Inventor Comes Here To Perfect New Idea

(Continued from first page) a. many cylinders of the same size and speed, will cost only half as much and weigh less than the four-cycle engines developing the same power. Mr. Shamel graduated from the University of Illinois with the degree of Bachelor of Science in chemistry. Afterward he received his degree of Master of Science at the same institution. Later he studied law at the University of Michigan and practiced that profession for many years. He never lost his interest in science and his inventions appealed to him, he entered the United States Patent office as an examiner. "I found this work very interesting," he asserted, "but wishing to develop some of my own inventions I resigned and took up a patent law practice. Two of my inventions," Mr. Shamel continued, "are in the line of my profession, one being a method of securing verbatim reports of evidence in court and public speeches without using shorthand, and the other is a typewriter by which mistakes can be corrected without the clogging nuisance."

Campus Policeman Lauds Students for Behavior During Houseparty Week-End

"Student behavior over Houseparty week-end this fall has been better than ever before," declared Andy Zaiger as he leaned back contentedly in his chair in the Campus Police stronghold on the fourth floor of Old Main yesterday afternoon. "In fact, I don't see how it could have been improved. Of course there were a few little things—that was to be expected—but as far as general conduct goes I could not have been pleased more." The ever-watchful campus police head believes that each year the function known as Houseparty improves. For instance, he affirmed that the last event was a considerable improvement over last June Houseparty, while the latter was better than the preceding one. General Conduct Improves "Moreover," he continued, "it was not only the behavior during this past week-end that showed improvement, but the conduct during other events as well. Now you take Alumni Homecoming. Formerly, that week-end was one grand up-ron and week-end

The idea now present in the inventor's mind is the perfection of his two-cycle engine, although he declared, "If all these fail I will cancel out the four-cycle invention idea from my life plan, and get what enjoyment I can, taking it easy the rest of the 'afternoon' in the sunlight on the front porch watching other travelers on life's crowded highway. If these travelers ride in autos with other engines than mine, I will at least have the satisfaction of knowing that the children of my brain had their chance to make good."

Seniors Capture Class Cross Country Honors

(Continued from first page) his own for second place and struggled valiantly to prevent Offenhausen from gaining the lead, only to be passed by George in the last 100 feet. Offenhausen claimed second place for the seniors with a time of 14 minutes, 21 seconds while Ratcliffe made a good start for the juniors by finishing one second later.

Burton Wins Fifth Place Boys tallied fourth for the seniors in 14 minutes, 38 seconds. He was followed 10 seconds later by Burton, a promising freshman hurdler, whom Coach Cartmell expects will develop into a mainstay of the team in future years.

Sixth place was registered by Honm, sophomore, in 15 minutes, 15 seconds. Glassburn, another highly promising yearling hurdler, and Reiter, sophomore, battled to the last inch for seventh place. The latter lead by only a foot at the tape.

Conroe in ninth and Lee in thirteenth place completed the scoring for the seniors. Lee, who placed seventh in the intercollegiate meet at Van Courthland Park, New York City, last year, was running his first race since early in the season. He has been incapacitated by a leg injury.

PLAYOGRAPH TO GIVE LAFAYETTE CONTEST

Telegraphic returns of the Penn State-Lafayette game at Easton will be announced in Schwab auditorium at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Fotesman, Beck, and Harvey, reporting tenth, eleventh, and twelfth, respectively were the remaining scorers for the plebes.

Varsity Men Out

Chick Meisinger, a sophomore, and one of the most consistent runners on Coach Cartmell's squad, has recovered from injuries sustained a few weeks ago. He started the class tournament but was forced to retire when he lost a shoe. Dick Detwiler, freshman intercollegiate champion last year, is still limping as the result of injuries to leg muscles last week. Hamon, one of the leading freshmen, was also forced to quit when he lost a shoe.

Coach Cartmell is now training his squad of hurriers in preparation for the intercollegiate contest at Van Courthland Park on Monday, November 26.

Dr. Ries Will Speak at Maryland University

Dr. Emil D. Ries, a member of the College Chemistry faculty, announced today that he had accepted an invitation to deliver an address on industrial chemistry at that institution. Dr. Ries will speak Monday on the subject of "Lubricants and Lubrication."

Leading experts in the field of industrial chemistry will be present at the Maryland institution for this service. Among those who have lectured previously are Dr. H. E. Howe, editor of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry, A. C. Fieldner, fuel expert of the United States Bureau of Mines, and Dr. W. D. Collins, United States Geological Survey, Washington, D. C. Dr. Howe was one of the speakers at the Institute of Chemistry of the American Chemical Society at its first annual meeting here a year ago.

Plebe Eleven To Face Pittsburgh Tomorrow

(Continued from first page) exceptionally well in previous games and are expected to do great damage to the Nittany plays. Big Jim McMurdo, former Elwood City star, is the mainstay of the Panther line. At the right tackle post he has been outstanding in every contest his year and usually paves the way to victory by his smashing offensive and defensive tactics. Yentch and Bonetz will take up their duties at the guard posts. The four luminaries of the Smoky City backfield have run wild in every encounter except that with the Washington and Jefferson plebes. Doc Daugherty at quarterback and Clark at the fullback post have proved to be decided factors in all of the Panther victories. These two lads are the fleetfooted products of Kiskadee and are being considered by Coach Jock Sutherland for next year's varsity material. Daugherty is a binary signal caller and Clark is the fastest back on the plebe squad. McDowell

Delegates To Attend Journalist Convention

With the expectation of getting the convention here next year, delegates from the Penn State chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalistic fraternity, will attend the national convocation in Atlanta, Ga., December 6, 7, and 8. The meeting will be attended by representatives of the 19 chapters of the organization.

William S. Turner '29, president of the local chapter, will head the group which will probably consist of 6 or 7 delegates. The convention, if held here, will take place in the Spring of 1930, with the co-operation of the Bucknell University chapter.

Improved Lion Gridmen Oppose Maroon Eleven

(Continued from first page) erican honors and it rated by football critics as the best guard in the East. In addition to his excellent line play, Thompson is one of the most consistent placement kickers in collegiate gridiron. His 2 field goals and point after touchdown were the chief factors in Lafayette's deadlock with Washington and Jefferson.

In the backfield the Maroons will have Wolbert at quarterback, Morrison and Rambo at the halves with Parcell at fullback. Captain Tuffy Guest, star fullback, sustained a spine injury in the Washington and Jefferson engagement and will not see action against Penn State. Wilson, Chiment, Shellenburger, Lesening and Sheroff are substitute backs who may oppose the Nittany Lions.

Against this imposing array of gridmen, Coach Bezdek will put his improved Nittany Lions. Scrimmages during the week produced some fine play, especially by the second team. The Lion strategists experimented with several backfield combinations and has not decided upon the one he will start against Lafayette.

Lion Regulars Start

Coach Dutch Heimann will start the same men in tomorrow's encounter that engaged the game against Lafayette. The backfield combination that worked so effectively against the Maroon gridmen will have an adequate chance to prove their worth before the Panthering stone wall defense. Latsch will take up his duties at fullback with Snyder barking signals. Smith and Laatu will pair off at the halfback posts.

Tomb and Turner will work from the extremities of the line while McMillan and Hamilton will fill in the tackle berths. Hamilton has been kept from scrimmage because of a knee injury but will be in shape by tomorrow. Chuck Gillard and Frank Yablonski will occupy their regular guard positions with Roy Engel at center. If this line plays as it did against Lafayette the Pitt backs will have trouble in making first downs through scrimmage.

A short scrimmage Wednesday supplemented by signal drill and the addition of one or two plays yesterday constituted Coach Heimann's program of preparation for the hardest and most significant game of the season. This afternoon the yearlings will be given an hour of signal drill and then permitted to rest until game time.

McCracken Flashes

Johnny McCracken, brother of the Maroon coach, was especially brilliant during the past few scrimmage sessions. Eager to oppose his brother's eleven, Johnny flashed some fine broken field running against the first team and on several occasions contributed gains averaging from 15 to 35 yards. In addition, his fine defensive work was instrumental in checking the advances of the first team's backs. During the week Bez made several changes in the makeup of the backfield and line. Panaccione and Martin were demoted to the second eleven, Ricker and Curtis replacing them. However, Ricker received a face in-

Mr. McMurray Waxes Poetic over Tobacco

Carrollton, Texas May 15, 1928. Larus & Bro. Co., Richmond, Va. Gentlemen. Having been a user of Edgeworth for over eight years, I can truthfully say that it is the best on earth. I am enclosing a little ditty that I believe expresses my sentiments entirely: Old Man Joy and Old Man Trouble Went out for a walk one day. I happened to pass when they met on the street and I overheard them say, Said Old Man Trouble, "She's as wrong as sin can be, There ain't no fun in anything to me, why I was just talking' to Old Man Sorrow, And he says the world will end tomorrow." Then Old Man Joy he started to grin, And I saw him bring out that OLD BLUE TIN, Then OLD JOHNNY BRIAR was next on the scene, And he packed him full from the OLD BLUE TIN, And I heard him say as he walked away, "You have to have a smoke screen every day, When a man gets the blues, and he needs a friend, He can find consolation in the OLD BLUE TIN, And I just don't believe on all this earth There's a thing that'll match good old EDGEWORTH." Yours very truly, F. H. McMurray

Mould the man first, then the metal

CARNEGIE developed the steel industry by first developing his men. The Bell System is growing faster than ever before in its history and this growth, like the steel growth, is based on the development of men. Today, in the telephone industry, men in supervisory positions must coordinate many and varied factors. For example, before locating a new central office, population trends are studied. While it is being built, telephone apparatus is planned, made, delivered and installed on orderly schedule. But more basic than all this, the executive shows leadership by his insight into the human equation and by the sympathy and understanding with which he adapts individual to job, moulding his men first.
