

Helen F. Faust
Grange Down

Semi-Weekly

Penn State Collegian

ESTABLISHED
1904

"FOR THE GLORY OF OLD STATE"

VOL. 26, No. 54

STATE COLLEGE, PA., FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1930

PRICE 5 CENTS

JOHN D. HARTMAN WINS WHITE PRIZE FOR SCHOLARSHIP

Johnston, Sugden, Wolfe Receive
Fellowships at Academic
Rites Last Night

McNEARY SECURES 5
ENGINEERING TROPHIES

Triangle, Omega Epsilon Gain
Fraternity Cups—Nita Nee
Obtains Co-ed Award

John D. Hartman '30 received the John W. White medal for outstanding academic ability at Penn State's annual Scholarship Day exercises last night, while Archibald W. Johnston '30, Arthur C. Sugden '30, and James T. Wolfe '30 won John W. White fellowships of $600 each.

For leading national fraternities in averages, Triangle was awarded the Interfraternity Council cup, Omega Epsilon gained the Intramural cup, and Nita Nee received a cup offered by the Girls' Campus Clubs council.

Wolfe obtained the John W. White senior award, and Tatiana Proskoutskoff '31 was presented with the White junior scholarship. Perry E. Scamans '32 received the sophomore prize. White Spanish scholarships were awarded to W. Fred Flickinger '31 and Stephen B. Borda '31.

McNeary Wins 5 Awards
With the highest College scholastic record during the second semester of 1929, Kenneth Hood '30 obtained the President Sparks bronze medal, while Raymond L. Hoffman is the winner of a similar trophy for the best average last term.

The Agricultural Student Council senior cup was presented to William L. Hamaker at the scholastic exercises. George K. Davis won the Alpha Zeta cup, Phi Lambda Upsilon awarded its scholarship cup to Robert W. Williams '32, while a Pi Tau Sigma prize to Leland J. Kennedy '32.

Matthew McNeary '32 obtained five awards for high scholarship in the School of Engineering. He secured the Penn State Engineer scholarship cup, Eta Kappa Nu sophomore prize, Tau Beta Pi sophomore prize, the Sigma Tau medal, and the Chi Eta Phi award.

Omeron Nu presented its freshman prize to Kathryn Strouse, and Wolfe received his third award in the Delta Sigma Pi scholarship key. The Charles Lenthop Pack foundation prize in forestry went to Charles Giano '31. The Maude E. Foster economics and sociology award was won by Mary K. Mitchell '30, and the Simmons Gorman award by Janice L. Kauffman '30.

The State Federation of Pennsylvania
(Continued on second page.)

HETZEL ATTENDS FUNERAL OF TEAS

Shields, Andrews, Brown, Smith,
Berdek, Fleming Witness
Burial of Alumnus

President Ralph D. Hetzel attended the funeral of William H. Teas, member of the Board of Trustees, which took place in Philadelphia yesterday afternoon. Mr. Teas died of pneumonia Monday morning at his home in Shappisport, Annapolis, Md.

J. Franklin Shields, president of the Board of Trustees, Col. J. H. M. Andrews, and Henry D. Brown, members of the Board, were also present at the funeral. Other College officials to attend were Prof. Hugo Berdek, head of the School of Physical Education, Mr. Raymond H. Smith, comptroller, and Neil M. Fleming, graduate manager of athletics.

At a meeting of Student Council Tuesday night, it was decided to send flowers and messages of condolence to the family of Mr. Teas on behalf of the student body of Penn State. Mr. Teas was a member of the Class of 1897. He was appointed to the Board in 1929, and had previously served on the Athletic Board of Control from 1920 until his resignation in 1929.

SENIORS TO OBTAIN YEARBOOK COPIES MONDAY AND TUESDAY

Distribution of the 1930 La Vie Supplement to seniors, which was originally planned for Wednesday afternoon at Montgomery's, has been unavoidably delayed. They will be distributed Monday and Tuesday at the same place.

Seniors are requested to bring their matriculation and Athletic association cards in order to assure proper distribution.

Named 'Froth Girl', 'Best Dressed Man'

Kenneth T. Fitzsimons '30 was named Penn State's 'Best Dressed Man' by a popular vote of 1,500, Junior Prom issue of Froth revealed yesterday.

Virginia Greene '30 is cast in the role of 'Froth Girl', editor of the comic magazine announced, for a combination of personality, beauty, intellect and popularity.

FITZSIMONS NAMED BEST DRESSED MAN

Virginia Greene Selected First
'Froth Girl' in Prom Issue
Of Comic Magazine

With over fifteen hundred ballots cast in the first contest of its type here, Kenneth T. Fitzsimons '30 was crowned Penn State's 'Best Dressed Man' in the Junior Prom issue of the Froth released yesterday.

Virginia Greene '30 was named 'Froth Girl' by the publication's board, inaugurating a custom to be followed each year. The selection was based on four qualities: personality, beauty, intellect, and popularity.

Pressing Fitzsimons closely in the contest, which was conducted April 1 to 11, John K. McClements '30, Charles W. Montgomery '30, and Loren L. Eves '30 placed second, third and fourth. Walter G. Cott '30, Archibald M. Holmes '30, Norman B. Sobler '31, and Howard W. Green '30 followed the prize winners.

Articles by Dean, Probert
One hundred College Beau Brummels received votes. A large number of the ballots were cast by co-eds, who often commented on their choice's merits with "He's a dashing" or "He's sweet." Prof. Edwin F. Bamford, Merritt V. Harris, and David D. Mason tabulated the results.

In addition to the "Best Dressed Man" and "Prom Girl" the eighty-page issue contained articles by Dean Arthur R. Warnock, Prof. Hummel Fishburn, and Mr. Thomas F. Probert. The two new features will be presented in the Junior Prom number annually.

HUESTER IS INSTALLED PHI ETA SIGMA HEAD

Hetzel Jr., Tschann, Nix To Assume
Official Duties Next Fall

William P. Huester '33 was installed as president of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman honorary scholastic fraternity, for next year at exercises held Tuesday night.

Ralph D. Hetzel Jr. became vice-president and Robert D. Tschann and Russell J. Nix assume the duties of secretary and treasurer respectively. These officers will not begin active work until next fall.

The local chapter was organized last year and became a member of the national organization this fall. Student Council accepted the petition of Phi Eta Sigma for permission to adopt a recognition pin at its meeting Tuesday night.

BANDIT SLAIN IN MINNEAPOLIS IDENTIFIED HERE AS FORGER

An unknown bandit killed by Minneapolis police while attempting a bank hold-up Tuesday was identified here yesterday from a photograph as the person who passed several bad checks on local business establishments last June. The identification was made by J. Kenneth Manning '30.

A wrist watch found on the dead man's person was obtained from a local jeweler by a man who signed his name George White and posed as a student enrolled here. He also passed a bad check on one of the local clothing stores where Manning served as a clerk.

Council To Consider Police, Traffic Signs

In an attempt to arrive at a solution for the problem of traffic signs on the campus and the college police force, a committee of Student Council will meet with President Ralph Dorn Hetzel next week.

This committee is composed of F. Bruce Baldwin '30, president of Council, Paul S. Williams '30, secretary, and Martin S. McAndrews '30, president of Athletic Association. They will confer with President Hetzel and submit recommendations from the student body for remedying the situation, which has caused considerable comment on the campus.

COUNCIL TO PROBE COLLEGE CUSTOMS

Williams Will Head Committee
Investigating Revisions in
Underclass Code

Placing a searchlight on Penn State customs, a complete shake-up of the present code was indicated when Student Council voted to investigate existing conditions at their meeting Tuesday night.

Paul S. Williams '30 was named chairman of the revisions committee which will probe freshmen and sophomore customs in an effort to eliminate useless traditions.

"Penn State has outgrown class creeps, frolics, spirit week, tug-of-war, and stunt night," Williams commented. "The crucial point has been reached and it is time for the customs code to be modernized and the dead wood cut away," he asserted.

To Hold Public Hearings
Associate committee members are Chester W. Garretson '30, Robert A. Young '31, Evan C. Reese '31, Wilbur H. Zimmerman Jr. '32, Vernon H. Shantz '32, and John A. Wood '33. By holding public hearings and a referendum vote the committee plans to formulate the new code in accord with student opinion.

The new rulings will be confined to the underclass exclusively. Most Alto customs will also be given consideration when the revisions are finally decided upon. Sophomore dress customs will receive discussion during the probe.

Public hearings will be held at the same time the committee meets, permitting students to make suggestions to the investigators. The referendum will be in ballot form, containing the existing code and suggested revisions.

To climax the investigation Student Council, Student Board, and the Tribunal will meet in conjunction with the revisions committee to make suggestions and approve plans.

Who's Dancing

Tonight
Junior Prom in Recreation Hall
Mad Hallett and Jan Garber

Tomorrow
Acacia and Triangle at Acacia
Al Rema's Orchestra
Alpha Gamma Rho
Hobby Smith

Alpha Sigma Phi and Alpha Chi Sigma at Alpha Sigma Phi (closed)
Mad Hallett
Delta Sigma Phi
Nittany Nine

Delta Tau Delta and Sigma Alpha Epsilon at Delta Tau Delta
Black Cats
Delta Upsilon and Kappa Sigma at Delta Upsilon
Al Holland
Elna (closed)
Crestle Artz

Lambda Chi Alpha
Blue and White
Omega Delta Epsilon
Snyder's Orchestra
Phi Delta Theta, Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Chi at Phi Delta Theta (closed)
Black Diamonds
Phi Epsilon Pi (closed)
Blackwell Blue Band
Phi Gamma Delta and Sigma Nu at Phi Gamma Delta
Johnny Johnson's Orchestra
Phi Kappa
Altoona Bellows
Phi Kappa Nu
Peerless Symphonies

Phi Kappa Psi and Chi Phi at Phi Kappa Psi (closed)
Jan Garber
Phi Kappa Tau
Frank Carr's Billtops
Sigma Phi Alpha
Duck Steamer
Sigma Phi Epsilon
Ted Amph
Sigma Phi Sigma
Janetta Blue and Gold
Theta Kappa Phi
Woodie Crane's Orchestra

Will Attend Convention
Prof. Clarence E. Bullinger and Philip R. Hall, of the industrial engineering department, will attend a convention of the American Foundrymen's association at Cleveland, Ohio on May 12 to 16.

I. F. C. VOTES FOR UNION WITH I. M. C. ON EQUAL STATUS

Interfraternity Council Casts
Unanimous Ballot Giving
Sanction to Plan

MERGER IS RESULT OF
3 MONTHS' PETITIONING

Presidents of Governing Bodies
Believe Alliance Promises
Mutual Benefits

COUNCIL TO PROBE COLLEGE CUSTOMS

Williams Will Head Committee
Investigating Revisions in
Underclass Code

By unanimous vote Interfraternity Council decided last night to merge with Intramural Council.

The local group will enter the senior council without any conditions being imposed and its members will be accorded the same privileges as those of national houses. To complete the consolidation only one major change will be made. The clause in the Interfraternity Council constitution which states that members shall be confined to national fraternities having five or more chapters will be changed to admit the local houses.

The decision to combine culminates three months of effort on the part of leaders in Intramural Council. Fred C. Schwerer '30, president of the group, organized the movement on the contention that a merger would prevent needless friction and would promote a better spirit of cooperation between the local and national societies.

Kirkpatrick Views Move
Malcolm M. Kirkpatrick '30, president of Interfraternity Council also is confident that the union will prove of mutual benefit. Commenting on the merger Kirkpatrick said last night:

"It is the aim of the local fraternities to be taken eventually into a national society. As a member of Interfraternity Council holding equal privileges with national houses, a local fraternity enhances the possibility of having its petition accepted. Furthermore the local fraternities will become more independent and more prominent in Penn State fraternity life."

Stating his views on the consolidation Schwerer declared:

"It was believed by many that the local fraternities would be forced to work under a severe handicap if they accepted a uniform rushing code. This, however, is not the case. Instead of apologizing and making excuses to inquisitive prospective pledges who ask to know why the local fraternities can send out bids earlier than national houses, hereafter the local houses can go through the rushing season without fearing to antagonize their prospective men."

CO-EDS WILL GIVE MOTHER'S DAY TEA

To Entertain Parents at Informal
Affair Before Witnessing
May Queen Exercises

Honoring visiting mothers of Penn State students, women of the College will serve tea in Women's building from 3 until 5 o'clock on Mother's day next Saturday.

Kathryn E. Gotsch '30 and Helen S. Keepers '30, hostesses at the tea, will be assisted in the receiving line by Mrs. Ralph D. Hetzel, Mrs. Arthur R. Warnock, Miss Charlotte E. Ray, Mrs. William D. Phillips, Mrs. Frank W. Haller, vice-president of the parents' association, and Helen F. Faust '30.

Mrs. Neva Motter, of Pittsburgh, will entertain with musical sketches and the women's variety quartette probably will sing several numbers.

The visitors will witness the crowning of the May Queen, May C. Woodruff '30, on Holmes field at 6 o'clock that night. Starting from La Cavanaugh house, the May Queen and her party will proceed to the throne at the south end of the field where the coronation will take place.

Following the formal ceremony, the queen and her guests will be entertained by folk dancers, the women's variety quartette, and the May pole dances.

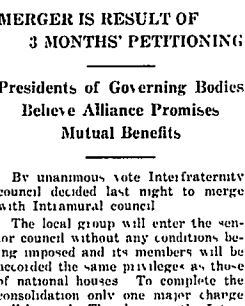

JUNIOR AND SENIOR WOMEN TO HOLD FACULTY RECEPTION

Senior and junior women will hold their annual formal reception for the faculty in Women's building, Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

The receiving line will include Miss Charlotte E. Ray, dean of women, Mrs. Ralph D. Hetzel, and the officers of the senior and junior classes. Members of the junior class will entertain the faculty with musical selections.

McClements Gains First Senior Honor; Wolfe Valedictorian

Named Valedictorian For 1930
Class Day Exercises

JAMES T. WOLFE

JUNIORS FROLIC AT 1931 PROM TONIGHT

Garber, Hallett Bands To Offer
Rhythm at Spring Formal
In Recreation Hall

With Jan Garber and Mad Hallett combining to provide rhythm from 9 until 2 o'clock, gay dancing couples will bring to a climax Penn State's season of class functions at the Junior Prom in Recreation Hall tonight.

The gymnasium will be arrayed in a spring setting of green and white, 1931 class colors. Suspended beneath lattice-work along the balcony railing, alternating strips of green and white bunting will enliven the hall.

Touches of forest greenery will supplement the spring tracery of the design, while dark blue shapes hung in semi-circular fashion between the balcony columns offer a contrasting effect.

Extending the seasonal note in the decorations the orchestra stands will represent two archways side by side at the west end of the building. Suspended centrally over the floor, a crystal ball, composed of diminutive flashing mirrors, will illuminate the hall with rainbow reflections from four spot-lights.

Ticket Sale Today
Jan Garber and his Columbia recording outfit are the favorites of college dancers for their combination of swinging tunes, light symphonies, and specialty skits. Mad Hallett's band which was acclaimed at the Ohio State Sophomore Prom in January as a leader among the orchestra appearing in a local area for undergraduate approval.

Both have been adjudged in the front rank of modern musicians by numbers at leading pleasure resorts. For the Junior spring formal tonight they have arranged to alternate in a program of the latest popular melodies, with skits and specialty entertainment interspersed with the selections. Both orchestra leaders have prepared medleys of College songs.

Tickets for Junior Prom will be placed on sale at the Treasurer's office in the old Beta Theta Pi house this afternoon. Factors and programs will be presented with the purchase.

POLITICIANS WILL SUBMIT CLIQUE PUBLICITY TODAY

Elections Committee Must Sanction
Material Before Distribution

Deadline for the submission of campaign material to the elections committee was set yesterday for 12:30 o'clock this afternoon by Sidney H. Lewis '30, chairman.

"All material must be sanctioned by the committee before printing and distribution," Lewis warned. "If not approved it may not be circulated until after midnight Sunday."

The official campaign period will open Monday morning. Initiating electioneering probably will be started by the eight parties in the field, with clique smokes, propaganda, and other vote-getting activities in full swing.

ROMANCE LANGUAGE SOCIETY LECTURE BLANCHET PRESIDENT

Prof. Paul R. Blanchet of the French department was chosen president of Phi Sigma Iota, honorary romance language fraternity, at their recent election.

Faust, Woodrow Named As Outstanding Women

McANDREWS, BALDWIN,
COOGAN MEN'S CHOICES

JAMES J. WOLFE

Lees, Haller, Motter Chosen For Co-ed Posts—Hecklen Is Donor of Class

James J. Wolfe yesterday afternoon was named valedictorian of the Class of 1930 by the Committee on Selection. He will deliver the valedictory address at the Class Day exercises June 9.

Robert P. Campbell was named salutatorian. The choice of a salutatorian was decided upon because of the fine records of the two contenders for first position. Both men are members of the School of Liberal Arts.

With their election to "Spoon Man" and "Bow Girl" respectively for the Class Day exercises to be held June 9, John K. McClements and Helen F. Faust were accorded the highest senior class honors at meetings of the women's and men's organizations Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

At the senior meeting, senior men nominated Robert P. Campbell, William A. Haldiman, Kenneth Hood, John K. McClements, Forrest Steele, and James J. Wolfe for valedictorian. From this group of candidates, an election committee composed of Prof. John H. Fitzell, Archibald M. Holmes, and F. Bruce Baldwin will select the senior for the valedictory address.

The men students awarded second honor position, "Barred Man," to Martin S. McAndrews, while Grace M. Woodrow was the women's choice for second honors as "Fan Girl."

Baldwin Named Class Man
F. Bruce Baldwin, present senior class president, was named "Barred Man," third honor prize. Senior women elected Josephine T. Lees to "Slipper Girl," the co-ed's corresponding award.

The honor of handing down the regalia of the graduating body to the junior class was given to James H. Coogan '30, who was elected to the position of "Pipe Oriole." Women's fourth award was given to Catherine S. Haller, who was voted "Mirror Girl."

Isadore E. Hecklen was elected "Class Donor" by the men students and Sue K. Motter was awarded a like honor by the women students. Both men and women were unanimous in the election of their respective class officers. Mrs. Coogan was accorded the position of "Lionel" for the men, while Olive E. O'Leary was the women's choice.

The final senior class honor granted was the election of Fred S. Hays to the office of permanent class secretary.

WOLFE CAMPBELL POSSESS SCHOLARSHIP KEYS, AWARDS

Theodore Wolfe '30, class valedictorian, and R. Paul Campbell '30, class salutatorian, between them possess seven honorary fraternity keys.

Wolfe is a member of Phi Kappa Phi, honorary scholastic fraternity; Phi Gamma Mu, social science honor society.

KELLER TO ENTER FORENSIC CONTEST

Will Represent Penn State in Zone
Trials of National Forensics
At Pittsburgh Tonight

Winning the all-College forensic competition, L. Neil Keller '31, will represent Penn State in the zone semi-finals for the sixth National Forensic contest at the Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh tonight.

Keller will again deliver the address on "Constitutional Duties" the same speech with which he won the all-college contest. Judges for the elimination will be selected from among the leading forensic authorities of Pennsylvania.

The finals will be held at Los Angeles, Calif., June 9. The winners of each of the seven zones will be the official representatives.