Notices

All golf clubs must be removed from the caddy house before Commencement Week, according to a request by Coach Robert B. Ruthenford, of the golf team.

President and Mrs. Ralph D. Hetzel's regular at home on Monday afternoon and evening will be discontinued after Commencement until September.

All members of the Blue Band should report to the front campus at three-thirty o'clock Sunday afternoon. This includes graduating seniors.

Batsmen Oppose Bison Tossers at Lewisburg

Clough's sacrifice fly to Simpson. The Lion's half of the inning found four markers chalked up in Penn State's score. Kent grounded out to open the frame. Dobbelaar connected for his second of three hits and Cy Langren doubled. Then Delp, Lesko, Jacobson, and Singly singled in quick succession scoring four runs and making the count seven to one in the Lion's favor.

Bisons Score Twice

Bucknell retaliated with vigor in the sixth inning, connecting for a quartet of safeties and scoring two runs. Jones singled after James struck out. Seiler singled out to Jacobson but Haldy, Hambacher and Quinn singled to lower Penn State's lead to four runs. Roepke tightened up in the seventh and moved down the opposing batsmen in one, two, three order.

Bucknell started a new batting attack in the eighth which culminated in Roepke's retirement from the mound in favor of Ken Haines. Seiler opened this frame with a clean single to left field and Haldy advanced him with another safe ball to the same place. Haines replaced Roepke and struck out Hambacher on three pitched balls. Seiler scored when Jacobson erred. Quinn's slow roller. Haines fanned Haldy for the second out and Clough ended the inning by grounding to Langren who completed the play at first unassisted.

Coach Bezelak's sluggers counted a run in their half of the eighth. Dobbelaar reached first on an error by Hambacher and went to second on a wild pitch. He scored a minute later on a passed ball. Delp singled in the same inning but Al Lesko ended the frame by lining out to deep center.

Bisons Threaten

Two successive errors by the Lion infield placed Haines in a hole at the start of the ninth. McCormick reached first on Jacobson's miscue and Kent continued the slovenly play by muffing James' grounder. Jones and Seiler smashed out safe hits to score McCormick and James. This ended Haines' stay on the mound. Restelli, pinch-hitting for Haldy, was the first man to face Van Atta, Haines' successor. The former sacrificed, advancing Jones and Seiler to third and second respectively. Penn State's portly southpaw then arose to the occasion and ended his New Ben-ver field record in a blaze of glory. He fanned Hambacher on three pitched balls and then struck out Quinn, Bucknell's captain, and grid star who scored the winning touchdown against the Lions last fall with a sixty-yard run.

INDUSTRIALISTS PLAN AID FOR COLLEGE GRADUATES

Plans for closer alignment between graduating technical students and industries are being made by a committee under the direction of the Industrial conference recently held at Penn State.

As presented by the committee, the employing concern will furnish full information to the prospective graduate regarding working conditions, opportunities in the business and probable rate of advancement. Other points, recommended for industries to observe, included selection of the number of men to be employed, prompt action on applications and agreement not to employ a student known to have entered into contract with another company unless consent of the other has been obtained.

The College will also play a part in the placement of its graduates, according to the committee's report. It will supply unbiased information and advice regarding the various opportunities.

FORMER LION WRESTLER ENTERS OLYMPIC TRIALS

Sam Rumbaugh '26, former Nittany wrestler, is a serious contender for the Olympic mat team. Representing the New York athletic club in the 17-pound division, Sam will compete in the final eliminations at Grand Rapids, Michigan, July third, fourth and fifth.

In the preliminaries, Rumbaugh won his bouts by quick falls and he is favored to win a post on Uncle Sam's mat team for the international competition. The winning finalists are scheduled to sail for Amsterdam July eleven.

"Y" PLANS NEXT YEAR'S ENTERTAINMENT COURSE

Includes Sprague Players, Bridge Authority, Noted Violinist In Tentative List

Definite selections of The Mar-Meins, a trio of artists now playing the leading cities of the United States, and a list of possible entertainers equally as prominent, comprises the first unofficial announcement of numbers for the annual "Y" Entertainment Course to be presented during next year.

The Mar-Mein sisters, Miriam, Irene and Phyllis will render pantomimes and drama dances in their first appearance at Penn State. The Sprague Players, who produced "Lightnin'" here last fall, may open the course with a presentation of "Rip Van Winkle." This is to be followed with a lecture on bridge, probably by Milton C. Work, national authority. A concert by Sadah Shuchan, noted violinist, in a joint recital with Joanne de Nault, contralto, is another possible attraction.

troupe is holding intensive rehearsals in order to perfect the show. During the greater part of the play the scene is laid on the grounds of a business man's country home on a secluded island. This island is the dwelling place of wandering geni who have cast a spell over it which requires that everyone dwelling on the island speak the truth, unless protected by a charm.

The hen-pecked husband, played by Jackson Wheatley '28, is the only one who possesses such a charm. Its loss by him causes him considerable anxiety and gives the foreful wife, characterized by Robert V. Cresswell '28, an insight into the secret life of her husband. Donald Von Noida '29, and Milton C. Young '30, impersonate girls.

Saturday night's production of "Honestly Yours" will mark the final appearance of eight senior members of the club before a College audience. They are George W. Shuster and Ralph Kennedy, premier dancers of the organization, Robert V. Cresswell, Eben M. Peck, Jackson Wheatley, Herman C. Stauffer, Frederick J. Close and William W. McClements Blindfolded... in scientific test of leading Cigarettes, Princess Paul Chavchavadze selects OLD GOLD "I was much intrigued by the invitation to make a blindfold test of your leading brands of American cigarettes, to see how they compared with each other and with those I had smoked abroad. Could one really taste the difference? I wondered. "But when I was handed these cigarettes, one by one, I realized at once that there was a difference and that the test was conclusive. One cigarette was so much more appealing, so much more delicate in flavor. Oh, and so much smoother! "When the test was over and I was told that the cigarette of my choice was OLD GOLD I understood at once why this cigarette is so popular among my American friends." Nina Chavchavadze PRINCESS PAUL CHAVCHAVADZE, Sister of Mrs. Wm. B. Leeds How Test Was Made Subject was blindfolded, and, in the presence of two responsible witnesses, was given one each of the four leading cigarettes to smoke. To clear the taste, coffee was served before each cigarette. The Princess was entirely unaware of the identity of these cigarettes during test. After smoking the four cigarettes, the Princess was asked to designate by number her choice. Without hesitation she replied, "No. 3"... which was OLD GOLD.
