IN THE SPRING—
MOVE-UP DAY

Spring brings in our annual
Move-Up Day tomorrow, and we look forward to its coining with mixed emotions. We do not know how it may effect others, but we have managed one way or another to get through one Move-Up day a year for the past two years. And we have noticed this Every year that a Move-Up day has come it has brought with it a load of good and bad. It may not work that way with everyone, but certainly each year. Move-Up Day has brought us new dignity and privileges and at the same time a less-cning of our appreciation of the rewards we anticipated for so long lis a great thing, Move-up Day, a kind af atavistic throwback to a groping for advancement on its Mother's side and relic of the old days of intensive and extensive hazing on its Father's side, carrying the laddess and freedom of the one with the toils and sins of the other.

But it is the saddest day of the year too It recalls customs that shackled, times that are gone now, indiscreet memories, and rules that are never again to be broken.
