

Midshipmen, Welcome to Penn State!

May the Best Team Win!!

Fighting Midshipmen Who Face Penn State Fire Tomorrow

Thrice
Intercollegiate
Champions

Ten
Undeclared
Seasons

These fighting Midshipmen have been going at it hammer and tong since early in January in quest of posts on the undefeated Navy boxing team. Every year there is a spirited battle for places on the service team. Twenty states are represented on the squad, which numbers thirty men this year. Captain Paul Moret, who climbs through the ropes for the middleweight or light-heavyweight bouts, is shown on the left. Moret also played end on the football eleven. On the extreme right is Spike Webb, who has coached the Midshipmen through ten straight seasons without a defeat. The Middies have won five meets so far this season. Webb also coached the last three American Olympic teams.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

BOXING MENTOR

HOY BROTHERS

MOHNKERN LUMBER CO

MAURICE BAUM

ELECTRIC BAKERY

BERKEBILE BROS.

R. F. STEIN MOTOR CO.

FROST '16 & DOTY '24

JACK HARPER

STATE COLLEGE BAKERY

NITTANY PRINTING CO.

JOHN L. HOLMES

PEARCE MILK CO.

BEZDEK

Hugo Bezdek, director of athletics, who visions a comprehensive system of athletics for Penn State under the new School of Physical Education and Athletics.

HOUCK

Leo Houck, Penn State ring master, is looking forward to his fourth championship team this year. He is hopeful of victory tomorrow.

'Big Three' In 1929 Clash

Allie Wolf Leo Houck Steve Hannas

This trio led the successful assault upon the Midshipmen in last year's intercollegiate boxing tournament. On the left is Allie Wolf, three 160-pound champion, and now coach of football and boxing at James Madison High School in Brooklyn, N. Y. In the center is Leo Houck, who has groomed three championship Penn State teams during the past five years. On the right is Steve Hannas, twice heavyweight champion, who last week scored a one-round knockout victory in his professional ring debut.

How Rivals Enter Roped Arena

NAVY		PENN STATE
Dempsey	115-POUND CLASS	Epstein
Fitzgerald	125-POUND CLASS	Stoops
Wallace	135-POUND CLASS	Casoni
Hall	145-POUND CLASS	Lewis
Moret (C.)	160-POUND CLASS	Chaikowsky
Swan	175-POUND CLASS	Struble
Chapple	UNLIMITED CLASS	McAndrews (C.)

The Man Behind The Guns

Lieut.-Com. Frederick Reinecke

Reinecke is the new Graduate Manager of Athletics at the Naval Academy. A former star tackle and oarsman at Annapolis, Reinecke is expected to prove a big man in his new job. He succeeds Lieut.-Com. O. O. Kessing, who has been ordered to sea duty.