campus.

It is expected that Penn State will take on the appearance of a mammoth track practice as the yearlings get into their stride next week. All contestants will vie for premier honors in escaping paddle cracks during the running event for which the reigning second-year men will officiate as judges. Each freshman whose campus

New Jersey Engineers Deliver Talk Tonight

Two mining engineers, in charge of the operating division of the New Jersey Zinc Company, will talk on the subject, "Mining Methods at Franklin Furnace, N. J.," tonight in room 119 Old Mining.

The speakers are R. H. Seip '12, and Arthur G. Watt. This same lecture was given last year and was so well received that the speakers were asked to repeat it this year. It is an outstanding lecture on mining showing graphically the unique methods of mining used at the world famous zinc mines at Franklin, N. J.

BATSMEN ENGAGE VETERAN ALBRIGHT TEAM TOMORROW

Myerstown Nine Hopes To Check Lions' Winning Streak on New Beaver Field

VISITING SQUAD BOASTS VICTORY OVER BUCKNELL

Roepke May Twirl for Nittany Combination--Coach Bezdek Keeps Line-up Intact

A veteran Albright baseball nine, determined to check Penn State's winning streak, and at the same time stretch its own consecutive victories to five, will furnish opposition for Coach Bezdek's powerful array of batsmen on New Beaver field, tomorrow afternoon at two-thirty o'clock.

Heralded as an excellent defensive combination, the Myerstown outfit has been victorious over four of its opponents and has suffered but one defeat. Bloomsburg State Teachers college was vanquished twice while Shippensburg college was overcome by a close score. Coach Weller's crew then traveled to Lewisburg where it shut out the Bucknell BL (Continued on third page)

FROTH EXECUTIVE BOARD ELECTS JUNIOR OFFICERS

Selects Seven Candidates for Business Staff and Four Editorial Members

Elections of junior editorial and business men, girls' representatives and of faculty advisors to Froth were announced by the Executive Board of the College comic magazine last night.

The new group of editorial aspirants consists of Robert W. Haley '29, Albert F. Bell '30, Wayne C. Platt '30, and William T. Teas '30, while Adolph O. Frey '30, Jack I. Cole '30, Paul W. Brandt '30, William E. Gann '30, M. Alexander Spear '30, Russell A. Ziegler '30, and Donald C. Allen '30, comprise the business assistants.

Faculty Advisors: Registrar William S. Hoffman, Prof. Andrew W. Case of the art department and Prof. Sheldon C. Tanner of the economics department were the men chosen to serve as faculty advisors during the coming year.

Miss Evelyn Stum '29, and Miss Antonette Falcone '29, were chosen as the girls' representatives. The elections announced last night complete the staff of 1928-29, editorial and business executives having been selected in March.

STICKMEN TO MEET SWARTHMORE TEAM

Will Encounter Strong Garnet Machine on New Beaver Field Tomorrow

INVADERS RECORD WIN OVER STEVENS TWELVE

Encouraged by the outcome of Saturday's fray with Mount Washington, Captain Belfield and his lacrosse men hope to upset a plucky Swarthmore twelve on New Beaver field tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock. The invaders fell prey to formidable John Hopkins and Army combinations this season but the Garnet boasts a trio of wins, notably a hard-fought victory over the strong Stevens stickmen.

Give Hopkins Battle

COLLEGE RACQUET TEAM TO MEET CARNEGIE TECH

Opposes Powerful Pittsburgh Aggregation on College Courts Tomorrow

An unusually strong aggregation of tennis players from Carnegie Tech will come here tomorrow afternoon to meet the Nittany racketeers on the College courts as the first engagement of the Engineers' eastern trip.

The visiting team has several wins to its credit this season, included among which being decisive victories over a combination of alumni players and over the Washington and Jefferson courtmen. The Tech racketeers performed remarkably well in these encounters and it is expected that they will give the College tennis team a tough battle.

Coach Stover will probably use the same men tomorrow who played in the Washington and Lee engagement last week owing to the favorable showing of the College team in these matches. However, George W. Shuster '29, who has been performing creditably in practice sessions may enter the competition. The array that contested with W. and L. last week who will probably see action in tomorrow's matches are Captain Bari, Butler, Metzner, Hinkel and Wilson.

Committee Announces Final Lion Suit Sale

Suits will have a final opportunity to order Lion suits at Suit Brothers this evening from six-thirty to nine o'clock. No orders will be taken after this time.

STAFF DEDICATES 1929 LA VIE TO DR. HETZEL

Selects President as Recipient of Honor--Will Distribute Yearbook Next Week

The 1929 issue of La Vie will be dedicated to President Ralph D. Hetzel, according to an announcement by John W. Brandt '28, editor of the junior yearbook.

The book will leave the hands of the printer tomorrow, and will be sent directly to Philadelphia, where five days will be taken up by the process of binding. The book will be ready for distribution immediately after binding and it is expected the seventeen hundred and fifty ordered copies will arrive in State College within a week.

The class has entered the volume in an international year-book contest to be held in Leipzig, Germany, during July of this year. The 1927 La Vie was the winner of a similar contest held at Geneva, Switzerland.

Because of a failure on the part of the staff to obtain sufficient advertising matter to warrant insertion in the book, no advertisements will be contained in the coming issue. The editor states, however, that this fact will not affect the finances of the volume materially since advertising constitutes only one and one-half per cent of the total budget.

Copies of the La Vie will be on sale to the general public for a few days after being received, at five dollars apiece.

Architects Complete Power Plant Designs

The junior architectural engineers recently completed designs for a municipal power plant in the annual competition for the instructors' prize given by Prof. J. Burn Holme.

According to the judges, Professors Clinton L. Harris, Percy Ash, and Instructor Wendell P. Lawson, the solutions were found to be of a very high calibre. They were all such fine work that it was impossible to pick out the one winner, and as a result Thomas H. Dale '29, and W. Kenneth Good '29, were tied for first place. The prize, ten dollars' worth of architectural books will be divided between them. John W. Norton '29, Marlin B. Black '29 and Paul V. Rice '29, received last mentions.
