COMMITTEE NAMES SPIRIT WEEK DATE

Cheerleader Mullin Announces Annual Spring Customs Begin April 25

PLEBES HOLD MUMMERS' PARADE ON POVERTY DAY

Dates for Spirit Week, Poverty Day, and the Mummer's Parade have been announced by J. Woodward Mullin '29, head cheerleader and chairman of the committee in charge of these events.

Spirit Week will begin April 25 and continue until Saturday of that week. The pushball scrap between the freshmen and sophomores will be held on Friday with Poverty Day and the Mummer's Parade on the following day.

Spirit Week Plans

Plans are being formulated at present by the committee on the regulations regarding Spirit Week. As in past years, the freshmen will wear ribbons attached to their green headpieces and be forced to keep these stretched out horizontally behind.

Special regulations are also being considered by the committee in order to further the interest in this annual affair. Later announcement of these rules will be made in a future issue of the COLLEGIAN.

The annual pushball scrap will be held on Friday afternoon between the second-year men and the plebes. This will be followed with Poverty Day on Saturday.

Prizes for Freshmen

events in the history of Penn State, according to Chairman Mullin. As in previous years, prizes probably will be awarded to the freshmen in the different costume divisions.

As the concluding event on the week's program it is hoped that a Move-Up Day dance will be arranged for Saturday night. In order to complete the plans for this event a special committee has been appointed to promote the affair.

It is the desire of the committee to make this the most interesting and spirited week that the College has ever had, Mullin stated. With this idea in mind, the committee members are desirous of "pepping up" all the activities of the week.

Under the plan for Spirit Week this year, the committee hopes to arouse more interest among the members of the sophomore class in this event. Special part probably will be taken in the week by member of the second year campus societies.

WHITTAKER SETS MARK

Establishing a new record, Thomas P. Whittaker '29, won grand champion showman honors for the second consecutive year at the Little International Livestock exposition held here Saturday.

Lloyd F. Engle, agricultural extension agent of Green county, also former football star here in '12 and '13, and John B. Pollock, senior superintendent, were judges of the show.

'LA VIE' HEAD CALLS FOR 1932 HISTORIES

Histories of the class of 1932 to be inserted in the La Vie have been called for by J. Bruce Baldwin, editor-in-chief. Articles submitted will be judged by members of the English department, and the freshman whose work has been accepted will become class historian for the entire four years. All documents must be submitted before the Easter recess to Baldwin at the Alpha Gamma Rho house.

paign in quest of the heavyweight crown against Steiner, giant Pennsylvanian. Although a newcomer, Steiner is expected to extend the Lion athlete. Schafley of Georgetown and Downer of Western Maryland will mingle in the final bout.

While Captain Wolf is drawing a bye in the 160-pound class, Captain Claude Ricketts of Navy and Ed Horne of Pennsylvania, his most dangerous rivals, will match their skill in a heralded bout. These two middleweights fought to an extra-round draw last week. The other combat is between Graboske, who McAndrews outpunched in the Syracuse meet Saturday, and Clementi, Georgetown newcomer.

In the opening bouts of the preliminary round Hill of Syracuse will battle Fry of Navy, and Peluse of Pennsylvania will meet Reed, Western Maryland bantamweight. Scholastic difficulties have forced Dempsey, only conqueror of Epstein, out of the Navy line-up.

Entries who do not perform in the preliminaries are Epstein, Coach Leo Houck's hope for the 115-pound crown, Davis, Georgetown bantamweight who fell prey to Epstein's tantalizing left, Fitzgerald, conqueror of Koly in the Navy encounter, Glassey of Syracuse, who was defeated by Casoni Saturday, Williams, lightweight title-holder, Captain Winorsky, Pennsylvania welterweight, George Ekaitis, sepaational

Western Maryland middleweight, Captain Allie Wolf of Penn State, twice intercollegiate 160-pound champion, Ollens of Pennsylvania, who Wolf kayoed in one minute, Tierney, Georgetown gamester, Moret, who replaces Chapple as the Navy heavyweight, and Livoti of Syracuse, conqueror of Steve Hamas last week.

Title-Holders

The two champions who will defend their titles in the bouts tonight and tomorrow are Captain Allie Wolf in the 160-pound class, and Hubert Williams of Navy, lightweight titleholder.

Undefeated participants in the tourney are Captain Wolf, Captain Bolanos, M. I. T. lightweight, Doug Crosby, Western Maryland lightweight, Fish, Georgetown welterweight, Horne of Pennsylvania middleweight, Swan, Navy light-heavyweight, Fitzgerald, Navy featherweight, and Moret, Navy heavyweight.

The semi-final bouts will be held tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock and tomorrow afternoon after the dedication of Recreation Hall. Matches for the championships and for third places will be held at 7 o'clock tomorrow night.

SOPHOMORES WIN BOXING SCRAP, 4-3

Veneroso, Chaikowsky, Pennypacker, Petrocho Gain Verdicts Over Freshman Opponents

Veneroso's hard-fought victory over Lasich in the heavyweight class enabled the sophomore boxers to defeat the freshmen, 4 to 3, in the annual class scrap Wednesday night.

With the exception of the 135-pound class, all of the bouts were close, and high-class boxing was exhibited. In this class Petrocho gained a tame victory over Epstein, his freshman opponent.

Other sophomore victories were in the 160- and 175-pound classes. In the former, Chaikowsky gained a three round judges' decision over Henry, and in the latter, Pennypacker won the judges' decision over Defazio in four rounds.

The freshmen victors were Clare, in the 115-pound class, Stoop, 125-pound class, and Lewis, in the 145-pound class. These three boxers exhibited good fighting in their bouts.

Bas Clare had a wide edge over Campbell, his sophomore opponent, and Stoops outpointed Parks to gain the judges' decision. Al Lewis, who is expected to make a strong bid for a place on the varsity next year, almost put Shirkness away in the first round, but the sophomore rallied and was able to keep his feet for the three rounds.

ELECTRIC CO. BOOKLET TELLS OF LION ALUMNI

"Penn State Alumni with General Electric" is the title of a new booklet published by the General Electric company, enumerating the various positions held by Penn State graduates with their organization.

Mr. Charles C. Chesney '85, vice-president in charge of manufacturing and chairman of the manufacturing committee, is the oldest representative out of the 113 alumni connected with the company. Eight members of last year's class are in the testing department.
