

WESTERN INSTITUTIONS PLAN ENGLISH DEBATING CONTESTS

Plans to send a debating team to England representing the University of California, the University of Southern California, and Stanford university have been set in motion by the Forensic council of the University of Southern California.

The team would consist of three men, one man representing each institution. A campaign to raise funds for the trip is in progress. British debaters are highly in favor of the proposed tour by the Californians.

HAVERFORD PROFESSOR FINDS MONSTER LIZARDS IN INDIES

A pair of lizards measuring more than eight feet in length have been brought from the Dutch East Indies by Dr. Emmet R. Dunn of Haverford university.

Rumors of reptiles measuring as long as thirty feet failed to materialize, the longest specimen seen by the expedition attaining a length of nine feet. The hunting party left New York in 1926.
