8 COLLEGES ENTER INTERCOLLEGIATES

Stoop Meets Orleman of M.I.T. Tonight—Final Bout Set For Tomorrow

State of Technology Preliminaries will begin tonight at 7 o'clock. Semi-finals will be held at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and the final rounds will begin at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

When the opening going sounds tonight Davey Stoop will leap into action against Orleman, M. I. T. star. The engineer has an impressive record of victories and is expected to make the going rough for the aspiring Lion bantamweight.

In the second round Julie Epstein will undergo one of the sternest tests of his career when he swaps punches with intercollegiate champion Fitzgerald of Navy. Whether Fitzgerald will be a target for the peppery punches of the phantom Nittany ace is a question that can not be settled until tonight.

Doni Casom will unleash a barrage of blows when he again meets Saslow, Penn 135-pound star. Doni defeated the Penn pugilist by a decisive margin two weeks ago and is a heavy favorite to repeat his victory.

Marty Fights McLean Rushing into action in the welterweight fray, heavy Al Lewis will make things warm for Jack Gold of New York university. The long odds are on the Nittany slugger to come through handily in this setto.

Bill Stuble will represent Penn State's hope against Thiel, of Syracuse in the middleweight bout. Although Thiel defeated Chaikowsky in a very close fight at Syracuse last week, Bill is confident that he can solve his style. Experts are of the opinion that Moret, of Navy, and Bill will meet the finals.

Battling in his favorite weight, Marty McAndrews will put every ounce of strength into his blows when he exchanges punches with Don McLean, of Penn. Stuble defeated McLean in four rounds during the Penn

REIS PERFECTS DEVICE FOR MEASURING LACQUER GLOSS

An instrument for the quantitative measuring of gloss on colored lacquer has been perfected by Prof. Emil D. Reis, of the department of chemical engineering and C. E. Gilbert '28, an employee of the Hercules Powder company.

Work on the instrument was started by Gilbert as a senior after it was recognized that such an instrument would aid in the setting of claims when patents did not meet promised standards. A New York instrument company is planning to put the instrument on a commercial basis if the demand for it is great enough.
