competition in New York March 8.

The Nittany songsters scored a total of 228.8 points, while Lafayette placed second with 223 points. Other entrants were Haverford, Juniata, and Moravian colleges. Each club appeared three times under the direction of a student conductor, presenting a song of its own selection, the prize song, and a college song.

"Aforemus Te," by Palestrina, and "Blue and White" were songs chosen by Penn State. The prize song was Thomas Morley's "Hark! Jolly Shepherds."

Praternities To Receive 1 Additional Delegate-Council Creates . Executive Board

By unanimous vote of the ten member fraternities, Intramural council last week adopted the revised constitution proposed by the Council re-council representative by the council representations committee.

Election of two junior delegates in the stead of one to Council membership is one of the major changes in the new constitution. In the following rear, one of these delegates will be named senior representative by the chapter. An executive board consisting of the president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer of the Council is also created by the new constitution. This board will decide all questions concerning violations of Council rulings.

Another change provides that local fraternity underelassmen may visit local fraternity dances on nights following major College functions.
