

Campus Bulletin

Fresh at candidates will meet in the Frath office at 9 o'clock Tuesday night. Bring all drawings for Houseparty issue.

Freshman candidates for business, stage, and advertising managerships of the Thespian club are requested to report at the Thespian studio in the basement of Schwab auditorium at 6:30 o'clock Monday night.

There will be an important meeting of the Town Girls' club at 7:30 o'clock Monday night in room 11, Liberal Arts building.

Sophomores who wish to compete for the editorial staff of the COLLEGIAN will report to an associate editor at the COLLEGIAN office at once. Sophomores who respond to the call now will be accorded the same opportunities as those who are already working.

Candidates for parts in the houseparty show of the Thespian club will report in Schwab auditorium at 8:15 o'clock Monday night.

Freshman and sophomore candidates for the editorial, business, and home economics staffs of the Penn State Farmer will meet in room 1011 Horticulture building, at 7:00 o'clock Monday night.

All unpaid COLLEGIAN subscriptions are due before November 1. In order to facilitate collections, subscribers will please mail or bring checks to the COLLEGIAN office as soon as possible. Delays will be stopped on subscriptions remaining unpaid on or shortly after November 1.

A meeting of all non-fraternity Jewish students will be held at 207 East Park avenue at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Dean and Mrs. Will G. Chambers announce they will be at home to alumni and members of the faculty of Lafayette college immediately following the football game tomorrow afternoon at their residence, 315 Park avenue.

A cordial invitation is extended to members of the senior class by the Alumni association to be present at the Alumni smoker and Cider party which will take place at 8:00 o'clock tomorrow night in the Armory.

Going east after the football game tomorrow must enter and leave the campus by Township road, Route 250, and park at the Stock-judging pavilion, and the Dairy barn. Traffic going west will use the Atherton street entrance and park in rear of the Alpha Zeta house, and north of the Service building," announced Andrew C. Zarger, chief of Campus police.

PROF. BORLAND TO TALK AT DAIRYMEN'S MEETING

Prof. Andrew A. Borland, head of the dairy husbandry department, will address the state meeting of West Virginia dairymen at Charleston, November 7.

Professor Borland has been head of the department of dairy husbandry since 1919. He has devoted nineteen years to dairy extension, research, and teaching, all but four years being spent at Penn State. He has served also as president of the American Dairy Science association.

L. A. DEAN WILL SURVEY LAND GRANT COLLEGES

Dear Charles W. Stoddard, of the Liberal Arts school, has been appointed by the United States bureau of education to make a survey of the arts and science departments of the land grant colleges throughout the country. He will begin work in Washington, D. C., November 4.

The bureau of education is making a comprehensive survey on the work of the various college departments of land grant colleges and institutions in the United States in order to compile education reports.

PENN CO-EDS HAZE PLEBES

Philadelphia—Freshman co-eds at the University of Pennsylvania will be termed "mickelnuisers" this year. Rules enforced by the sophomores demand that the first-year women have at least three nickels on hand at all times to pay fines for breaking freshman customs.
