

LION BOOTERS FACE MAROON TOMORROW

Defeating Penn 3-1, Soccermen Gain Circuit Lead—Loom As Title Winners

Fresh from a victory over a strong Penn eleven, the league-leading Lion booters will face their fifth circuit tilt of the season when they engage Lafayette soccermen on New Beaver practice field at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The Maroon is represented in the intercollegiate league for the first time in the current campaign. To date the Eastonians have made an impressive record. The experienced Nittany team should have little difficulty in subduing the visitors in preparation for the final league battle with Navy at Annapolis.

As a result of the 3-to-1 win over the Quaker booters, the Nittany soccermen displaced Penn to assume the intercollegiate league leadership, eliminated a possible contender, and established a strong bid for the crown held by Yale last year. This year Old Eli tied Penn in an early season contest, Princeton battled to a stalemate with Cornell, and all other circuit members lost at least one setto, with the exception of Navy who won their first fray from Lehigh in a belated schedule opening.

Lions Loom as Leaders
Princeton and Yale meet at New Haven tomorrow. The tilt will result in the elimination of one or both as contenders for the title. In the event of a tie game, both teams will forfeit consideration as crown winners. A victory for one will defeat the other's chances for a title claim.

Harvard lost a chance for the title when they tied the Midshipmen 1-to-1 and lost to Penn 4-to-0. After the encounter with Yale, Princeton faces another keen battle when they meet Penn later in the season. A strong Princeton team may vanquish the present champions and fall before the experienced Quaker line, thus leaving the decision between Navy and Penn State.

The Annapolis eleven has not shown par form in combats this year. One of the strongest Lion soccer teams in recent years, however, will find a fighting Navy eleven standing as the last obstacle in the way of a championship, a tough skiff to sink.

Coach Bill Jeffrey will use his regular line-up for the Leopard fray despite the anticipated weakness of the visitors. In respect for the loss of Vyeberg, the squad will wear black arm bands during the fray.

Lion Gridders Suffer Defeat Before Microphone's Attack in Radio Debut

Although the vaunted Pennsylvania attack held no terrors for the Penn State football team Saturday afternoon, two of its members succumbed to an air attack of a different nature Sunday night.

"Yut," Driedrich and "Mike" Kaplan, both heroic performers in breaking up Penn passes and instrumental in the success of the Penn State attack, found that meeting an unseen audience over the "air" was far more nerve-racking than playing against blood-thirsty opponents on the gridiron.

The setting was a studio at Station WPEN in Philadelphia. Driedrich and Kaplan were seated before the microphone nervously waiting for the Philadelphia Harmonica Band under the direction of Alfred J. Hovic to finish their selections. As the time approached for them to go on the "mike" their state of mental unrest increased.

Driedrich signalled to Kaplan that he was at a loss as to a subject for his talk. Using their hands as a means of communication they agreed to discuss the game in the briefest terms possible and then beat a hasty retreat.

The time came for them to broadcast. Encouraged by the announcer, the two told their audience that it was a great game and that it was no "tea-party" and made other remarks on the afternoon's encounter. Perspiration rolled from their brows and sighs of relief escaped them as they finished their discussion.

Although the response of the unseen audience indicated that the broadcast had been a success, both agreed that they would rather meet six Penn teams than face a microphone again.

HARRIERS PREPARE FOR TITLE EVENT

7 Lions Precede Panthers To Finish In Perfect-Score-Win—Coach Plans Intensive Drills

Having recorded perfect-score wins over the Pitt varsity and freshman harriers, Coach Nate Cartmell's runners are now centering their attention on the IC-4A championship meets at New York November 25.

Coach Cartmell is planning a series of intensive drills to bring the runner into shape for their drive for a fourth consecutive title. With DeVries, Meisinger, and Ratcliffe improving steadily, and Ruckers continuing his brilliant performances, Penn State hopes hinge on the strength of the fifth man.

Pennsylvania and Maine promise to furnish the principal obstacles to Nittany aspirations. Almost nothing is known of Maine's record this year, but the winners of second, fourth, and eighth place sat the championships last year form the nucleus for the 1929 team. Reinforced by the 1923 titular plebe squad, Penn's harriers defeated Cornell and Columbia decisively in last time.

FANS TO WITNESS LION-BISON GAME

gregation With Hinkle as the most consistent ground-gainer, little difficulty has been encountered in penetrating the defense of opposing elevens. Brumbaugh has also shown ability in ball toting and has been a dangerous scoring threat in every game.

Stonebaker and Tivul will probably start at the end posts for the Lewisburg team. Captain Eddie Woenner and Bollinger will start at the tackle berths with Elio and Jones filling the guard positions. Koster will probably open the game in pivot position.

Andrew Lobel will start at quarterback with Clark Hinkle at fullback. Hinkle is a triple threat man who has shown great ability in every contest this year. Brumbaugh will start at tight halfback with Slate as his running-mate. Slate is one of the best interference runners to perform on a Bison team for several years.

Rucker Disabled
With the exception of Dutch Rucker, the Lion forces will be intact for tomorrow's encounter. The veteran linebacker has been suffering from a boil on his knee and has been unable to participate in practice sessions this week. He will probably be able to fill his position at guard in case he is needed. Red Duval will start in Rucker's place at tight guard.

Kaplan and Edwards will probably be at the wing posts when the game opens. Both ends performed well against the Quakers although Edwards did not enter the fray until the third period. Toots Panaceon and Cal Shawley will resume their tackle positions with Johnny Zoiella and Red Duval at guards. Marty McAndrews will probably start at the pivot post.

Yut: Driedrich and Red Evans will receive the halfback assignments with Coop French and Judy Lasch at the quarterback and fullback berths respectively. The work of French against Penn, Saturday, has made him one of the most feared backs in the East.

SOPHOMORES WIN HOCKEY TILT FROM PLEBES, 2-1

By defeating the freshmen 2-to-1 in a fast hockey game Tuesday afternoon on Holmes Field, the sophomores now stand first in the interclass hockey tourney.

The first half of the game ended scoreless although the freshmen repeatedly threatened the sophomore goal. Immediately after the opening of the second period the sophomore went through the freshman defense for two goals, while the first year girls talked their point into the game.

DUQUESNE U. FOOTBALL STAR PROVES OLD THEORY WRONG

Despite the generally accepted theory that big men are essential to a football squad, Duquesne university has several small men as its most important players.

Captain Buff Donnell, who has the distinction of being able to get off long punts with either right or left foot, is only five feet seven inches tall.
