

Henn State Collegian

Will State's Son's Mat CROWN

VOL. 25, No. 43

STATE COLLEGE, PA., FRIDAY, MARCH 15, 1920

PRICE FIVE CENTS

Council Committee Favors Change to Senior 'La Vie'

College Governing Body To Consider Plan On Tuesday

PRESENT STAFF VOICES APPROVAL OF PROJECT

Fourth Year Publication Would Contain Complete Record Of Undergraduates

Endorsing the change from a junior to a senior La Vie, the committee appointed by Student Council to report on the status of the yearbook voted, at its meeting Wednesday night, to submit recommendations for a senior annual. Student Council will consider and vote upon the report Tuesday night.

Unanimous approval of the project was voiced by members of the 1930 La Vie staff, as well as the members of the committee. A set of recommendations discussing the problems relating to the change and the reasons for their decision will accompany the report of the committee.

Record of Entire Four Years One of the important factors influencing the decision of the committee was the fact that a senior yearbook will give a record of the entire four undergraduate years. Under the present system the record includes only about two and one-half years. Fees would also be lessened by the publication of a senior book, as only one copy would be bought. With the junior annual it is necessary to procure two copies in order to secure a complete record.

A senior yearbook would be smaller as it would not contain the records of both the senior and junior classes. This would aid in reducing the costs of publishing the record, both from the business side and the printing side.

No Change in Elections Contrary to the general impression, the committee recommends that the elections be held at the same time. This would mean that as at present elections for the staff of the annual would be held at the end of the sophomore year.

This plan would give the editorial and art staffs two years in which to prepare their material. Under such conditions the committee believes that a better annual could be produced with less strain upon the members of the two staffs.

Work on a junior annual piles up on the staff members to the detriment of their scholastic standing, according to the board. Members of the present and last year's staffs are of the opinion that a fourth year La Vie would do away with this disadvantage.

Plan To Issue Booklet In order to keep intact the record of the class the committee proposes to publish a supplementary record book for the year 1920-21. This proposal would keep the history of the College recorded in the La Vie as one volume.

This booklet would be similar in content to the present La Vie, and would do away with one of the objections to the change from a junior to a senior yearbook. The committee in its report recommends that the present La Vie board be retained as editors of the special booklet.

When the question of the change was brought up earlier in the year, F. Bruce Baldwin, editor-in-chief of this year's annual, and Henry R. Paulhamus, business manager, opposed the move. Their objections have now been removed and they are in favor of the change.

At that time they stated that a considerable loss would be entailed by any change, as contracts had already been signed with publishers for the volume. In addition, a great deal of money had been spent for the early preparations on the book.

When the question of the change was brought up earlier in the year, F. Bruce Baldwin, editor-in-chief of this year's annual, and Henry R. Paulhamus, business manager, opposed the move. Their objections have now been removed and they are in favor of the change.

At that time they stated that a considerable loss would be entailed by any change, as contracts had already been signed with publishers for the volume. In addition, a great deal of money had been spent for the early preparations on the book.

Favors La Vie Change

F. BRUCE BALDWIN '30 Editor-in-Chief of 1930 La Vie, who indorses innovation of senior annual

BATSMEN DRILL AS FIRST TILT LOOMS

Lion Coach Grooms Squad for Southern Games During Easter Vacation

NITTANY NINE TO MEET NAVY TEAM MARCH 27

With the opening game less than two weeks away, baseball candidates are entering the final stages of their training period. The Nittany nine will swing into action against Navy March 27 as the first contest of the annual Southern trip.

Sixteen men will be taken on the tour. Coach Bezek plans to carry seven pitchers, two catchers, four infielders, and three outfielders. With the exception of last year's regulars, the squad will remain untried until the days immediately preceding the date of departure, Tuesday, March 25.

The Lions will encounter the Middlemex at Annapolis, Georgetown at Washington March 28, Duke at Durham, N. C. March 29, 30, and April 1, and will wind up the trip against North Carolina at Chapel Hill April 2. As the first home game the batsmen will meet St. Vincent April 13.

Line-up Indefinite The line-up for the season's opener will remain in doubt until game time. Alie Wolf at the hot corner and Bill Dobbelaar on second are the only regular infielders remaining from last year's varsity. Captain George Delp, left fielder last season, may be shifted to first base to replace Cy Lundgren, lost through graduation. Gene Singley, last year's center-fielder and lead-off man, is the other veteran.

Battery Positions Battery positions remain as the biggest problem. All of last year's hurling corps, Van Atta, Haines and Roepke, together with the regular catchers, Lesko and Harrington, have been graduated. Bez is concentrating his efforts on developing men to fill the gap. Saltzman and Parana are displaying promise as backstops, while Frye, Lockart, Campbell, Lenke, Pinkerton, Newburn, Elliot and Kepler are showing pitching form in the indoor workouts.

DIVERSIFIED GROUPS ESTIMATE WEIGHT OF HUGE EASTER EGG

Thoughtful, calculating persons, as well as people carefree and with blank minds are mingling before the display window of a local confectionery in an effort to surmise the weight of an oval-sized, elaborately decorated chocolate Easter egg on exhibition. The fortunate individual to guess nearest the correct poundage will be given the egg free.

One prominent gentleman of the engineering faculty stood before the window yesterday searching his head. "By George!" he exclaimed, "if it is a solid object, it will be no task at all to calculate its weight by the judicious use of the slide rule."

To the learned professor's chagrin, he was informed that the egg was not solid but that everything contained in it is a treat for the sweet tooth. Depending upon a random chance, the grave instructor gave his surmise to the clerk and, mumbling to himself, he walked out.

Two freshmen became rather heated in an argument concerning the tempting morsel and going into the build-

CANDIDATES REPORT FOR DAILY LACROSSE DRILLS

Scheduled to meet the first Army athletic team to visit the Penn State campus, Coach Ernie Paul's lacrosse men are working out daily on a temporary practice field on the golf course.

At the first gathering of candidates on Tuesday sixty men reported. Since then the total has increased, and Coach Paul expects to have more than twice this number of aspirants. Dartmouth will meet the Lion stickmen here on April 24 in the first encounter of the season. Attempts are being made to supplement the schedule with a game April 17.

ORCHESTRA PLANS SPECIAL CONCERT

College Organization To Offer Recital at 3:30 O'clock Sunday Afternoon

PROGRAM OPENS WITH CLASSICAL SELECTION

Making its first local appearance of the year, the College orchestra directed by Wilfred O. Thompson, former band master of the United States Army, will present the third of the series of mid-winter concerts sponsored by the music department at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in Schwab auditorium.

The program will open with the playing of two numbers, "Fete Arabe" from the "Suite Orientale No. 1," by Berge, and the overture "Peter Schmolli," composed by von Weber.

Special Numbers A romance for the violinello, "Evening," will then be offered by Walter U. Garstka '29. Gungel's concert waltz, "Dream on the Ocean," played by the entire group, will be followed by a trumpet solo, "A Tear, A Kiss, A Smile," by Motzan, presented by Walter J. Culp '30.

A paraphrase on "Waltzer's Prize Song" by Wagner will follow and the entertainment will be concluded with the playing of Manney's grand march, "The Three Republics." The last arrangement includes excerpts from patriotic songs of France, Russia, and the United States.

The program will be broadcast by the College radio station, WFSO. Numerous letters praising the programs have been received from persons who have listened to the two previous concerts.

I. F. WRESTLING TEAMS ENTER SECOND ROUND

Five teams entered the second round of the interfraternity wrestling tournament when they emerged victorious from the preliminary matches held in the Recreation Hall Monday and Tuesday nights.

Those teams entering the second round are: Tau Phi Delta, who defeated Beta Kappa, 21 to 6; Alpha Gamma Rho, conqueror of Phi Sigma Kappa, 18 to 12; Sigma Phi Epsilon, victorious over Alpha Chi Sigma, 12 to 9; Phi Kappa Sigma, who trounced Lambda Chi Alpha, 24 to 6; and Theta Nu Epsilon.

The second round will be held in the Recreation Hall at 6:30 o'clock tonight, and the winners will lose to determine the opponent for Sigma Phi Epsilon, who drew a bye. This match and the remaining one will be held next week to determine the champions.

When asked why they had made such a surmise the spokesman blurted out that he had been "hooked" once in a contest run on similar lines in Pittsburgh. In that case it seems that the egg weighed less than the proprietors had expected and as a result a near riot had resulted. The local proprietor assured the skeptics that such an accident could not befall them as the weight of the ingredients was such as to give a weight over twenty pounds.

Suspense will be removed from the mind of interested individuals Saturday night, March 23, when the choice weight will be publicly weighed. It will be left on the scales for forty-eight hours after the weighing to prove the fairness of the contest.

LION BOXERS FACE RUGGED SYRACUSE TEAM TOMORROW

Match Fistic Wares With Orange Leather Pushers in Alien Ring at 3 O'clock

STEVE HAMAS TO MAKE DEBUT AS HEAVYWEIGHT

Captain Wolf Will Fight in Last Dual Meet—Featherweight Puncher Uncertain

Thrice victorious over Syracuse boxers by a 6 to 1 count, Coach Leo Houck's title aspirants hope to duplicate the one-sided score against their rugged Orange rivals in the Archbold gymnasium ring at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The Hillmen registered their lone triumph this season over Pennsylvania 4-to-3, while M. I. T. and Dartmouth turned the tables on the Orangemen by the same score. Navy routed the New Yorkers, 7 to 0, in their dual meet last Saturday.

With the return to the team of Steve Hamas, former heavyweight champion, Coach Houck expects to make a clean sweep in tomorrow's bouts with the possible exception of the featherweight and lightweight matches. It is uncertain whether Stan Kolakoski or Hal Thies will oppose Hill, experienced puncher, in the 125-pound class, while Boni Casanova's return to early season form has been slow. The hard-hitting lightweight will trade punches with Glassey, Syracuse's leading performer.

Interesting Bout's The outcome of the welterweight and light-heavyweight encounters will be watched closely since the rival punchers are slated to meet again next Friday in the preliminary round of the intercollegiate matches. In the welterweight setto Jack Davis will match his sister's "kicker" with Doonan, a newcomer to Syracuse boxing ranks. Marty McAndrews will display his talent in the light-heavyweight division against Graboske, undefeated in dual meets until Saturday when Swan, conqueror of Bill Struble in the Navy meet, outpunched him in four rounds of fierce maling. In the 175-pounder easily defeated his other foes this season.

When asked why they had made such a surmise the spokesman blurted out that he had been "hooked" once in a contest run on similar lines in Pittsburgh. In that case it seems that the egg weighed less than the proprietors had expected and as a result a near riot had resulted. The local proprietor assured the skeptics that such an accident could not befall them as the weight of the ingredients was such as to give a weight over twenty pounds.

DR. RUSSEL TO SPEAK ON 'RACING THE WIND'

Prominent Lecturer, Minister Will Address Chapelgoers At Sunday Service

D. Elbert Russell, prominent lecturer, educator, and minister, will address the chapel audience in Schwab auditorium Sunday morning on the subject "Racing the Wind." Since 1926 Doctor Russell has been serving as professor of Biblical interpretation at Duke university, South Carolina. He was a member of the commission sent during the past winter to Central America by the society of Friends in order to promote a better understanding between people of these two territories.

The doctor is a graduate of Earlham college, Richmond, Ind., and the University of Chicago. For twenty years he was a professor at Earlham college, in addition to filling the position of college pastor. Doctor Russell was for several years director of the Woolman School, Swarthmore. He has taught at Johns Hopkins university and served as special lecturer for the American Friends Service commission in Germany and Austria.

Who's Dancing

Friday Sophomore Girls (closed) at Phi Kappa Sigma Saturday Tau Phi Delta (closed) Friends Union Sigma Phi Epsilon

AFRICAN REGISTERS FOR CORRESPONDENCE WORK

Another student from Africa has entered at the College, Prof. Thomas I. Mairs, in charge of correspondence courses in Agriculture, announced yesterday. F. W. O'Krafe, a prominent farmer and contractor of Sierra Leone, West Africa, has enrolled in several agricultural correspondence courses.

Among the subjects which he is studying are grain crops, principles of feeding, fertilizers, and forage crops. Professor Mairs also declared that enrollment in these courses has increased more than ten percent since last year.

NITTANY DEBATERS FACE KANSAS TRIO

Will Oppose Western Forensic Team Tomorrow Night in Schwab Auditorium

VISITORS FAVOR PRESENT TRIAL BY JURY SYSTEM

The University of Kansas forensic team on an Eastern tour will debate with the Penn State trio in Schwab auditorium at 8 o'clock tomorrow night on the jury question.

Prof. Jacob Tanager of the political science department will act as chairman of the debate. The question for discussion will be "Resolved That Trial by Jury Should be Abolished" with the Nittany orators opposing the proposition. Decision of the debate will be based upon the vote of the audience. Following the debate, an open forum will be held in which any questions may be asked by members of the audience.

Selects Team Members Assistant coach Joseph F. O'Brien last night announced the selection of the team to face the Western outsiders Robert W. Haley '29, Kenneth Hood '30, and L. Neil Keller '31, comprise the negative speakers. All of these men have debated before, having composed the trio that defeated Marquette university at Williamsport recently. At that time they used the same subject.

Haley has been a member of the team in four other meets this year, speaking against both the Oxford and Canadian trios. Keller participated in three former sessions, including the all-Canadian debate. Hood debated against University of Pittsburgh and Marquette university.

The three speakers from the Sunflower State are all experienced on (Continued on third page)

SPORT HEADS RECOGNIZE INTERCLASS SWORSMEN

Fencing will hereafter be recognized as an interclass sport, according to an announcement from Robert McConaughey '30, student coach of the fencing team. This decision was reached during his conference with Hugo Bezdek, Director of Athletics, and Neil M. Fleming, Graduate Manager of Athletics. There will be two numerical awards to each class.

The Interclass Sports Council is making earnest efforts to place fencing at the College on an equal basis with that of other institutions. At present the Council is corresponding with Lehigh and other universities in regard to future intercollegiate fencing meets.

RELICS IN OLD MAIN CELLARS TELL OF PENN STATE GROWTH

The cellars of Old Main, a storehouse of memories, and an integral part of the building when it represented the entire structure of Penn State, will soon be destroyed as the old landmark undergoes reconstruction. A sloping passage in the light wing provides access to the basement. Through this aperture in the foundation a horse and cart conveyed fuel to the boilers in the depths of the cavernous space within. A long, dimly-lighted corridor, broken by rough brick arches and many door ways, leads into the interior.

For a number of years equipment of the student volunteer fire department stood in this passage. It consisted of a small, white hose cart, which the students willingly and earnestly pulled over the campus and through the town. The value of the cart dwindled when a borough fire company was formed, but it found its resting place in Old Main only after a struggle between the students' and citizens' fire companies resulted in a victory for the town. When the Farmers' High School was erected in 1856, the cellars were

Undeclared Matmen Seek Collegiate Championship

Defends Title

CAPTAIN TED WILSON Meets Challengers in Bethlehem Today

WRESTLERS SHOW ENVIABLE RECORD

Eisenman, Campbell, Wilson and Hubler Secure Victories In 6 Dual Meets

LIONS SCORE 160 POINTS AGAINST OPPONENTS' 24

Captain Wilson, Hubler, Eisenman and Campbell, who will be among those representing Penn State in the intercollegiate wrestling tournament at Lehigh this week-end, have gone through the present season without a defeat.

It is seldom that a team contains a lineup of four undefeated men for an entire season and because of its record the outlook for a Penn State championship seems bright. With two exceptions, however, these men will have to meet last year's winners. Captain Wilson will defend his crown while Eisenman will wrestle in the only class where there is not a present champion. Lewis, winner of the 135-pound class last year graduated but to take his place Dodd of Yale, winner in the 145-pound division last spring, has come down to the 135-pound class.

Eisenman's Record Impressive Steele, Charnick and Pence, other members of the Lion seven, have had varied success this year. Steele has won all but two of his meets, losing to Cornell and Navy by decisions. He had one fall to his credit, that against Western Reserve Saturday.

Charnick, vying in four of the six meets this season, has won two decisions, a default and lost by a fall to Cornell. Pence scored a fall over Lafayette, a decision over Syracuse and lost by a fall to Ohio university and by decisions to Cornell and Navy Fisher replacing him Saturday, scored a decision over Western Reserve.

Of the four undefeated Nittany matmen Eisenman has turned in the most impressive record with fall, over Ohio university, Syracuse, Lafayette, Navy and Cornell.

(Continued on last page)

To Oppose 7 Teams in Tournament Today At Bethlehem

CRITICS FAVOR CORNELL AND LEHIGH GRAPPLERS

Eisenman, Campbell, Wilson and Hubler Loom Strong in Lightweight Posts

Penn State's undefeated wrestling team will undergo its final test of the season today and tomorrow when it meets the best teams of the East in the intercollegiate tournament at Bethlehem.

Penn State and Lehigh, although undefeated during their dual meet seasons, are not favored to win the title. Cornell, by virtue of having two intercollegiate champions and a runner-up in last year's meet, is picked to win, while the Lions and Lehigh are battling for the lighter weight titles. Coach Spielder was noncommittal as to the probable outcome of the tournament.

Six Champions Compete

This year's meet is unprecedented in that there are six of the seven individual champions from last year ready to defend their respective titles. The only class in which there is not a defending champion is the 135-pound division, which was left open by the graduation of "Dick" Lewis of Lehigh, the winner in this division last year at the championships at Princeton. The defending champions of their respective colleges are Josephson, Cornell, 115 pounds, Wilson, Penn State, 125 pounds, Dodd, Yale, 145 pounds; Graham, Princeton, 158 pounds, Lehi, Lehigh, 175 pounds, and Stafford, Cornell, unlimited. Dodd, however, will probably not defend his 145-pound title since he has been competing in the 135-pound class in most of the dual meets. But in either class, he will play the role of a defending champion.

One change of importance made in the scoring rules of the tournament is the awarding of two points for a fall during any bout whether in preliminaries or finals. Last year one point was given. This change was made to create more action in the preliminary bouts. If a fall is made in the final matches, the winner will receive seven points instead of five or if a fall is registered in the semifinals five points instead of three will be awarded the winner. Officials are undecided whether a third place point award will be made.

The meet this year is the twenty-fifth championship tournament of the Eastern intercollegiate wrestling association. The contest is divided into preliminaries, semi-finals, finals and second place bouts. With point awards for the latter three places. The association is made up of Columbia, Cornell, Lehigh, Penn, Penn State, Princeton, Syracuse and Yale with Lehigh the defending champion this year.

Cornell Favorite The all-time championship record favors Cornell since the Cayugaan, have won the title nine times including six consecutive years from 1912 to 1917 inclusive. Their last title was in 1927. Penn State is second with seven championships, including four consecutive titles from 1918 to 1921 inclusive. The Lions won their last title in 1926 on the Armory floor. Yale has won five championships and shared the title with Lehigh in 1927. Lehigh was the winner last year and shared the title jointly with Yale in 1927. Princeton has captured first honors once. The other three members have never won the highest honor, although they have been represented frequently by individual title holders.

The Lions will be represented by the same line-up which has carried them through the season undefeated. Steele (Continued on last page)

Today—The Bullosopher Discusses

"Subbing" For The Painter Hop Favors

- Editorials 1. Looking Into The Future 2. Penn State's Athletic Future 3. An Eastern Basketball Conference