

Price War Is Denied By Town Merchants

Prospect of a price war between State College merchants and the proposed cooperative buying organization was emphatically denied last night by Thomas G. Haugh, in repudiating a statement attributed to him for the Business Men's Association at a recent meeting of Interfraternity Council.

FRIZZELL WILL DISCUSS 'CHRISTIANITY' IN CHAPEL

Acting College Chaplain To Address Audience at Sunday Service

"Is It Necessary to 'Prove' Christianity?" is the question of John H. Frizzell, acting college chaplain, will ask the chapel audience during his address in Schuylab auditorium Sunday morning.

The college chaplain addresses the Sunday audience once each year in addition to times when scheduled speakers are unable to appear.

Professor Frizzell first came to Penn State as an English instructor in 1902. With the exception of a six-year absence from 1920 to 1926, he has been active in English, debating, and public speaking here since that time.

Institute on International Relations Urges Action by Naval Conference

Urging the acceptance of the British proposal to scrap battleships, a cablegram was sent to the American delegates at the London Naval conference Wednesday night by the third annual institute on international relations held in the Methodist church under the direction of Frederick J. Libby, executive secretary of the National Council for the Prevention of War.

The cablegram, a copy of which was sent to President Herbert C. Hoover, read, "Hundred persons institute international relations, State College, Pa. voted tonight disappointed trend, emphasizing party unity. Urge fulfillment Hoover's pledge accepting British proposal progressive abolition battleship with reduction other classes this makes possible."

Favors World Court

Advocating the entrance of the United States into both the World Court and the League of Nations, Mr. Libby declared that public opinion will guarantee that the decisions of the court will be upheld, in his talk before the institute which continued from Sunday until Wednesday.

FRENCH ART ACADEMY HONORS '28 GRADUATE

Selects John Y. Roy for Advanced Instruction at Fontainebleau

John Y. Roy '28 has been selected as one of 200 American students to attend the Fontainebleau School of Fine Art at the palace of Fontainebleau, France, this summer.

While securing a degree in architecture here, Mr. Roy won the classical for design offered by the American Institute of Architecture. He expects to sail from New York about June 1 to attend the twelve-week course, returning in September. The school is conducted under the patronage of the French government for graduates of American universities and colleges. Professors from leading foreign and American colleges are on the school staff during the summer.

Campus Bulletin

Sophomore editorial and business status of Old Man Lell will report at the La Vie offices at 6:20 tonight.

Assignments for freshmen reporters are being posted in COLLEGIAN office.

"Educators are generally opposed to compulsory student military training," Mr. Libby stated Wednesday night when asked his opinion of compulsory R. O. T. C. "The effect of compulsory military training on students is to make them believe in force rather than in international peace treaties."

13 ARE QUARANTINED WHEN CO-ED CONTRACTS SMALLPOX

Thirteen students were quarantined, and scores who were exposed submitted to vaccination, following the report recently of a mild case of smallpox in a society house on the Ohio university campus.

The co-ed who contracted the disease was removed to the college hospital, and later recovered. However, the scare caused the quarantine of the patient's society house, and the rush of students and town-people who wished to be vaccinated necessitated a new supply of vaccine from Columbus.
