

McLAUGHLIN WINS SENIOR CLASS RACE

FREE HOSPITAL LOST BY CLOSE MARGIN Lewis, Huston Gain

ELECTION OF HEAD CHEERLEADER NOW UP TO COMMITTEE

Undergraduates Sanction Choice Of Head by Board Rather Than Popular Ballot

903 OPPOSE, 829 FAVOR $10. HEALTH SERVICE FEE

Agriculture and Chemistry Only Schools To Give Project Okay, Others Close

Free Hospital service was rejected by 71 votes as the result of a campus-wide poll at student elections yesterday.

Committee selection of head cheerleader received an overwhelming majority of 663 votes.

The Free Hospital plan was defeated by small majorities in every school but Agriculture, and the School of Chemistry and Physics.

In every school the vote cast in favor of the committee selection of head cheerleader more than doubled the negative ballots.

ACTORS ENTERTAIN GUESTS TOMORROW

Players To Present 'Skidding,' 3-Act Comedy of Family Strife on Mothers' Day Program

As their share in the Mother's Day entertainment, Penn State Players will present "Skidding,"

Among the veteran players who will take leading roles in the production are Justine M. Badlung '32 and Janette M. Burns '30, Emmanuel Perkin '32 and John J. Voorhees '33.

Prof. Arthur C. Cloetmich's class in stage craft will display an exhibit of more than twenty-five stage settings in the lobby as a special feature for the parents.

A convention of the Allegheny section of the Society of American Foresters will be held here July 21, 25, and 26.

More than one hundred delegates from Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, and West Virginia are expected to attend the conference.

Elected Junior, Sophomore Class Presidents

ALFRED E. LEWIS '32 EARL A. HUSTON '33

ULERICH ELECTED 'COLLEGIAN' EDITOR

Cutting Named Business Head As Miss Brownback Wins Women's Post

William K. Ulerich '31 was elected editor of the Collegian as a result of a meeting of the senior board held Wednesday night.

The post of managing editor was awarded to Roy E. Morgan '31, while William C. McElvan was named sports editor.

Janet L. Brownback '31 will head the women's staff for the coming year.

UNDERCLASSES VIE IN CONTEST TODAY

Sophomores, Plebes Hold Annual Pushball Scrap On Beaver Field at 4 O'clock

Sophomores and freshmen will seek customs privileges for their respective classes when they meet in the annual pushball scrap between underclassmen on the football practice field at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

By winning the meet, the class of '33 will secure sophomore customs until 12 o'clock tonight and sophomore customs will be required to assume the costumes during that period.

Yeatlings will be allowed to abandon their dress customs with the exception of dinks during the time immediately before and after the scrap.

GIFFORD PINCHOT TO SPEAK IN MEETING HERE TOMORROW

Gifford Pinchot, former governor of Pennsylvania who is seeking re-nomination from the Republican party for gubernatorial post, will speak at a public reception on Gopp Center at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Who's Dancing

Delta Chi (closed) Unity Tea

Senior Finals Begin May 28, End June 4

Final examinations for seniors will begin May 28 and continue until June 1. All grades must be in by 5 o'clock June 1.

COLLEGE GREET VISITING MOTHERS

Welcomes Parents With Varied Program in Fifth Annual Commemoration

With expectations of the largest attendance in the history of the College, Penn State will welcome visiting parents to the fifth annual observance of Mother's Day at the College this week-end.

Assembling in Schwab auditorium at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, the mothers will be officially welcomed by Prof. John H. Fryer.

Immediately following the meeting those in attendance will be organized into groups for a short inspection tour through the Health Service building and Grace Memorial dormitory.

In the afternoon the exercises will continue with a tea to be held in Women's building at 4 o'clock.

The visitors will witness the crowning of May C Woodring '30 as May Queen on Holmes held at 6 o'clock tomorrow night.

Folk dances and a recital by the women's varsity quartet complete this part of the program.

LIBRARY IS DENIED BY COLLEGE LIBRARIAN

Books Are Not Purchased Subject To Approval of Critic

It is no censorship is exercised over books in Carnegie library was the reply of Miss Sabina W. Vaughn, College Librarian, yesterday to a rumor that such a practice has been in effect at the College.

"Books and periodicals are not purchased subject to the approval of a censor, nor have they at any time been withdrawn from the shelves under a censorship ban," declared the librarian.

COLLEGE CUSTOMS TO UNDERGO PROBE BY STUDENT VOTE

Referendum Starts Today and Continues Until Thursday At Special Polls

BALLOTS WILL SUGGEST PRESENT CODE REVISIONS

Committee, Council, Tribunal, Board, House Presidents Plan Joint Meeting

As the first step in a campus-wide probe of college customs, a popular referendum on existing traditions, instituted by the Student Council committee on customs revisions, will begin today and continue until Thursday.

All existing college and class customs will be submitted for student approval or rejection at special polls. Space for suggested revisions of the present code will be provided at the bottom of the ballot.

Ballots may be cast at the Corner Room, the Library, Main Engineering building, the Chemistry and Physics building, and the Agriculture building, from 9 until 5 o'clock each day. As a check at the polls, each student's athletic association card will be punched before voting.

Following the preliminary voting, open hearings will be held at the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity house at 7 o'clock Tuesday and Thursday nights to determine further student opinion.

"The vote is expected to reveal conclusively the consensus of student opinion as to the existing code and necessary revisions to it," Paul S. Williams '30, committee chairman, observed.

"If results of the referendum show that customs are wanted, they must be enforced and observed," he added.

Changing the investigation, the customs revisions committee will meet with the Student Council, the Student Board, the Tribunal, and fraternity presidents to discuss changes.

Student council will take official action on the report of the committee's final meeting late this month. Revised rules will be announced following the council meeting.

TRIANGLE RECEIVES NATIONAL FRATERNITY SCHOLASTIC CUP

The Penn State chapter of Triangle fraternity was awarded the national scholarship cup at an annual convention of the fraternity in Cincinnati, Ohio, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Presidential Chairs In Record Balloting

DAVID C. McLAUGHLIN

'S' AWARD CHANGE UP TO STUDENTS

French, Hutchinson, Zorella Seek A.A. Presidency—6 Named For Secretary

Substitution of a four and one-fourth inch block 'S' for the present three-letter insignia awarded in minutes and sports, and the creation of two associate sport manager posts in each sport are the principal amendments to the Athletic Association constitution which will be submitted to popular vote May 19.

Election of Athletic Association president and secretary will also be held at this time. Present nominees for the presidency are Ralph Hutchinson '31, John Zorella '31 and I. C. Johnson '31.

Other changes to be voted on when polls are opened include the elimination of the words "major" and "minor" in the classification of sports and the elimination of the insignia "S and T" students will vote on the possibility of making the amendments effective for the present College year.

The proposed four and one-fourth inch block letter will be awarded in voting letters, soccer trophies, boxing, rifle, golf, and cross country. The eight inch block letter 'S' for football, and the six inch block 'S' for baseball, track and basketball will be retained.

In accord with past tradition the balloting will be held for one day only.

1762 Students Vote As McLaughlin's Total Climbs To 264

LASICH LOSES JUNIOR RACE BY 18 BALLOTS

Huston Takes Sophomore Helm With 305 Votes, Highest Individual Count

Sweeping aside predictions of a nip and tuck battle for the senior class presidency, David C. McLaughlin, Independent standard bearer, was carried into office with a lead of seventy-four ballots in the record-breaking vote tabulated late yesterday afternoon.

Alfred E. Lewis, Campus nominee, was returned the victor at the junior class polls by eighteen votes fulfilling prophecies of a hot election. Earl A. Huston, Locust Lane chief, amassed a plurality of forty-nine to annex the sophomore presidency.

The number of students who cast their votes was the greatest in the history of student government at Penn State. Seventeen hundred and six-two went to the polls; the unofficial count reveals, as compared to the record of sixteen hundred and eighty-two set last year. The percentage of voters also reached a new high water mark, being 67.7 per cent.

The old record, also established last year, was 51 per cent, while the average for the past four campaigns was 59 per cent.

Two hundred and sixty-four supporters rallied to McLaughlin's standard to exceed the one hundred and ninety count of Paul A. Mitten, Locust Lane-Campus candidate.

Jack P. Uvezyk ran ahead of the Locust Lane ticket to annex the senior secretaryship. His vote was 254, with Robert E. Milburn, Independent candidate getting 191. The treasurer-elect is Charles H. Anderson of the Independent faction. The Incumbents, except the Student Councilors as well with ten to the Locust Lane five.

Thirty-three votes ahead in the School of Agriculture, thirty-one in Engineering, and twenty-two in Chemistry and Physics for McLaughlin proved the decisive factor in the election. Motion earned his own school, Liberal Arts, by thirty-five, while Education returned a lead of fourteen for the president-elect. McLaughlin's School, Mineral Industries, gave him a plurality of nine.

(Continued on second page.)

Unofficial Count Shows McLaughlin, Lewis, and Huston Victors

Table listing election results for President, Secretary, Treasurer, Student Council, and various student organizations.

STATE PUBLISHERS MEET TOMORROW

Journalism Students Will Attend Open Session in Liberal Arts Building at 11 O'Clock

To discuss further development of new courses in the department of journalism, the advisory committee of the Pennsylvania Publishers' association will meet in its second annual conference at the College today and tomorrow.

The two day session will begin this afternoon with a golf tournament on the College course arranged for the visitors. The publishers will meet in general assembly at night to outline tomorrow's program.

An open meeting, to which all students interested in journalism are invited will be held in room 11 Liberal Arts building at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. Several prominent editors and journalists of the State will address the assembly.