

Nittany Quintet To Clash With Bucknell Tomorrow; Boxers Meet Penn Away

BISONS SHOW POOR RECORD ON COURT

Fall Before Lafayette, Colgate, Army, St. Thomas—Down Terrors, Bullets

Renewing traditional rivalry between Penn State and Bucknell, Nittany courtmen will clash with the Bison passers in Recreation Hall at 7 o'clock tomorrow night.

Coach Dutch Heimann will start Fly, Leyda, Brand, Stahley, and Saltzman against the Lewisburg five. Jack Mazess, who has been unable to play regularly this season, may see action.

Ross and Chenoweth will team at forward for the Bisons. Fly is Coach Plant's choice at center. Captain Wadsworth and Tony Kostos will start at guards.

The Bucknell courtmen have had a mediocre season, losing the majority of their games. Opening with a victory over Western Maryland, the Bisons lost to Manhattan college, Army, and Lafayette on an eastern invasion.

Ends Bison Season
Colgate, who lost to Penn State Friday night, retaliated with a 49-to-38 victory over Bucknell Monday. St. Thomas downed the Lewisburg five Tuesday. Dickinson scored a 40-to-29 decision in a mid-season game with the Bison quintet, and Albright took its measure twice.

Gettysburg tipped Coach Plant's team early in the season but last week the Bisons defeated the Bullets on their home court by a one point margin.

The Bucknell center and guards played on the Bison team which defeated the Lion eleven this fall. Fly and Wadsworth were substitutes while Kostos was varsity center for the Lewisburg gridders. The tilt tomorrow night will be the last of the season for the Lewisburg passers and concludes the court careers of Wadsworth and Kostos.

TO CLOSE COURT CAREER IN TILT WITH LIONS

FRESHMEN OPPOSE BUCKNELL QUINTET

Coach Conover Holds Lineup Intact For Attempted Come-back Against Bisons

Attempting to stage a come-back after losing to powerful Colgate and Syracuse plebe quintets, the freshman basketball team will engage a strong Bucknell five in Recreation Hall at 6 o'clock tomorrow night.

Coach Conover is drilling his men daily for the expected hard battle with the Bison yealings. With the exception of Cheekinsky at guard, in place of Ott, the plebe lineup will remain unchanged. Moses and Stockdale, forwards, Sigel, center, and Conn, guard, will complete the freshman outfit.

Coach "Mal" Muser's Bisonsettes will come here with a fairly good record against high and prep school teams of the Lewisburg vicinity. The Bisons dropped a close game to Wyoming seminar two weeks ago by a one point margin. The Lion cubs defeated Wyoming by one point early in the season.

Muser will probably start Halpern, and either Miller or Maxmover at the forward posts. Smith will fill the center berth for the Bucknellans, with Grunilovsky and Filer at guards.

TAU PHI DELTA AND ALPHA CHI SIGMA WIN MAT BOUTS

REVENGEFUL LIONS SEEK FOURTH WIN

Engage Quakers in Palestra at 3 O'clock—Focus Present 4 Strong Classes

Smiling under the heat-breaking defeat by Navy Saturday, Penn State's jostle champions will relieve their pent-up emotions on University of Pennsylvania matmen in the Palestra ring, Philadelphia, at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

For the last five years Houck coached mat combinations have stomped the Quaker camp and returned to their Nittany lair on the long end of 5-to-2 scores. Only twice in eleven years of combatants has the Red and Blue been successful in turning aside the Nittany battlers.

Although Penn has been successful in but one meet out of four this season, Houck is not too confident of victory. It is his pessimistic opinion that after the Navy encounter "anything can happen."

Quakers Threaten in 4 Classes
The Quakers successfully overcame Syracuse by a 7-to-0 verdict but were forced to bow to Navy, 5-to-2, and Virginia and Western Maryland by 1-to-3 scores. In an effort to continue Penn's losing streak Houck will use the veteran Lion team which has appeared in the last three meets.

Red and Blue entries in the bantamweight, featherweight, middleweight, and unlimited classes are expected to cause plenty of trouble in the Nittany ranks. Houdina, long-amid bantamweight, will probably extend Julie Epstein, undefeated champion, in the 115-pound fray while in the featherweight battle Shadel, conqueror of intercollegiate titleholder Fitzgerald of Navy, will give Davey Stoop a stiff fight.

Alex Chalkowsky, eleven Nittany 160-pounder, will have his hands full with Captain Horne, whose only defeat this year was registered by Captain Motet, of Navy. Merich, undefeated Quaker heavyweight, is another threat to be overcome before a Penn State victory is assured. Captain Marty McAndrews, his opponent, is of the opinion that this obstacle will be removed.

In the 135-pound setto, Bom Casom expects to break his losing string of three defeats against the Penn veteran, Seavlor Al Lewis, popular Lion-welterweight representative who carries dynamite in both fists, will oppose Louis Roenbloom, star sophomore ringman. Bill Stahley, who fought Swan, of Navy, to a standstill will attempt to find a target for his powerful right in Dan McLean, sturdy Quaker light heavyweight.

Rooters To Witness Rifle Team in Action

For the first time in the history of the College spectators may be present to witness the rifle team in action when they meet the Gettysburg rifle-men in a shoulder-to-shoulder match in the Armory at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The match, which will be the first home encounter of the season, will take place on the new range recently installed on the main Armory floor. In previous years matches were shot in the downstairs range which was of insufficient size to warrant the presence of spectators.

Awaiting returns from the National Rifle association of the telegraphic meet held last week with West Virginia university and the Cleveland School of Technology, the riflemen have won four of their first five matches, Navy being the only team to hand them a defeat.

Defeating their junior opponents, 23-to-18 in a closely contested game, the sophomore women's basketball team tied the junior set for the interclass championship Monday night in Recreation Hall.

The final class game of the season will be played Monday night when the sophomores and juniors meet to decide the title.

COLLEGE CLUBS QUARANTINED

Because of a scarlet fever epidemic two social organizations of the campus of the University of Minnesota were quarantined last week. Phi Delta Phi sorority and Aeneas fraternity were closed by health officers after three students, living in the houses were taken to the student health service hospital.

WRESTLERS MEET NAVY TOMORROW

Face Undefeated Middle Team At Annapolis—Tais Win Over Princeton

Determined to keep its record unblemished by defeat in the acid test of the season, a powerful Penn State wrestling team will attempt to swamp an undefeated Navy outfit at Annapolis at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The Navy Goat has come out victorious over six strong rivals so far this season by overwhelming scores. In addition, five members of the team remain undefeated, and one has run up the enviable record of five falls in six starts.

In the opening meet of the season, the service team showed its strength by gaining a 22-to-8 victory over University of North Carolina. This was followed by 25-to-3 wins over Virginia Military institute and Duke.

Though lost its first match of the season to the Middle, 27-to-9, and the following week Princeton matmen dropped before them by a 26-to-8 score. Last week the Tais held West Virginia scoreless, while they rolled up a total of 28 points.

Expect Close Meet
Theobald with a record of five falls so far this season will provide plenty of trouble for either Jimmy Harkins or Tommy Paxson in the opening scrap of the afternoon. The Middle 115-pounder started last week by a lightning-quick fall over his man.

Cowell will be pitted against another undefeated man when he meets Lincoln of Navy in the 125-pound setto. Last year Captain Wilson succeeded in holding the Middle featherweight for nearly five minutes.

Although facing a different man, Captain Hubler will try to duplicate

DELTA UPSILON BOXERS WIN I. F. RING TROPHY

Upret Phi Kappa Sigma Punchers 1-1—McAndrews Scores K. O.

Defeating Phi Kappa Sigma 1-to-1, Delta Upsilon men secured the Interfraternity boxing title in Recreation Hall Wednesday night.

McAndrews, hard-hitting plebe fistman, clinched the cup for Delta Upsilon when he scored a technical knock-out over Deppen, Phi Kappa Sigma welterweight hope, in the third round.

Clair, Delta Upsilon 125-pounder, defeated Sheridan in the first bout, while Phil Simmons received the decision over Hassan, Phi Kappa Sigma 135-pound boxer. In the middleweight division, Henzey defeated Bauerle to win the only bout for Phi Kappa Sigma.

Delta Upsilon heavy-weight contender, wound up the meet by outpunching Curry to receive the decision.

Delta Upsilon downed Theta Kappa Phi as Phi Kappa Sigma defeated Phi Kappa Alpha to reach finals.
