mann's representation, leaving loose for long end runs.

Lohi, although not showing his usual ability, distinguished himself as a quarterback and in returning punts. Thomas who replaced Lohi in the third quarter, was handicapped because of an injured shoulder and was withdrawn early in the fourth period. Lohi again assuming signal duties.

On several occasions Hamilton and Gillard, Lion tackles, prevented any dangerous gains through their posts by downing the runner at the line.

Three Triumphant Yankees
conduct the Blindfold test ... and MILLER HUGGINS picks OLD GOLD

The Babe and Lou here will tell you that there is only one way to choose a pitcher ... and that's to send him into the box and let him twirl a few innings.

So the best way to choose a cigarette is to put them all through their paces in the blindfold test.

In the test I have just made, Old Gold played right into my mitt. Its zippy flavor and mellow smoothness couldn't be touched by the other three brands.

BABE RUTH
(witness to the test)

In the dressing room at Navin Field in Detroit, Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig gave the blindfold cigarette test to Manager Miller Huggins. The famous Yankee pilot was asked to smoke each of the four leading brands, clearing his taste with coffee between smokes. Only one question was asked, "which one do you like best?"

What Shakespeare says about Coca-Cola

ANTONY AND CLEOPATRA
Act II, Scene 2

"Age cannot wither her, nor custom stale her infinite variety"

What Shakespeare wrote of Cleopatra finds echo in the thoughts of millions who recognize the perennial youth of the Coca-Cola girl—the fair one you see everywhere so temptingly suggesting that you "refresh yourself."
