

Matmen Face Cornell Here Tomorrow; Mitmen To Invade North Carolina

NEW YORKERS LOOM AS TITLE ASPIRANTS

Bouts Begin in Recreation Hall At 2 O'clock—Bears Lost Only to Ohio State

Fighting for its place in the championship, tonight, a stubborn Lion wrestling team will face the strong Cornell mat team in Recreation Hall at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The Big Red aggregation is one of the outstanding competitors for the Eastern intercollegiate title this year. Although handicapped by the loss of Captain Stafford and Josephson, last year's champions, Coach W. C. O'Connell has succeeded in building up a formidable outfit.

Cornell is Dangerous
Captain Johnson, stalwart and versatile 165-pounder, is one of the most dangerous men on the Big Red squad. He, with Tuesdale and Lipschitz, all members of last year's team, form a formidable combination.

Either Harkins or Maize will receive the call from Coach Charlie Spödel to take the mats against Hartsch in the opening bout. Tuesdale, eleven Cornell 125-pounder, will meet Larry Cowell in the following match.

Butterworth who has bowled over several men already this season should meet his match when he faces Captain Hal Hubler in the lightweight setto. Both men are dangerous and the match should prove fast and furious.

Johnson To Meet Long

In the 145-pound class Karl Kaiser will face Lipschitz, powerful Big Red grappler with a good string of victories for the past two seasons. Henry will probably be selected to meet Paul Campbell in the following clash. Captain Johnson with a record of two out of three falls already to his credit will represent the New Yorkers against Paul Long. Long will attempt to revenge his loss of last week by a victory over the powerful Cornell captain.

Hulse and Wakeman will probably oppose Pearce and Fisher in the heavyweight classes. Although the two Cornell men were out of the line-up last week because of injuries, it is expected that they will be back in uniform for tomorrow's meet.

Committee To Select Outstanding Athlete

A committee for the selection of the outstanding Lion athlete of 1929-30 was announced Tuesday night by Martin S. McAndrews, Athletic Association president.

Faculty members of the committee are Dean Arthur R. Warnock, Dean Robert L. Sackett, of the School of Engineering, Prof. Hugo Bezdek, and Neil M. Fleming, graduate manager of athletics. Students are represented by F. Bruce Baldwin '30, senior class president and Theodore F. Heicklen '30, head cheerleader.

The athlete selected will be announced at the annual 'S' Banquet, and will receive an award from the student body. Last year Stephen V. Hymas '29, eleven-footer man, received the first of these awards.

REKERS LOSES TO POLE IN N. Y. RUN

Lion Scores 3000-Meter Event Second—Captain's Return Strengthens Team

The tables were turned on Paul Rekera in the 3000-meter New York A. C. run Monday night when Stanley Petkiewicz, Polish conqueror of Pavo Nurmii who succumbed to the Lion star in the Millrose 2-mile, unceremoniously sprinted away from the tape by four yards.

Rekers, Petkiewicz, and McCluskey, Fordham plebe cross-country champion, pulled away from the field to stage a three-cornered duel. The Lion runner, wanting to sprint until the straightaway was reached, was caught unawares by the Pole's early effort. Paul was second, with McCluskey third. Dick Detweiler did not place in the same race.

The return to college of Captain George Mobley will bolster the team's strength in several weak events. Mobley competes in the pole vault, broad jump, high jump, and high hurdles.

With the intercollegiate championships at New York City March 1, the Nittany indoor season will close. Coach Nate Cattmell plans to enter fifteen men in the title tests.

The trackmen will compete in a practice meet on the board track at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Coach Cattmell will send the men through the regular events at top speed.

JUNIOR CO-EDS WIN COURT RACE, SOPHOMORES SECOND

Trimming their senior opponents 45-40-22, the junior women asserted themselves first place in the interclass basketball league, while the sophomores clinched second place by defeating the freshmen 37-21 in Recreation Hall Monday night.

With only four more interclass games remaining to be played, manager Anne E. McGuire '31, announced the first game of the Freshman league for Monday night. A series of intramural games is scheduled for the women's dormitories, clubs, and fraternities beginning March 10.

MEET TAR HEELS TOMORROW NIGHT

Carolarians Possess Southern Conference Title—Win 5 Of 6 Contests

Whether southern boxing ability matches its famed hospitality will be determined by the champion Nittany leather pushers when they combat the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill, N. C., at 8 30 o'clock tomorrow night.

Leaving State College at 3.30 o'clock this afternoon the Lion matmen will undertake the longest trip ever made by a Penn State boxing team. They will arrive in Chapel Hill at 10-30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Dangerous opposition will greet Houck's batters in their first North Carolina appearance. The Tar Heels, who are champions of the southern boxing conference, are reputed to have one of the strongest teams in the South.

Tar Heel Win Five Meets

Five victories out of six meets is the record of the southern title holders to date. Wins were registered over Washington and Lee, Virginia Military Institute, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Duke, and the University of Virginia. The one defeat was administered by University of Florida yesterday.

To combat the formidable Carolina pugilists Coach Houck will use the same team that defeated Wesleyan, Maryland, 4-3, Saturday. In the lighter classes will be Julie Epstein, intercollegiate champion bantamweight, Davey Stoops, featherweight, Boni Cason, welterweight, and Al Lewis, lightweight.

Alex Chaikowsky, middleweight, Bill Stubble, light heavyweight, and Captain Marty McAndrews, heavyweight, complete the squad. In the first bout Epstein will probably oppose Vaughn, who started on last year's team but who has had considerable difficulty in finding his stride this season.

Davey Stoops will engage either Sheffield or Clark, two clever Tar Heels battling nip and tuck for the position. Goodridge, one of the Southern squad's undefeated stars will swap punches with Cason in the 135-pound fray.

As the attraction of the meet, the Lion knockout champion, Al Lewis, will exhibit his prowess against Captain Archie Allen, fast and hard-punching mainstay of the Carolina team. Alex Chaikowsky will engage Davis, shifty Carolinian while Stubble is slated to oppose Johnnie Warren. Captain McAndrews will find plenty of opposition in Koenig, big Tar Heel grudge man.

Houck believes that next to the Navy meet this will be our stiffest encounter. He states that the long trip may prove a serious handicap to the team.

Professor Champlin Advises Special School for Education of Athletes

Special schools or departments for the education of athletes in the theory and practice of their profession were proposed by Prof. Carroll D. Champlin of the School of Education in the current issue of School and Society.

Referring to the recent athletic investigations, Professor Champlin wrote "At a time when we are returning to the Greeks and Romans for one of the best features of their civilization, does it seem wise to hamper the fine progress made in health habits, physical exercise, and athletic exploits?"

"Why should the linguists, philosophers, chemists, architects, musicians and actors find special favor in academic circles?" he asked. "Why not hold in equally high esteem that other group predestined to its own peculiar brand of personal technique and public service?"

Professor Champlin proposed that colleges offer courses of study in biology, anatomy, physiology, history of sports, science of football, playing tactics, the art of boxing, the principles of pageantry, and the organization of mass athletics. He also urges that institutions give degrees for this sort of professional training.
