Artists Join With Actors in Annual Beaux Arts Ball

Reaching far beyond the realms of the ordinary, artists, forsaking their barren fastnesses of Engineering D, will unite with Theatians, emerging from their Auditorium retreat, in Penn State's exclusive and highly colored social function, at the Beaux Arts Ball in the Armory March 1.

Conventionality will be cast to the four winds as revelous discard the customary "tux" to appear as mannequins, thieves, pirates, ghosts and ludicrousities of all descriptions at the unrestrained gambols of Penn State's artistic elite.

Realism, indicative of modern artistic tendencies, will be portrayed by palettes, paint daubed and with the artist's brush thrust through their surfaces, which will be employed as dance programs. Even the invitations will be hand painted and decorated so as to make each a lasting memento of the occasion.

FORENSIC TRIO TO MEET MARQUETTE TOMORROW

As the first extension debate of the year, the Penn State forensic team will meet Marquette university debaters at Williamsport court house tomorrow night.

The debate is sponsored by the Williamsport Y. M. C. A. public speaking class taught by Prof. John H. Fritzel. Discussion will be on the subject of the American jury system.

Lion Grapplers Down Cornell Matmen, 15-12

Campbell Gains Fall Campbell continued his match toward an intercollegiate crown by throwing Abkarian in 4:09, using a half nelson and crotch hold. Going to the mats soon after, the opening going Campbell at once secured an advantage and continued working until he had won a fall.

Cranney and Johnson gave an exhibition of wrestling in which strength proved the deciding factor. The latter, an ex-football man, had a good record last year and remains unbeaten this season.

It seemed inevitable but that a fall would result for an intercollegiate champion was meeting a sophomore who weighed only slightly over 175 pounds. Realizing the need to keep Captain Stafford from securing a fall, Penice fought with all his power.

Despite the varied attempts the Cornell wrestler made, he was unable to turn the determined Penn State unlimited representative on his back. At the Penn-Cornell meet last week Stafford proved his real ability.

Penn State is represented by an unusually high scoring team this year. Including the Cornell score the Lion wrestlers have scored a total of 102 points as against 18 by their opponents.

Members of the Penn State Alumni association at Ithaca feted members of the wrestling squad, Coach Spedel and managers at a dinner Friday night, after their arrival there.

pretty shot from beneath the basket and Fredericks supplanted Katz at right guard for Syracuse. After Reilly followed-up a teammate's toss the Orangemen asked for their second time out, with seven minutes of the half remaining.

Penn State Leads at Half Steve Hamas dribbled under the basket for an additional two-count and Hayman caged a foul, placing Penn State's lead at thirteen points.

Harwood sent the sphere sailing through the mesh from the side court but Reilly made the count 21 to 9 with a penalty toss. Ken Beagle caged a long shot just before the half ended with score: Penn State, 21; Syracuse, 11.

At the outset of the second session Lou Reilly scored on a pass from Mazess while Katz retaliated with a pretty one-handed shot under the hoop.

Hayman tossed two fouls and Stahley caged a long shot. Jack Meyers replaced Mazess at left forward after Reilly had made good a penalty throw.

Harwood and Beagle tallied in rapid succession making the score 26 to 19. Stahley placed another follow shot in the net and Captain Shaw supplanted Harwood at center when the latter had committed four personal fouls.

Reilly and Stahley tossed a foul each and Reinhold caged a short throw before the Orangemen could make a comeback. Koch took Stahley's place at left guard after Beagle and Hayman had tossed one free throw each.

Reilly made good a penalty toss as Leyda reported for Meyers at forward. Fredericks tossed a foul out at Koch retaliated with a clever shot.

under the basket for Penn State's last score of the contest.

Shaw got loose for two points after a long dribble, making the count 35 to 24. With three minutes of play remaining Ken Beagle cut under the net for the final tally of the game.

One way to trap a beaver

Not everybody in the Hudson's Bay Company was a trapper, any more than everybody in the Bell System is a telephone engineer.

The Hudson's Bay people trapped a good many beavers in the company offices, where the skillful financing and careful business management served to back up the men actually on the front lines. Organized activity succeeded then just as it does today. The men who put up telephone lines can work the better because back of them are other men who painstakingly design and make their equipment, and still other men who correlate all these activities into a smoothly meshing plan.
