The great grand-daddy
of your Fish
Brand Slicker

It was made in 1836—a husky piece of oiled cloth built to fit the broad back of a Grand Banks fisherman.

The modern descendants of these old-time slickers are college bred, sophisticated. But under their stylish exterior is the old, dependable stuff.

The "Varsity" model is big and roomy, keeps your legs dry right down to the ankles. Your choice of colors and styles—buttens or buckles—strap collar or plain.
