

Name Cards, Green Bands Again Mark Co-ed Newcomers

"Green ribbons and name cards, traditional signs of a freshman co-ed's submission to rule, will again make their appearance on the campus tomorrow when the first year women don their regulation attire. The customs committee forbids folded ribbons but demands that the green bands be worn full four-inch width. This practice insures them that all freshmen women are indelibly marked. Name cards printed in one-inch block letters are another method of easy identification. Those freshmen forgetting to remove high school rings, pins, or insignia of any kind will be punished by restrictions meted out by the customs committee. Carrying co-ed bibles, keeping off the grass, with the exception of Holmes field, and opening doors for upperclass women are all a part of the process of being a freshman. Three weeks of dateless evenings will leave ample time for answering dormitory phones.

BELLEFONTE CENTRAL TO OPERATE OCTOBER 1

Purchases Locomotives, Passenger, And Freight Equipment

The Bellefonte Central Railroad will begin operations between State College and Tyrone October 1, according to J. Van Jordan, president of the company.

Several new locomotives and railroad cars together with freight cars have been purchased by the company to facilitate traffic conditions. This equipment will be placed in operation immediately.

The entire roadbed between State College and Stover, a terminus three miles from Tyrone has been thoroughly renovated. Dangerous curves have been removed and properly ballasted. A schedule of operation has not yet been released by the company.

GRIDDER WEIGHS 286 POUNDS
John Valenti, a freshman, is the largest student playing football at the University of Pittsburgh. Valenti stands six feet, two inches and weighs 286 pounds. He wears a fifty-four jersey, and is gaining the title of Primo Carnera of football.

BISONS OPEN SEASON WITH VETERAN BACKFIELD INTACT

Bucknell will open its football season Saturday against Geneva with veteran material in the lineup. The starting backfield for the Bisons will contain Clark Hunkle, Brumbaugh, Fry, and either Mezza, Spadafora or Ross.

Captain Tony Slate will not play in the first game because of a leg injury. The Lewisburg line will probably consist of Lobel and Stonebraker, ends, Trudnak and Nued, tackles, Mutzel and Miller, guards, and Goodwin, center.

ALUMNUS WILL STUDY HERE

Charles G Hall '30, a former student in Ceramics at the College, has returned here on a fellowship this year. He will be engaged in a study of the clays and shales in the anthracite region.

PANTHERS OPENER TO SEE 9 LETTERMEN IN SERVICE

Pittsburgh will probably have nine lettermen in the misty lineup when the Panther opens its football season with Waynesburg Saturday.

Coach Sutherland is still uncertain concerning his starting eleven. Lewis and Milligan are still battling for the right guard post, while Hood and Clark are fighting it out for the full-back position. Heller, Brown, and Walinhus are the outstanding candidates for left halfback.

ORANGE LINE WILL AVERAGE OVER 190 POUNDS THIS YEAR

Syracuse will have a forward wall this season averaging well over 190 pounds. Tom Lombardi is the only sophomore on the Orange line weighing 201 pounds and holding down the position of right guard. The heaviest man on the Syracuse team is Lew Newton, 212-pound tackle. Milford Bernei, 202-pound center, is another player who exceeds the two hundred mark.
