

Penn State Courtmen Oppose W. Maryland

his men for a stiff battle. Several veterans will be included in the lineup of the Southern passers. Olear will probably start the game at center with Sullivan and Smith at forwards and Van Buren and Comstock at guards.

Cocher Heermann is undecided as to the men whom he will start in the Maryland encounter. He will probably call for the services of the same team that saw action against Gettysburg. Captain Lou Reilly will assume the center position with either Jacobson or Mazess at right forward and Hamps or Krumme at left forward. Stan Stables and Joe Wilson will no doubt take up their duties at the defensive posts.

In a contest marked by ragged playing and wild shooting on the part of both teams Penn State's courtmen were able to eke out a 17 to 21 victory from Coach Hen Beem's Battlefield boys, as the first athletic contest in the Recreation Hall.

The Nittany passers led 9 to 4 at the close of the first quarter. Lou Reilly started scoring activities by making good a penalty toss, followed closely by Bernie Jacobson and Joe Wilson who each scored a foul goal. The score at the end of the second period was Penn State 15, Gettysburg 14.

Gettysburg Takes Lead
Iloke, Gettysburg center, placed the visitors in the lead for the first time during the contest by tossing two foul goals.

The Beem-coached quintet retained its small lead until early in the fourth period when Krumme and Mazess, who were substituted, accounted for one field goal each, placing the count at 21 to 22. Angelinos tied the score once more with a short shot from beneath the net. Two field goals by both Stables and Iloke made it tally 29 to 30 in favor of Gettysburg with three minutes to go. Hamps added one more point for the Bulletts but Browne sent the game into a 11-11 deadlock with two penalty tosses as the fourth period ended.

At the beginning of the extra 5-minute period Gulian caged a free throw which was followed almost immediately with a double-decker by Angelinos.

may give Gettysburg a 2-point advantage. With two minutes of playing time remaining Jack Mazess sent the leather sphere through the cords three times to clinch the contest for the Lions. The Bullet five was unable to tally another point and the game ended with the score 37 to 31.

Coaches Elect Bezdek Association President

ment had been voiced by the members of the association. The rule regarding a point for every first down, recommended by Bezdek two years ago, was retracted by the Nittany football.

Names Committee Chairman
As newly elected president, Bezdek appointed chairman of various committees. These are Roelke, football rules committee; Young, Pennsylvania programs; Mehan, New York university, entertainment; Thistlewaite, Wisconsin, general football rules; Fanson, Tufts, ethics; McGugin, Vanderbilt, stabilizing committee; Little, Georgetown, membership; and Roper, Princeton, honorary membership.

When asked his opinion of the new rule adopted by the coaches concerning fumbles, Bezdek quickly replied: "I think it is an excellent rule. It gives the offense a little more freedom in taking chances. According to this ruling, the defense will be at a slight disadvantage with the result that greater aggressiveness will be developed in football. And we know aggressiveness always means progress."

may be forced to relinquish the middleweight post, and display his fists in the 175-pound class. Marty McAndrews is willing to step into any of the three heavier divisions.

Stan Kolakowski, who made a bid for the 135-pound title last year, is working feverishly in an effort to qualify for the 125-pound division. Kol's lone ambition is to occupy the throne this, his last year in intercollegiate competition.

To supplant Koly in the lightweight class, Coach Houck has a number of likely looking candidates. Cason, the most promising contender, is rugged and he hits hard. The 115-pound division should be another merry battle, with Wilford, veteran of two seasons, Cardom, fast, clever puncher, and Jan Boyle, of last year's freshman team, setting the pace.
